THE INTERNATIONAL FRATERNITY OF DELTA SIGMA PI

Founded at New York University, School of Commerce, Accounts and Finance, on November 7, 1907, by Alexander F. Makay, Alfred Moysello, Harold V. Jacobs and H. Albert Tienken.

A fraternity organized to foster the study of business in universities; to encourage scholarship and the association of students for their mutual advancement by research and practice; to promote closer affiliation between the commercial world and students of commerce, and to further a high standard of commercial ethics and culture, and the civic and commercial welfare of the community.

The
Editor's Foreword

WE HOPE EVERY member will read the article appearing on page 8 of this issue about the 1938 Chapter Efficiency Contest. In general the chapters of Delta Sigma Pi are right now in the best shape they have ever been, and the very few weak chapters have made wonderful strides this fall to bring their local condition up to par. With a continued interest on the part of our chapter and province officers there is no reason why the report we will make at the Philadelphia Grand Chapter Congress next September cannot reflect even further improvement. Congratulations to our many chapters for the brilliant manner in which they are operating.

THE GRAND CHAPTER CONGRESS of Delta Sigma Pi will be held the first week in September at Philadelphia, where our hosts will be Omega Chapter at Temple University, Beta Nu Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania, and the Philadelphia Alumni Club. The General Committee in charge has been on the job for months, and are working day and night to make this national convention the most successful the fraternity has ever held. With over 2,000 members of the fraternity residing within 150 miles of Philadelphia, and with seven active chapters nearby, an all-time attendance record should be easily achieved. What is more important, however, is that the Committee has prepared one of the finest programs ever planned for our national meeting. Better arrange your vacation so that you can be in Philadelphia the first week of next September. We assure you of a most hospitable time. Additional articles will appear in each issue of THE DELTASIG this year, and a special circular will be mailed to every member of the fraternity next summer in this connection.

I SEND cordial Christmas Greetings and Best Wishes for the New Year to all Deltasigs everywhere.—H. G. WRIGHT

Grand President of Delta Sigma Pi

COLLEGES OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION have opened their new school year under conditions that seem more favorable than they have been for sometime. Registration figures show increases, faculties have been enlarged and strengthened and new buildings and other improved facilities are in use, all tangible evidences of things that are happening in the rapidly advancing phase of education that every Deltasig is so keenly interested in. But to me it seems that it is outside the collegiate world that we can see most encouraging signs, which greatly affect our Schools of Business Administration at this time. Most signs point toward greater business activity. Many industries are experiencing business expansion. This is a tonic for our professional schools, an incentive to the students, the finest incentive they both can have. I have talked to many Deltasig undergraduates recently and their eyes beam as they realize their chances for securing the kind of positions they are trained for. And as business marches forward the Schools of Business Administration will march forward.

After some early skepticism I became an advocate of the Chapter Efficiency Contest. A perusal of the 1938 standings and a comparison with the previous year show, I believe, as nothing else could, the progress Delta Sigma Pi has made in the past year. Think of it—four chapters with a perfect score of 100,000 points! We hardly thought that was possible when the Chapter Efficiency Contest was originated. And of equal gratification is the generally higher level of all chapter standings. That was Deltasig's way of licking the recession. Final standings should be higher all along the line this year and I am looking for at least five or six chapters to tie for first place.

Did your chapter or alumni club listen in on Chi Chapter's appearance on a national broadcast recently? The Central Office is to be congratulated for the speed with which they notified our chapters and alumni clubs of this broadcast in view of the lateness with which the information reached them. Many groups made gala occasions of the broadcast and entertained many members and guests.

I wish it were possible that I could attend every Founders' Day celebration this year. As it is I will attend at least half a dozen with four of them scheduled for the same week. My thoughts will be with all of those who are attending the various celebrations from coast to coast.

It has been my pleasure to visit a number of chapters and alumni clubs this summer and fall. The general impression I received is that rushing plans have been a bit earlier than usual and there is a determination to build up the average size of our chapter. Again I say build up toward 40 active members and plan your membership so that under no circumstances will it ever drop below 20 at any time. Chapters can become too big but it is far worse to be too small.

The Beta Omicron Chapter at the University of Newark had a most successful rush smoker and I was greatly impressed with what early and effective planning can do. I wish every member of the fraternity could see our new Beta Xi chapter house at Trenton; it is the pride of the chapter and a credit to the entire fraternity. The New York Alumni Club got off to an early start under the leadership of the youngest president it has ever had. Philadelphia Deltasigs are a tonic and the way Fred Floyd and his able helpers are organizing for next year's Grand Chapter Congress is a joy to behold. You will be missing something if you aren't in Philadelphia next September 5, 6, and 7! I was glad to see our Detroit Chapter in process of organization for a successful year. I was particularly impressed with the undergraduate members of this chapter.

I believe an important milestone in the fraternity movement was reached at Ohio State University in October when they observed a special "Greek Week." Representatives of many fraternities attended the various conferences spread over a three-day period and which culminated in a huge banquet attended by 1300 at which Ohio State showed and told the world the high regard it holds for the fraternities on its campus. Many national officers of many fraternities on the campus were guests at this occasion and it was a genuine pleasure for me to represent Delta Sigma Pi. As I looked over this vast assemblage of fraternity men and watched each group stand up, and particularly when our own splendid group stood up, I experienced the feeling of pride because our members measured up on every count with the best of them.

European Travels

DURING THE VARIOUS VOYAGES I made throughout Europe in the last few years I usually send a post card or two to my good friend and fraternity brother, Grand Secretary-Treasurer Wright. In doing so I certainly had no other thought in mind than to show him that I was still alive and going strong. It was therefore a most pleasant surprise when he suggested that I prepare a travel article for The DELTASIG. I deeply appreciated this invitation as The DELTASIG is one of the most important connecting links between myself and my brothers in Delta Sigma Pi and an instrument which serves best for the establishment of new acquaintances within our fraternity.

How does it happen that my travels attracted the attention of our Editor? I do not travel as a professional traveler because I don't belong to that species. I don't travel by the "hitch-hiking" method as this type of traveling is not known in Europe with the exception of the Scandinavian countries and furthermore as a university dean I could hardly use this method anyway. I am supposed to write about my travels. Why I travel and how I travel I shall say later.

The first thought which enters my mind is which of my voyages and trips should I mention in this article. I shall not talk of my various journeys to the late Austria-Hungary and in northern Italy during my war service, of my voyage around the world, or of my two years' stay in the Philippines. At that time I was not a Deltasig. I shall not deal with my visits in some 25 states of the United States from 1927 to 1930, although during part of that time I was a Deltasig.

having been initiated by Alpha Psi Chapter at the University of Chicago. I have decided therefore to restrict my article to the trips I have recently made throughout Europe.

It seems to me that I am suffering from a hereditary traveling complex. By a coincidence Mrs. Schneider also suffered from that complex and that alone may give to many of the readers, at least to the married ones, the reason for our numerous wanderings. For the past eight years we have spent regularly five to seven weeks each year driving our Chevrolet in various foreign countries. But every year we have managed to go to Switzerland and to Italy. Switzerland reminds me most of the U.S.A. The democracy, willingness, and sincerity of its inhabitants creates an impression of the United States, and is particularly emphasized by the good Swiss custom to give you your money's worth, by the cleanliness and high standard of civilization there, and in some instances even by the appearance of entire towns.

The impression that I was driving again through some American city I experienced while driving in some Belgian streets, in the American-like planned Bucuresti, and of course also in our own Zlin in Czechoslovakia. This small Moravian village was transformed within a few decades into a typical American city. The factory buildings, the public buildings, the residential sections, the city planning, communications, etc., are typically American. No wonder! The creator of that city, the late Thomas

Bata, as well as the present chief of Zlin, Dr. J. A. Bata, and their leading collaborators have worked in the United States for several years and brought back home all that was good and adaptable at our end.

To Italy, which used to be the second goal of our annual visits, is being lured repeatedly everyone who had had the chance to get acquainted with its climate and culture, the kind heartedness of its people and the great attention Mr. Benito Mussolini's government has given to foreign motorists and tourists. Several years we visited France, but by and by we got sick and tired of the treatment we received there and I did my best to forget all the French I knew. We always found there just the opposite of "your money's worth," and the recognition of that "costumbre del pais" as the Spanish say, made me furious. This experience however was caused by the fact that we did not go anywhere else but to Paris and to the French Riviera. Three years ago we decided to give France its last chance. For seven weeks we drove throughout France, stayed in small cities and villages, entirely avoiding Paris and the French Riviera. On this last trip we discovered the genuine Frenchman. I could see how orderly they live and we found there a magnificent attitude towards children which I have never found anywhere else but with the Chinese and the Japanese. I learned what trifles caused great joy and satisfaction and on the other hand while sitting at tables in the most remote restaurants in the country I experienced the high culture of these people. I closed friendships with Frenchmen which will last forever, and which I cherish. Thus Saul turned into Paul.

What else did I discover in my travels? The dictatorship in Greece. Here in Central Europe nobody talks or writes about it although it has existed longer than two years; it existed a year before I traveled over all the remarkable spots in that unique country. I discovered that the best French wine is to be found in Belgium; that the best Portuguese port is to be had in England; that you do not get good seafood anywhere on the long Jugoslavian coast, but in the city of Zagreb; that in the Italian Trentino one hardly gets a chance to speak Italian, German being customarily used; that one may successfully graze countless flocks of sheep on the seemingly grassless slopes of the Mediterranean Islands; that of the so-called Greek types you find in Greece considerably less than what you might expect, but that the Acropolis beats anything that was ever written about it.

I drove my Chevrolet on such fine highways as you find between Vienna and Budapest, on the Italian autostradas, on the German Reichsautobahn, but I had to ramble on some desperate roads in southwestern Hungary and in Jugoslavia and in Greece. I drove on highways and roads with a well disciplined traffic in Germany, on roads and highways with a less disciplined traffic in southern France, and in such an apparent and for a foreigner a veritable chaos as predominates in Paris, but where fewer accidents occur than one might expect.

I sailed various seas in good, fine, or even luxurious steamships and motorships under various flags, but while sailing in the so-called luxurious cabin of an ancient Greek coast steamer I had to go through an experience which taught me what a nightmare really means.

I traveled on railroads in passenger cars of varying cleanliness and in sleeping cars of several different kinds of comfort and service. I traveled on trains which responded to the time tables in varying degrees of regularity.

I have flown in fine weather and also on one nasty, gloomy November day above the snow white hill-shaped clouds below an azure sky. And there for the first time I felt like skiing and there I understood why Colonel Lindbergh glides high through the air when in need of relaxation.

I have seen some magnificent sceneries, seas, lakes, coasts, mountains, and passes. While approaching our Tatra mountains it reminded me of approaching Denver and the Rocky mountains. Never however here in Europe have I driven my car as high as I once did in the Rockies, where, more because of our ignorance than any intention, we drove our Chevie when it was young to as high an altitude as 12,000 feet above sea level. I have driven through the never-ending garden which is called northern Italy and also through an endless park which one finds in Tourraine. I have visited countless factories, cathedrals, universities, harbors, museums, hotels and railroad stations.

Looking at some French rivers I have thought of the old man river, Mississippi. Driving through certain fairy-like parts of the Italian Appenines I expected any moment to run into a fight of an armored knight with a seven headed dragon. In some antique picturesque French hotels I expected the appearance of some of Alexander Dumas' heroes of the Three Musketeers. I have driven on the old Roman roads which led from one highest point of the Tuscany hill country to another. In Roumania I have seen an oil well which had been on fire for two years and nobody knew how to extinguish it. I surveyed up and down that strange miracle on the Baltic Sea, the Gdynia, which the Poles actually

JOSEPH Z. SCHNEIDER

Brother Schneider, a Life Member of Delta Sigma Pi, was initiated as a charter member at our Chicago Chapter in 1928 while a member of their faculty. He returned to Czechoslovakia three years later with his wife, an American, and has been a member of the faculty of the School of Commerce of the University of Prague since that time. He now serves as Dean of the School of Commerce.

stamped out from the ground there where some years before only cows went to pasture. I have been surrounded in my car by curious and playful cows on the meadows high up in the Austrian and the Swiss Alps where a tourist comes only very seldom. I have gone down into the mines where coal, lignite, lead, silver, and salt were mined. I have been on skis on the hillsides of various countries and in summer I have climbed to places inhabited by chamois.

I have visited the poorest land I have ever seen, Albania. Even the donkeys there do not grow much larger than the size of a St. Bernard dog. I have eaten the products of diverse kitchens, drank all kinds of liquors, and have smoked just about everything from the mildest Balcan cigaret to the black Tuscany cigar which almost caused me to have nicotine poisoning in spite of the fact that I have smoked cigars for a quarter of a century.

But chiefly I have seen people! I have talked with them while they were at work and while at recreations. And with people of all social strata. I had the honor to speak with H. M. Leopold II. That talk enabled me to comprehend why this monarch, so majestic as well as human, has chosen from all the eligible princesses, Princess Astrid, the poorest but the most beautiful and noble of them all. In spite of seeing him in the performance of his duty I could also visualize him with no difficulty whatever traveling third-class on the railroads with his people and carrying his own suitcase. I have seen Benito Mussolini, not only in his uniforms, but also without, while he bathed on the same spot of the Adriatic beach as I did. Someone, certainly not an Italian, mistook me for him and showed extreme agitation on his face as he took my picture. I have talked with State Secretaries and Ministers of many different countries and of varying ideologies, with those who have received the Nobel Prize, with members of the French Academy, with university professors, and with professors of almost every other variety, with confessors and preachers of several political orientations, with presidents of countless Chambers of Commerce, and mayors of many cities, towns, and villages. I also relished this opportunity to speak with many different people as it enabled me to get to really know the peoples of the various nations I visited, and I could speak to them, or at least make myself understood as I happen to speak several languages.

The chance to speak to the top personalities of the scientific, economic, and political life I found while traveling in the capacity of vice-president of the International Society for Business Education and also while guiding groups of my students to foreign countries or while representing my university or one of the organizations to which I belong, at some international forum.

But in all these travels I have only met one brother in Delta Sigma Pi, and it was really on his voyage to Europe that we met. I hope however that in the future years I will have better luck and more opportunity to meet members of Delta Sigma Pi. It is always a thrill to meet one of your fraternity brothers.

And from all these travels one might ask what would I wish to learn from some other nation and what I would like a nation to learn from another? Well it might be the unique art of complete relaxation of the French people during the noon hour when they perform the rite of their dejeuner. Or it might be the pride of the Swiss to be a Swiss no matter what his mother language might be. Or it might be the dedication of all life earnings of successful Greeks and Roumanians for the benefit of their people.

I could write much more. I could recollect many other interesting experiences. But I feel my narrative has taken as much space as it should. I deeply appreciate this opportunity of speaking in this manner to my friends in the United States again. I hope we shall have an opportunity of meeting sometime. (Written September 10, 1938, from Prague, Czechoslovakia.)

Delta Sigma Pi Songbook

MANY CHAPTERS have numerous occasions when they burst forth in song. Banquets, initiations, meetings and other activities are made more interesting with catchy, tuneful songs. Why not combine all these in a DELTA SIGMA PI SONG BOOK? This will be done if there is sufficient co-operation in submitting material. We therefore urge every chapter to submit the score and words of any local songs, whether original or parodies. THE DELTASIG will also gladly award substantial cash prizes to any member who has written an original song, and which is of sufficient value to justify publication. Here is YOUR chance to make a contribution to the DELTA SIGMA PI SONGBOOK. Mail all contributions to the Central Office of the fraternity, real soon.

BETA NU CHAPTER—UNIVERSITY OF PENNSYLVANIA

Philadelphia to Fete Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress

GIFTED WITH singular perspicacity in that it foresaw a distinctive trend—the natural result of these troublous times—a drifting back to the past, the revivication of former glories, the Grand council last June selected Philadelphia as the scene for Delta Sigma Pi's Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress. The hosts being Beta Nu Chapter at the University of Pennsylvania and Omega Chapter at Temple University. Perhaps, this prophetic wisdom might be attributed to their interpretation of Kenneth Robert's exciting Northwest Passage, Maxwell Anderson's highly fanciful High Tor, and Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer's glittering Marie Antoinette. These were all extremely successful excursions into historical locales: or, perhaps they envisioned other Philadelphia Congresses of lasting importance: Penn's meeting with the Indians, the signing of the Declaration of Independence, and the drawing up of the Constitution.

There is further reason, however, for the enthusiastic acceptance of that axiom. Within a 150 mile radius besides Omega and Beta Nu Chapters lie: Alpha Chapter of New York University, Chi Chapter of Johns Hopkins University, Mu Chapter of Georgetown University, Beta Xi Chapter of Rider College, and Beta Omicron Chapter of the University of Newark—all of whom will be well represented in the role of assistant hosts. Working in joint harmony will be the alumni clubs of Philadelphia, New York, Baltimore, Washington, Trenton and Newark. This area contains what is probably the largest concentration of Deltasigs in the country—approximately 2000.

The gods must have smiled too when the dates for the convention were selected—September 5, 6, 7 and 8. Autumn presents the first of its calling cards about then, the quicker to usher summer out, no doubt. In Philadelphia that means not only pumpkin pie and burlesque but the opening of the theatre, a preview of coming Broadway hits. To those more inclined to drama, it means "First Nights" in New York City, for that metropolis is only ninety minutes away. Ninety minutes also to the greatest of the world fairs, if one remembers.

If anyone still hasn't seen it, Tobacco Road will be around. Some day we'll be taking our children to see it, we suppose.

For the admirers of Keats and Byron and a pretty leg (which seems all-embracing) Atlantic City presents its annual beauty pageant. (It's really surprising that the administration of New York's World Fair Exposition hasn't planned a similar event—think of overlooking the chance to use the description, the "World's Fairest.") The ocean is still around, of course, but with the coronation of Miss America—well,

By Gabriel Jeffrey Molnar
Omega Chapter

anyway it's something to salt away in one's memory. Incidentally, Atlantic City is only sixty minutes from Philadelphia.

The Grand Chapter Congress, the New York World's Fair, the Atlantic City Beauty Pageant, and the re-opening of the theatre—all in one week. It's a vacation period for every Deltasig to look forward to.

With these in mind, the prediction "the largest Grand Chapter Congress in the history of Delta Sigma Pi" doesn't seem too sanguine.

Long before this memorable event was awarded to Philadelphia, a General Committee, with an eye to the future and an unparalleled determination to make this next Congress a model for subsequent ones to follow, began to function. Selected as its chairman, Frederick W. Floyd, Beta Nu alumnus and Province Director of this area began the task of assembling and organizing the program. This undertaking, of course, was hampered by confusion and difficulties attendant upon the inception of any project; nevertheless out of this often brumous maze emerged a clearly defined road. There was to be no casual, haphazard choices, nothing was to be left to chance. All of the applying candidates were to be closely scrutinized, carefully weighed and their individual abilities given every consideration.

This unprecedented activity is evidenced too in the fact that the headquarters for the Grand Chapter Congress was contracted for over a year in advance. It was a prodigious problem, for location, facilities, prestige, cost, and co-operation had to be considered. The internationally known Hotel Warwick was the ultimate choice.

Since then it has been the scene of frequent meetings of the various committees. Ideas have been broached, criticised, and either discarded or accepted; plans have been drawn up and cast aside; incipient projects have been continued or shelved. The Colonial room has been a veritable verbal battlefield; more acidulous and caustic repartee has appeared there than in the whole of Noel Coward's series of plays or Dorothy Parker's volumes of poems—albeit meant constructively.

Through these have come a better understanding, a firmer grasp, and a clearer view of the measures necessary to overcome the inevitable obstacles in a convention campaign.

Philadelphia as the locale of the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress is a reality, the program has been launched, but the successful culmination looked for and hoped for is still in the future—it lies not, however, in the laps of the gods but in the hands of Deltasigs, not merely those of Omega and Beta Nu but Deltasigs everywhere. Co-operation is needed, particularly by the alumni clubs throughout the country. A tie-up between their programs and the congress' can be effected. Literature on the progress of plans for the Congress will be sent to the clubs and undergraduate bodies at various intervals throughout the coming year.

When good fellows get together, the result is invariably a swell time; in this case, it will be the Thirteenth Grand Chapter Congress, which is the same thing.

PI CHAPTER, UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA, TIED FOR FIRST PLACE

1938 Chapter Efficiency Contest

THE FINAL STANDINGS in the Delta Sigma Pi 1938 Chapter Efficiency Contest are presented herewith. Four chapters tied for first place, each having a perfect score of 100,000 points: Beta Chapter at Northwestern University, Chicago; Kappa Chapter at the Georgia Evening School, Atlanta, Georgia; Pi Chapter at the University of Georgia, Athens, Georgia, and Alpha Beta Chapter at the University of Missouri, Columbia, Missouri. All four chapters are to be congratulated for their fine achievement. Each of these chapters had been consistently fine performers in previous years, and all of them have turned in perfect performances before. In fact this is the sixth consecutive year that Kappa Chapter has placed first or in a tie for first place. Several other chapters could have easily tied for first place had they been a little more careful about but one or two of the items in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. For instance, Mu Chapter at Georgetown would have tied for first place had they paid their second semester dues in February instead of March. Beta Eta Chapter of Florida would have tied for first place had they filed their professional program in advance for both semesters and had they held one more business meeting with satisfactory attendance. Beta Lambda Chapter at Alabama Poly could have tied for first place had they submitted a little more material for publication in THE DELTASIG. It is tough for these chapters to miss out on the first place tie, but this will also be a lesson in the prompt filing of reports and we venture the prediction that these chapters will not repeat the same mistakes next year.

In accordance with the regulations of the Chapter Efficiency Contest Life Memberships in the fraternity have been presented the Head Masters of the four chapters tying for first place as follows: Sherman E. Pate of Beta Chapter, Thoben F. Elrod of Kappa Chapter, John W. Wilson of Pi Chapter and Ray H. Bezoni of Alpha Beta Chapter. The members of 24 chapters finishing with a final standing of 85,000 points or more will receive paid-up national alumni membership cards for their first year out of college.

These membership cards have already been mailed to the June graduates of each chapter. The other members of these chapters will receive their cards promptly on graduation or withdrawal from college. Here are the 24 chapters who made the Honor Roll with a final standing of 85,000 points or more:

The college year 1937-1938 was probably the most successful in the past six or seven years. A total of 780 members were initiated, 25 chapters initiating their full membership quota and many of them substantially exceeding it. The financial condition of many chapters was indeed gratifying, many having comfortable cash balances in the bank, and very few having any major accounts receivables problem. The Chapter Average was 79,150 points against the average of 76,575 the previous year. More and more chapters each year are paying closer attention to the Chapter Efficiency Contest and are reporting their points systematically. We would like to see at least ten chapters tied for first place this year and over 30 chapters make the Honor Roll by having a final standing of 85,000 points or more.

This can be done although it does require able leadership, intelligent planning, and diligent reporting of points.

THE WORLD OVER

Alumni Clubs Face a Busy Year

A FIVE POINT PROGRAM has been inaugurated by the National Committee on Alumni Activities for the current fiscal year. This ambitious program will include: First, A nationwide Life Membership Campaign which has already begun and will continue until January 1 under the sponsorship of the committee and with the co-operation of John L. McKewen of Baltimore, chairman of a special Life Membership Committee. Every alumni club is requested to encourage this campaign and possibly have a contest among two or three teams of their own members or challenge a neighboring alumni club to a friendly competition. The season of the year makes the featuring of presenting Life Memberships as Christmas gifts by relatives a timely suggestion. We hope to secure at least 200 additional Life Members which will materially increase the size of our National Endowment Fund thereby increasing its scope and effectiveness.

Second, To encourage joint meetings with nearby alumni clubs or active undergraduate chapters. These prove very successful, and greatly stimulate interest in both your own club and in Delta Sigma Pi.

Third, To encourage greater observance of Founders' Day. If there is an active chapter in your city hold a joint Founders' Day Banquet with them; otherwise hold one of your own and don't spare the publicity.

Fourth, Another national bowling tournament. This will be held during the month of February 1939. Every alumni club may enter as many five-man teams as desired (members cannot be on more than one team however) and each team will bowl three regulation ten pin games and send certified copies of their scores to the Central Office of the fraternity. The team with the highest score will be declared alumni champion and each of the five members will receive suitable prizes. These games can be bowled any time during the month of February.

Fifth, To endeavor to establish four or five new alumni clubs in cities where the present Delta Sigma Pi population is now large enough to warrant the successful operation of such clubs.

We are pleased to announce that the Central Office has compiled and published a new Manual of Alumni Club Operation which was distributed last June. Every alumni club officer should have a copy for it contains a lot of valuable information. Copies can be secured from the Central Office without charge. Every alumni club is urged to plan a program of unusual activity during the coming year and you should send a copy of your program to our National Committee on Alumni Activities, addressed to its Chairman, J. Hugh Taylor, 3634 Old York Road, Baltimore, Maryland. The committee pledges every club and every member their wholehearted co-operation in this matter. If you have any problem or suggestions write to the nearest committee member or to the chairman. Also don't fail to report the success of your Life Membership Campaign to that same committee member.

The National Committee on Alumni Activities includes: J. HUGH TAYLOR, Chairman, 3634 Old York Road, Baltimore, Md.

HOWARD B. JOHNSON, Vice-chairman, P.O. Box 1714, Atlanta, Ga.

DENTON A. FULLER, JR., M. & T. Trust Co., Buffalo, N.Y.
HEATH J. CRIDER, 4165 N. 16th Street, Milwaukee, Wis.
WALTER SCHAEFER, 148 Sylvester Avenue, Webster Groves, Mo.

RUSSELL L. ROSENE, 708 W. 47th Street, Kansas City, Mo.
ROYAL W. GELDER, 963 Logan Street, Denver, Colo.

Through the help of all interested alumni we want to be able to achieve our goal by next July of 25 active alumni clubs, 200 additional Life Members, 500 more annual dues-paying alumni members, a real national bowling tournament, and the finest Founders' Day celebration ever to be held.—J. HUGH TAYLOR

Chi Chapter Appears on National Broadcast

ACROSS THE CONTINENT, coast to coast on a national network comprising 34 radio stations and an estimated audience of between five and ten million persons went the voices of six members of Chi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on Monday evening, October 3. The occasion was the weekly William's Shaving TRUE OR FALSE Contest conducted by Dr. Harry Hagen and which originated that particular week from radio station WBAL in Baltimore over the Blue Network of the National Broadcasting Company plus ten additional stations. The Chi Chapter team comprised three alumni and three undergraduates and aligned against them were six women representing the Baltimore Women's Forum. Promptly at 10 o'clock Eastern Standard Time the signal flashed and Dr. Hagen introduced J. Elwood Armstrong, Jr., Province Officer of Delta Sigma Pi in Baltimore who captained the fraternity team and Miss Vessie Jacobs who captained the women's team. Dr. Hagen asked Brother Armstrong to tell the audience something about Delta Sigma Pi which he ably did. Then the contest was on. Excitement ran high as the studio audience of 1500 saw two members of our team fail on the first questions asked them. However it wasn't long until some of the women had given some of the wrong answers and the score was three each remaining. The last round provided the genuine thrill however as the ranks of both teams narrowed down to one each with Miss Jacobs representing the women and Wesley Byron of the Delta Sigma Pi team matching wits. The questions kept getting more difficult, both answering many correctly until finally Brother Byron missed and the contest was won by the women representing the Baltimore Women's Forum. The conclusion was filled with cheers for both the victors and the vanquished.

The Chi Chapter team was represented by Brothers J. Elwood Armstrong, Jr., Wesley Byron, Robert S. Cooper, John R. Motz, Paul G. Leroy, II, and Joseph F. Oberle while the women's team comprised Vessie Jacobs, Rebecca Walters, Dorothy Keyser, Estelle Goldberg, Ann Klein and Bertha Goodman. In introducing the contestants to the radio audience, Dr. Hagen brought out a number of amusing ambitions and ideas, most outstanding of which were those of Brother Byron who created a bit of a furor. Charles Steinbock, Deputy Province Officer, and John L. McKewen, a member of the Grand Council of Delta Sigma Pi were also actively engaged in the organization of the Delta Sigma Pi team. The Central Office of the fraternity did not learn of the proposed participation of the Chi Chapter team until the Friday morning before the Monday night broadcast, but its staff got into action and by use of the airmail and telegraph, about 2500 notices were rushed to chapters, alumni clubs, officers, workers, and alumni members throughout the country which resulted in a large Delta Sigma Pi radio audience that evening and brought many telegrams and letters to the Delta Sigma Pi team.

The following radio stations carried this broadcast: WJZ New York, WBZ Boston, WBZA Springfield, WEAN Providence, WICC Bridgeport, WFIL Philadelphia, WBAL Baltimore, WMAL Washington, WSYR Syracuse, WHAM Rochester, WEBR Buffalo, KDKA Pittsburgh, WHK Cleveland, WXYZ Detroit, WLW Cincinnati, WOWO Fort Wayne, WENR Chicago, KDK St. Louis, WMT Cedar Rapids, WTCN Minneapolis, KSO Des Moines, KOIL Omaha, WREN Kansas City, WSPD Toledo, WJTN Jamestown, N.Y., KFEL Denver, KLO Ogden, KGO San Francisco, KECA Los Angeles, KEX Portland, KJR Seattle, KGA Spokane, KFSD San Diego, and CFCF Montreal.

Following the broadcast the Delta Sigma Pi team went out and celebrated even though they did not win and Brother Armstrong and his wife were the winners of a waltz contest at one of Baltimore's night clubs and were treated with champagne by the management so all in all the evening was certainly an eventful one.

Baltimore

AN ENTIRELY NEW PLAN of operation has been adopted by the Baltimore Alumni Club and will govern their work during the coming year. This plan is based on a subscription membership predicated on a minimum of 50 active alumni members of the club for 1938-1939, including admission to all meetings and parties. There will be seven events on the alumni program, from the first event which was held Wednesday, October 19 and which proved a big success, to the final meeting, April 14. The first two and the last meeting are dinners for which there will be a small charge for the meal. The other four affairs will be free to every Deltasig who joins the Baltimore Alumni Club and pays our annual dues. It has only been necessary to raise the dues 50 cents per member. Irvin Lennon is chairman of the committee in charge of membership.

President Byrd of the University of Maryland, former football coach and athletic director of that institution for many years spoke at our first dinner-meeting of the year in October which we featured as a football night. Under our new plan of operation no business will be transacted at any meeting, the Executive Committee of the club being delegated the authority to handle all business details. Our officers include: President, George J. Missel, Jr.; Vice-president, Paul G. Leroy; Secretary, J. Hugh Taylor, and Treasurer, Elwood Armstrong. The Executive Committee comprises the officers and three additional members, Leslie W. Baker, for many years faculty adviser to Chi Chapter, J. H. Feltham, local director of our Alumni Placing Service, and F. Allan Fite, chairman of our local Life Membership Committee. Arthur Bliss will be chairman of the Membership Directory, George Dunks will have charge of the weekly luncheons, Malcolm Edwards will look after the social activities and John Motz will head the athletic committee. A Founders' Day Banquet was held in November and a joint chapter birthday party is scheduled for December 9 with Chi Chapter.—J. HUGH TAYLOR

Boston

THE BOSTON ALUMNI CLUB and Gamma Chapter at Boston University held a combined Founders' Day Banquet and smoker on Monday evening, November 7 at the Hotel Victoria, Boston, Massachusetts, with over 70 members in attendance. Edgar B. Pitts, office manager of the College of Business Administration acted as toastmaster. Speakers included: Harvard L. Mann, charter member and first Head Master of Gamma Chapter; Oliver J. Conway and James P. Conway, charter members; William P. Husband, Jr., bank commissioner of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; Robert W. Carlson, Province Director of Delta Sigma Pi for New England, and Ralph A. Palladino, President of the Boston Alumni Club. Everyone had a fine time.

We are planning on a monthly dinner-meeting and the next one will be held December 5 which will be combined with the undergraduate chapter's initiation banquet. We are also planning a New Year's Eve dinner-dance on December 31.

Chicago

OUR LAST MONTHLY DINNER-MEETING before the summer vacation was held on May 17 with 50 members present, including Grand President Eugene D. Milener of New York who gave us a short but most interesting talk. The following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Dee Nahigian; Vice-Presidents, Warren Raymond (speakers), Glenn Bowgren (membership), Max Mauer-mann (entertainment); Secretary, Ralph L. Sweet; Assistant Secretary, Fred D. Schraffenberger; Treasurer, W. N. Bode; Assistant Treasurer, George Hanke; Directors, Kenneth H. Hobbie, Dario L. Toffenetti, W. F. Clarke, and W. H. Rohlff.

We have held three monthly dinner-meetings this fall with most satisfactory attendance. At the September meeting which was held at the Triangle Restaurant, 225 South Wabash Avenue, Chicago, Mr. Robert Fink of the City Managers' Plan Committee gave us some first hand information about how a city manager plan could operate in Chicago. At the October meeting we had as our guest speaker, Mr. K. L. Roberts, executive vice-president of the American Retail Coal Association. We celebrated Founders' Day on November 8 with a little different type of entertainment having a private banquet room at a well known Chicago night club which had their entire floor show make a special appearance before our group. We had no speaker on this occasion for a change and a large and enthusiastic crowd turned out to renew friendships. We are particularly pleased to note the large representation of different chapters attending our monthly dinners and we extend a hearty invitation to every member in the Chicago area to attend these meetings and we also invite all visiting Deltasigs to meet with us should their travels bring them to Chicago on the night of our meetings. We usually meet on the third Tuesday of each month at the Triangle Restaurant, 225 South Wabash Avenue, in a private dining room, but our November and December meetings are held on the second Tuesday of each month.—RALPH L. SWEET

Newark

IN LESS THAN A YEAR another "baby" has come into existence in the city of Newark, New Jersey. A year ago it was Beta Omicron Chapter installed at the University of Newark. This time it is the Newark Alumni Club of Delta Sigma Pi recently chartered by the Grand Council of the fraternity that is to enjoy the unusual "distinction" of being dubbed "baby" by the rest of the fraternity. However without much of the usual inexperience that is encountered in making a start in the world the Newark Alumni Club at its first meeting on September 13 as an officially sanctioned unit made an auspicious debut. Among other things officers for the coming year were elected: President, Howard Zahn; Vice-president, Garrett C. Wilcox; Secretary-Treasurer, Henry W. Mueller, Jr., and Directors, Herbert E. Brown, and Charles H. Stalter, Jr.

At our second meeting on October 4 President Zahn appointed the necessary committees. More alumni are attending each succeeding meeting and our membership has already reached 80 per cent of our quota for the first year with every expectation that we will go over the top real soon. Brother Wilcox, chairman of our Membership Committee is also busily engaged gathering data for a Membership Directory of all Deltasigs residing in the Newark area which we hope to publish sometime before the new year. Our social program got under way on October 20 with the first of a series of bowling tournaments. We also expect to visit several alumni meetings in nearby cities in the next two or three months, so don't be surprised New York, Philadelphia, Trenton, Baltimore and Washington if a Newark delegation appears unexpectedly at one of your coming affairs. And don't forget our dinners on the first Tuesday of each month if you are in the vicinity of Newark.—ROBERT G. BUSSE

New York

THE ANNUAL ROUND-UP DINNER was held at the Downtown Athletic Club on Thursday, June 2. As usual many old friends met again and related many a good story while waiting for the dinner gong. Thereafter the Deltasigs present partook of the usual sumptuous repast to while away the time while waiting for words of wisdom from the speaker of the evening. And then the Nominating Committee reported a ticket of officers for the coming year which was adopted unanimously: President, Frederick J. McCarthy; Vice-president, Frank B. Morgan; Secretary, Arnold G. Eckdahl; and Treasurer, William J. Rhatigan.

At a meeting of our Board of Governors held at the Alpha Chapter house on Tuesday, August 30, it was decided to hold one meeting each month for the coming year instead of twice a month as heretofore. Here is the schedule we prepared for the coming year:

1938:

Tuesday, October 4—Meeting
Tuesday, November 15—Founders' Day Dinner
Saturday, December 3—Take-Your-Choice House Party
Tuesday, December 13—Meeting; Speaker

1939:

Tuesday, January 10—Meeting
Tuesday, February 7—Meeting; Speaker
Tuesday, March 14—Meeting
Tuesday, April 11—Meeting; Speaker
Tuesday, May 9—Meeting
Tuesday, June 6—Annual Round-Up Dinner

William Dyke was chairman of a committee in charge of a golf tournament on September 29 at the Raritan Valley Country Club and which was won by Eugene Molyneaux. Oscar Barrett was called upon to arrange a new Uptown noon luncheon meeting each week and did he respond! Just step up to the entrance of the Palm Room at the Hotel Commodore any Wednesday noon at 12:30 and see for yourself. Delightful atmosphere, good food, comfortable seats, and Deltasig companionship, all for the small sum of 65 cents.

J. William Schulze, who is director of methods of the Treasury Department of the New York 1939 World's Fair, spoke at the Founders' Day Banquet on November 15 at the Downtown Athletic Club on the subject, "Bring the World's Fair Up-To-Date." John P. Madigan served as toastmaster and we had a large crowd in attendance.

Al Rohrberg has accepted the chairmanship of the committee in charge of the arrangements for the Take-Your-Choice House Party on December 3. He threatens us with fine food for supper, an adequate supply of good liquid refreshments, good music, games to amuse those not interested in dancing, and good fellowship for all. Al is a Deltasig who has a habit of making good on his threats!!! We shall see! All joking aside this is going to be a real bang-up party and all of those in or near New York on December 3 should be there. The cost is $6 per couple including everything. Tickets from the Treasurer of the committee, Walter Juengst, 1 Bank Street, New York, New York, telephone WATkins 9-0463, office telephone REctor 2-6625.

The Downtown luncheon meetings are continuing on Thursday noons as previously on the balcony at the Excellent Bar, 49 Maiden Lane at 12:30 where a small group of the faithful foregather regularly to settle the fate of nations. Newcomers will receive a cordial Deltasig welcome.

Philadelphia

THE PHILADELPHIA ALUMNI CLUB held its annual fall outing over the week-end of October 1 and 2 at the Monticello Hotel in Atlantic City, New Jersey. A splendid time was had by all Deltasigs present. Ocean bathing and horseback riding on the beach kept the members occupied Saturday afternoon. A fine dinner was served at the hotel that evening followed at 11:00 p.m. by some fast and peppy entertainment. This was followed by a first release M-G-M picture. Church services, fish parties, and strolling on the board walk was the schedule for Sunday. Among the several out-of-town members present were: William Albertini of Mt. Carmel, Pennsylvania; H. N. Groman of Bethlehem, Pennsylvania; C. A. Krug of Ebensburg, Pennsylvania; and J. S. Dietrich of Pen Argyl, Pennsylvania.

A short business meeting was called to order by President Bill Rohrer and considerable discussion was held on the coming Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi to be held in Philadelphia next September. All members were requested to give this Congress the greatest publicity possible. A committee was formed to complete arrangements for our Founders' Day Banquet to be held in November in Philadelphia. Fred Floyd announced that he had all of his committees appointed for the Grand Chapter Congress and his slogan now is "Full speed ahead for September 1939."

Charles Yoder has our bowling in full swing. Visiting Deltasigs are invited to attend Hudson's Alleys, Broad and Cherry Streets, Philadelphia, every Tuesday evening at 8:30. We are also planning an inter-city bowling competition with our members in Baltimore, Washington, Trenton, Newark and New York. John Hanby officially launched the Grand Chapter Congress publicity campaign at a luncheon held at the Warwick Hotel, October 8. A cocktail party and dance was held at the Beta Nu Chapter house in Philadelphia following the Pennsylvania-Navy game.—JOHN A. DUGAN

Wisconsin Chapter Leads In Drive For New Commerce Building

SINCE PSI CHAPTER was to preside this year at the annual Commerce Turnout at the University of Wisconsin, it was thought to be an opportune time to put on something out of the ordinary that would not only be of benefit to the School of Commerce but would also bring Psi Chapter further recognition and prestige on the campus. Consequently, the most glaring defect of our university, the overcrowded condition of the School of Commerce, was exposed to the public. And so, during last summer, all available material from other Schools of Commerce and exact figures concerning our school was gathered and assimilated in petition form to be presented at the fall Commerce Turnout, October 6, 1938. This petition first contained a report of the steadily increasing enrollment in the School of Commerce. Secondly, it dwelt upon the overcrowded conditions due to this tremendous increase. Next, it compared our facilities here at Wisconsin to those of other Schools of Commerce on different campuses. And lastly, there was presented a comprehensive outline of the requirements of a new commerce building.

With the help of other professional fraternities on the campus these petitions were distributed among the students who were already in the School of Commerce and those who have expressed their intentions to enroll in the future. Eugene Speltz, Head Master of Psi Chapter, presided at this Turnout and read the petition. He enlarged upon some of its points and explained and clarified others. These petitions were signed by all of the commerce students present at the Turnout and were circulated in all of the commerce classes of the few following days to give those people, not at the Turnout, an opportunity to sign.

As yet, we do not know how effective our petition will be, but at any rate, there will be brought to the attention of the Board of Regents, and President Dykstra of the University of Wisconsin, the conditions existing in the School of Commerce. Whether or not we will immediately achieve our aim, Psi Chapter feels that it is promoting a worthwhile improvement.—CEDRIC P. VOLL

Alpha Starts Rushing

ALPHA CHAPTER was the first among the New York University fraternities to welcome the incoming freshmen of the fall term. The attendance was exceptionally large. The brothers were optimistic and predicted a large turnout of pledges. The chapter is greatly indebted for this unusually successful smoker to Head Master Ed Keating who has a gift for inducing the brothers to do their best. He actually gets them going and doing things around the chapter house. Much credit belongs to the rushing committee for the fine program. Chancellor Bob Nevin, our representative in the Violet Skull of New York University at Washington Square, also deserves credit for having secured for Alpha Chapter the first place on the rushing list. First invitations have always had a higher percentage of response than those of following days.

Head Master Keating opened the reception with a short talk in which he extended a hearty greeting to all the freshmen. He was followed by Professor Dewey, a much beloved alumnus of the chapter. Smiling broadly and placing emphasis on each word, he told the freshmen that just the academic curriculum of the university was not enough; they should also participate in the other activities prevalent on the campus. He went on to explain that fraternity life fills the void that comes into the student's life as he leaves behind him home and high school friends, and takes up life in the university. If the student is to develop himself fully, he should absorb himself in new activities and form new friendships. Fraternity life has been admirably formulated to fulfill such requirements.

Brother Larry W. Zimmer, who is director of the New York University Employment Bureau, stated that years of experience had taught him that personality counts 50 per cent in placing graduates as well as undergraduates in positions; technical skill amounts to 35 per cent; and 10 per cent he credits to luck.

Brother Hackett captured the fancy of the boys. They cannot be blamed for liking him for Jimmy has a smile that is contagious. Moreover, he has a natural flare for telling jokes and amusing incidents. The boys just roared

Alabama Well Organized

THE FIRST MEETING of the semester found the Alabama brothers with a great deal of the fraternity work already well behind them. Head Master Thomas had all committees selected and work well planned for a fast start. Vacancies created by graduating seniors were filled by election. The first goal set for the semester was top place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. We made great progress in that direction last year and with the plans laid out for the coming year we should be giving the holders of the top rank quite a tussel. The visit of Grand Secretary-Treasurer Gig Wright to the chapter and the forming of the Birmingham Alumni Club last year have added the needed stimuli necessary to make the fraternity have the best standing on the campus that it has ever had.

Alpha Sigma can point with pride to a scholastic average well above the average for the men of the university. The average of the chapter for the last semester placed it above any social or professional fraternity on the campus. Last semester we instituted the plan whereby the active in the chapter having the highest average for the preceding semester would be presented with one of the new Deltasig wall plaques. Judging for yourself you can see the beneficial result from the idea.

Missing from the ranks this semester are Brothers Nesbitt, Duffey, Helms, Black and Adamson. All have gone the route of all good students but Brother Adamson. He is attending Columbia this semester while on leave of absence from the university faculty. Assuming his duties of faculty adviser is Brother Chapman of the accounting department. Brother Helms is with the First National Bank of Birmingham when not attending to affairs of the heart on the campus. He has made fine account of himself in his short time at the bank. Brother Willys Pearson has been promoted to the rank of Cadet Colonel in the First Regiment of University R.O.T.C. Brothers Brown and Holland have received appointments to fellowships in accounting this semester.

All eyes are looking toward class elections in which Delta Sigma Pi has always played an important part and never failed to place several brothers in important class offices.—JAMES G. HOLLAND

Mississippi Pledges Twelve

ALPHA PHI CHAPTER at the University of Mississippi started 1938 with the following old men: Griffin Alford, T. C. Buford, C. W. Anderson, J. B. Conway, John Dale, Leroy Hiding, Albert Gardner, Fred Nelson, Tims Quinn, Edward Rather, Clifton Rawls, George H. Shelton, Julius Tipton, and Homer Turner. We have pledged 12 men this year and among them are such outstanding men on "Ole Miss" campus as Dr. J. W. Bell, Dean of the School of Commerce and Business Administration, Kimble Bradley, captain of the football team, and John Evans, editor of the annual.

Our program this year calls for two meetings a month which includes one business meeting to be held the first Tuesday in every month, and the professional meeting to be held when desired by the chapter. We are promoting movies for the benefit of the entire School of Commerce which will include one picture a month. Plans are being made for Alpha Phi to promote professional trips in the classes of banking, marketing, credit, and salesmanship to our neighboring city, Memphis, Tennessee. Alpha Phi of Delta Sigma Pi in collaboration with Dean Bell have made arrangements to set aside a Business Day. This is the first time in the history of this university that such distinction has come to the school and we hope to make this an annual affair. The date of Business Day will be on or around November 7 so that we may celebrate Business Day and Founders' Day at the same time.—CHARLES W. ANDERSON

News from Boston Town

THE RUSHING SEASON started for Gamma Chapter October 10. A very successful smoker was held at the Fox and Hounds Club. The guests enjoyed the talk by Head Football Coach Pat Hanley, and a vivid play-by-play description of the St. Lawrence game by the assistant coach, Walt Homer, in conjunction with the movies of the game. Supplementary remarks were made by Brother Palladino and Head Master Madigan. An exceptionally large crowd was present.

Dancing to the music of Friszell's orchestra, the brothers and invited guests passed an enjoyable evening on the 14th of the month at the Parker House.

As in the past, brothers of Gamma Chapter are holding important positions in school activities. Seven of our brothers have been accepted into Scabbard and Blade. This group constitutes a large percentage of that organization. They are Brothers Mara, Cunningham, Kieronski, Migneault, Connelly, Paul Sullivan, and Joe Sullivan. Our Head Master also has been elected President of the Newman Club, to the House of Representatives, Grand Secretary-Treasurer of the All-University Catholic Council, and a member of the Interfraternity Conference. The Vice-President of the Newman Club is also a Gamma man, Brother Mara. A second member of Gamma Chapter in the Interfraternity Conference is Joe Sullivan.

The undergraduate and alumni chapters plan to get together again and celebrate Founders' Day with all the pomp and ceremony that has characterized its celebration in the past.—WILLIAM F. CLARK, JR.

Nebraska Chapter Proud of New Student Union Building

THE STUDENT UNION, the new activities building on the Cornhusker campus, has become the browsing-cooking-luncheon center of the undergraduate body. The Union supplies many sources of pleasure; the cafe, cafeteria, and grill room have become the ideal cooking and eating places for the students. Other outstanding features of the Union building are the large students lounge, the press rooms for the university publications, the browsing library, the game rooms, the spacious ball-room, the conference rooms, and innumerable other accommodations and attractions. It has already become an integral part of the campus life.

Proudly has the Alpha Delta Chapter taken up its new quarters in the Union building. We have already held several noteworthy professional smokers. We were fortunate to have among our distinguished guests and speakers, two outstanding Lincoln men, Dr. Nels A. Bengston, chairman of the university's department of geography, and Dr. D. B. Marti of the Lincoln School of Commerce, who have favored our meetings with very worth-while talks on current happenings.

On October 15, following the Indiana-Nebraska football game, the Deltasigs gathered together with their dates for a scheduled date-dinner, one of several planned for the season. The weekly social life of the Alpha Delta Chapter has been enlivened by the inauguration of week-end hour dances, scheduled with the sororities on the campus. The initial dance was held October 21, and the plan for hour dances will continue throughout the year.

The annual College of Business Administration banquet was held on October 27 in the new Student Union building. This was an occasion on which high scholarship and student activities are cited. J. H. Agee, a well known Lincoln business man was the speaker of the evening and Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the college presided, and presented the high ranking students and winners of the various awards.

Members of the business administration executive council were in general charge, an organization ably supported by top-ranking Deltasigs. At a recent election of the executive council, James Crockett was elected vice-president and Head Master Kenneth Ekwall was elected treasurer. This is Head Master Ekwall's second term on the council and he is the only veteran member of the new council.

Sometime during the first week in November, Alpha Delta Chapter will initiate its large class of 10 ambitious pledges. The ceremony will take place in the Union, followed by a formal banquet. Our chapter and the Beta Theta Chapter of Creighton, at Omaha, are planning a joint tour during the first part of December. Only tentative plans have been drawn up so far, but it has already shown signs of becoming a big event for both chapters.

Of all the members of this chapter, none stands out so prominently in scholastic achievements as does Kenneth Giffen, who is now working for his master's degree. Last spring Brother Giffen was awarded three scholarship keys; the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key, the Phi Beta Kappa Key, and the Beta Gamma Sigma Key. None of the rest of us have done as well, but quite a few have not been far behind. Although no other member of the chapter has ever equalled this feat, many of us would give a lot to gain such outstanding scholastic achievements. By attaining such a high goal, Brother Giffen has, at the same time, set a high goal for the rest of the chapter. We hope that with true Deltasig spirit and determination others of the chapter may soon reach that goal too.—DEAN E. IRVIN

Delta Sigma Pi Loan Fund Established At Missouri

AT THE END of the very successful year of 1937-38, Alpha Beta Chapter found that its surplus account was more than sufficient to cover the chapter's needs. It was decided in the interests of commerce students and the School of Business and Public Administration to establish a student loan fund primarily for students of this school. Accordingly, the chapter submitted to the Board of Curators of the university an application to establish a student loan fund, to be added to from time to time, and requested the Board to act as trustee for the fund, and through its agent to make the loans. A check for $100 was forwarded with the application to establish the fund. The following regulations in regard to the administering of the fund were embodied in the application.

1. The name of the fund shall be Delta Sigma Pi Loan Fund.
2. Loans shall be made primarily to students enrolled in the School of Business and Public Administration in the University.
3. Only needy and deserving students of good character and ability shall receive assistance from the fund.
4. The terms of the loan, including interest rate, security, and the date of maturity, shall be left to the discretion of the trustee.

A letter has been received from the secretary of the university stating that the Curators had accepted and approved the application, and it would be administered under the regulations stipulated in the application. He also stated, "I am directed by the Board to express to the Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity its appreciation for the interest taken in the welfare of the students in the University."

Alpha Beta Chapter feels it has accomplished something worth while in the aid of the students of commerce. May more chapters establish Loan Funds in their respective schools or universities.

At the first business meeting of the year committees were appointed by Head Master Wesley Johnson to plan the chapter activities for the year. Each active brother was assigned specific duties for this semester. The first activity of the chapter will be a visit to the Kansas City Alumni Club on October 21. This is the alumni club's first dinner-meeting of the year. Many of the brothers plan to spend the week-end in Kansas City and all are looking forward to a swell time. The fraternity plans also to participate in the industrial tours made by the School of Business and Public Administration each year. The chapter plans trips to the U. S. Treasury Accounting Offices and various Missouri State Offices in Jefferson City, and to the A. P. Green Fire-Brick Company in Mexico, Missouri. Several similar trips were made by the fraternity last year. The Founders' Day banquet will be held the first week in November. All pledges will be invited to better acquaint them with the members of the organization.

We are out again to capture first place in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. There were 20 prospective pledges out to our first professional meeting to hear Major Overfelt of the military department speak on the "Social Life in China." The second professional meeting was attended by more pledges, and Dean Curtis of our school spoke on the "Advantage of the College Graduate." We have had two professional meetings and three business meetings so far this year. The scholastic rank on the campus for the chapter was 2.29 average as compared to the all-men average of 2.11. The Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key was won last spring by Brother Lawrence M. Kirk. There are 18 active members back this year which is more than in several years, and Alpha Beta plans on "going to town" again in 1939.—

Detroit Swings into Action

WITH THE NEW TERM under way at the University of Detroit, practically all the brothers of Theta Chapter returned from a long and enjoyable summer. Everyone is digging in and doing his part to make the coming year a great success by inviting new members, of which there are about 15 in number, to come to the initial pledge parties and get acquainted with the brothers and learn a little about fraternity life. A great response came from the invitations and the brothers thought the new men very good prospects. Head Master, Bob Filiatrault, chose four men to work with four of the members of Phi Gamma Nu Sorority, on plans for the Football Frolic, held each year at the university. The four chairmen of Theta Chapter are: Joseph Scallan, head of the dance in general, Bob Dietrich, head of the ticket committee, Jack Keating, head of the hall committee, and Bob Davis, head of the orchestra committee. The dance will be held in the Statler Hotel, Detroit, on the night of November 4.

Charles Dean had quite a unique summer. After leaving school he started out with about $60 to tour the country. By hitching rides he went through Mexico and California on the west coast. While in California he stayed at the University of Southern California chapter house. From California he hitch-hiked back to the southern coast and up to Montreal and Toronto. In all he was gone about two months and really had an enjoyable summer.

At our next meeting we will make plans for a Founders' Day party and vote on the respective pledges. An outline of the pledge period will also be gone over at this meeting. Brother Bill Paldi is the Senior Warden for the coming year.—BOB H. DAVIS

Beta to Celebrate Silver Anniversary

BETA CHAPTER'S ACTIVITIES certainly do not cease with the close of the academic year, for with the senior class meeting at Beta house late in June, open house for the sororities of the campus from time to time during vacation, and our summer formal dance in August, we were kept busy throughout the summer. The new year was informally inaugurated with a stag; a year for which we are planning big things, in which we intend to make history—Beta's Silver Anniversary Year.

The officers elected for this all-important year are: Head Master, James A. Kerr; Senior Warden, Robert Sommer; Junior Warden, Frank Chabot; Scribe, Fred Church; Treasurer, Stan Rumshus, and Chancellor, Robert Bauer. They plan to take the suggestion made by Gig Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer, at the last initiation banquet: to take full advantage of this "once in twenty-five years" opportunity both for what it means to us individually and for the publicity we can gain through it.

Our social season opened with a mixer for Epsilon Eta Phi sorority on Friday, October 7, at the house. Nineteen of the girls accepted our invitation; they were definitely one of the grandest groups of young ladies that we have ever had the pleasure of entertaining. As has been done on several occasions in the past, we rented a record machine, for we enjoy it as much as a small orchestra since it carries a fine beat for dancing and plays the latest numbers by the best bands. The party started promptly at 8:30, which was practically unprecedented at Beta house, and dancing was continuous until 11:30 when refreshments were served. It was nearly 1:00 before we started to say good-bye, and if our guests had nearly as enjoyable an evening as we did, we are sure they will want to come back.

We believe that a most important part of our activities are our professional meetings, and consequently are striving to place even more emphasis upon them than we have in the past. Accordingly, Brother Roy Lyon was selected to act as our professional chairman this year, since his position with the University of Chicago affords him an excellent opportunity to contact interesting speakers. Both of the meetings so far have been well balanced programs with particularly good attendances. Professor Myron Umbreit, of Northwestern University and a Deltasig of Beta Chapter, spoke at the first meeting as has been our tradition for quite a number of years. At the next meeting Charles J. Zimmerman, C.L.U., graduate of Dartmouth and vice-president of the National Association of Life Underwriters, gave a splendid talk on the economics of life insurance, and explained the selection of risks.

At an impressive ceremony, we pledged our first three candidates Monday, October 17, and are started on our way to surpass our quota of initiating 18 men during the course of the next two semesters.—J. SHANNON GUSTAFSON

Baylor Initiates Nine

BETA IOTA CHAPTER at Baylor University, the friendliest school in the southwest, has begun its year with the initiation of nine new members. On October 17 at the old State House Hotel in Waco, Texas, a most exciting informal initiation was held for Leonidas Cicero Bradley, Jr., Walstein Smith, Jr., Harry Lee Tennisson, Morris Harrell, Orville Rozell Lundy, James Franklin Cobb, Horace Ray Moore, Adrian Truly Middleton, and William Graves Blanton. Fourteen old members returned to school this fall, all of whom are enjoying cigars, cigarettes, mints and chewing gum at the expense of our nine new brothers, who represent the better students of the School of Business of the university.

With football in the air in this fast Southwestern Conference, the brothers are dividing their interest between the sport and the chapter. Homecoming Day at this 93 year old school is Saturday, October 22, over which a queen will reign, and with the hope of doing it again, as we did last year when the Deltasig nominee was selected Homecoming Queen, the brothers have selected a beauty for the nominee of this year. A buffet luncheon will be served at a downtown hotel for the returning alumni of the chapter on this date.

Within the next two weeks a social will be held, the plans now being for a combined picnic and skating party. The chapter will sponsor a business school dinner and dance, which will be held before the Thanksgiving holidays. The purpose of this dinner is to further friendship among the students of the School of Business, and incidentally to acquaint them with the work of Delta Sigma Pi.

A smoker was held at the Raleigh Hotel, October 3, at which affair eligible men for the chapter were invited. Dr. C. D. Johnson, head of the Baylor Foundation, an organization whose purpose is to keep the alumni in touch with the university, was the speaker. His subject was "The Founding of the School of Business at Baylor University," which was an evolution of the school from the time it was an embryo in the minds of a few men until the present time, when it boasts of approximately 350 students and 7 professors.

A dinner to celebrate Founders' Day, professional meetings, inspection tours, and a host of other events lead us to prophesy that this year points to the biggest and best one in the history of the chapter.—WALTER A. PLUMHOFF

Beta Omicron to Have Active Year

GREETINGS AND GOOD LUCK to Deltasigs everywhere during the new school year. Beta Omicron is back in the halter and pulling along at a good clip after a very active summer—during which we had our usual picnic and swim on our own Jersey coast and our annual stag week-end party down at Lavelette, New Jersey.

We held a smoker for the incoming freshmen on Friday, September 16 with Grand President Gene Milener and Province Director Arnold G. Eckdahl present—supplemented by our faculty brothers and a goodly turn-out of alumni—all told we had 60 present during the course of the evening. Following this we had a rapid succession of busy nights—Convocation Day, September 20, an open house with about 40 attending—the first professional meeting September 30 with Professor Von Minden, C.P.A. explaining “Public Accounting, the field and its future.”—rush smoker for prospects October 7—chapter birthday celebration, October 8—and on Friday, October 14, Mr. Ottinger of the N. J. Bell Telephone Company gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on “Little Things.”

Have we been active? Let these facts speak for themselves.

We are happy to announce our faculty adviser for the coming year, Doctor Albert O. Greef, first winner of the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key at the University of Kansas, and an alumnus of our Iota Chapter.

Our ambitious program is to be kept rolling in the future. October 22 we hold our fall picnic to be followed in rapid succession by a professional meeting on October 26, a house party on October 29, pledging on November 3, an industrial tour, November 12, Founders' Day celebration, November 15 in collaboration with the Newark Alumni Club, a professional meeting November 17 and the fall dance at the Hotel Douglas, Newark, on November 19.

Beta Sponsors Athletics on Northwestern Campus

THE SCHOOL SPIRIT of the entire student body of a university is dependent largely upon a friendliness and feeling of co-operation among the organizations of the campus. Such interfraternal friendliness is encouraged and increased by a program of diversified extra-curricular activities; principally political, social, and athletic. Beta Chapter feels it can be justly proud of the part it has taken in preserving this spirit by encouraging continuation of intramural athletics when Northwestern University announced that it planned to discontinue the athletic support given the Chicago Campus. The proposed plan further favored, (1) withdrawal of the full-time athletic director presently assigned to the Chicago Campus, and (2) discontinuation of the financial support presently given to intramural athletics on the Chicago Campus.” This proposed plan, after having been announced in the Daily Northwestern, might have been put into effect practically unnoticed at the time by the majority of the 7000 students upon the downtown campus, but for the opinion of many Betamen that a sufficiently large number of students do participate to warrant its continuation and support by the school, and that the loss of a very valuable contribution to the general attitude of the school body would result if this plan were put into effect.

Sherman Pate, retiring Head Master of Beta Chapter, suggested that a sports forum be organized with representatives from each fraternity on the campus, for the purpose of discussing and taking proper action to discourage the administration in its plan. The suggestion was well taken, and accordingly invitations were mailed by Brother Fred Church to the 31 fraternities on the Chicago Campus, to meet at Beta's house at 42 East Cedar Street.

Twenty-two fraternities responded; these being the majority of the organizations which take an active part in athletics. Two or three members from each fraternity were present, representing the Schools of Commerce, Law, Medicine, and Dentistry. It was indeed gratifying to see our invitation accepted with such enthusiasm.

The meeting was presided over by Brother Stu Brimacombe, who guided it through the many heated disputes which were bound to occur since opinion differed slightly, and the subject under discussion was one of vital interest to each man present. One group suggested that an athletic council be formed, consisting of one representative from each organization, and that this council arrange an audience with Dean Snyder, Vice-President of the University and Dean of the Faculties, to acquaint him with the views of the student body. Another group discouraged this idea, claiming that it would be difficult to choose a time convenient to so many men and also convenient to Dean Snyder; and suggested as an alternative either selecting just a few to represent the entire group, or writing a letter placing the complete facts before the dean. The ultimate result was that all agreed that if the general opinion were placed in the form of a petition and signed by all active members of each fraternity, that it would not only be the most convenient method, but also the one which would carry the most weight with the faculty. Brother Frank Paul voluntarily offered to draw up the petition.

Much credit is due Brother Paul, for the petition finally presented embodied completely, clearly, yet simply, the consensus of opinion expressed at the meeting. It reasoned that, “. . . it may be argued that all students do not participate in the athletics. But it cannot be seriously contended that every student partakes of all the facilities and advantages made available by the school, or even that every student takes all subjects in a suggested curriculum. But if a sufficiently large number do participate, the University itself benefits from affording the opportunity to partake, and by the very nature of its existence and principles should make that opportunity available.” It drew as its conclusion that, “. . . therefore the undersigned . . . petition the University not only to continue the full-time athletic director and the financial support presently given to intramural athletics on the Chicago Campus, but also to increase the co-operation and support of the University in these athletics.”

Brothers Church and Zabohon took copies of the petition to each fraternity to be signed, and with a small group of other representatives, presented them to Dean Snyder. Brother Church later wrote a follow-up letter to the dean to make certain that the matter be given his consideration. President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern was approached on the subject at the senior class meeting, held at Beta house, and urged to encourage acceptance of the petition.

Although no formal answer to the petition was made, the University seems to have reconsidered the matter and to have reversed its decision, for it announced at the beginning of this semester that, “During each academic year the university conducts an elaborate program of intramural athletics under the management of a full time athletic director. Among the sports included are basketball, baseball, touch-football, track, golf, bowling, swimming, tennis, and volleyball. It is our desire . . . that every student engage in these diversified sports.” At the present time the fall athletic program is in full swing—the men participating in it taking even a renewed interest in the activities which were almost denied them.

Beta Chapter can claim only a part of the credit for bringing about the continuation of the athletic program on the Chicago Campus, for it was solely through the complete co-operation of the entire organized student body that such a result was obtained. However, we are proud, and rightly so, of the part we have taken in conceiving the idea of a united appeal, and backing it to its acceptance. It has always been our policy to take an active interest in the school and the affairs of the school, and we feel that we have lived up to our policy in this recent crisis, and are confident that we shall ever continue to do all possible to bring honor and glory to Delta Sigma Pi.—J. SHANNON GUSTAFSON

Kansas Chapter Blazes Ahead

WATCH US GO. With the autumn season well under way, Kansas Iota looks forward to a year which promises to be the best that our chapter has yet experienced. Although the summer brought temporary dismemberment to our ranks, the spirit of our organization manifested itself in frequent reunions. The very first night after their return the brothers met together in unscheduled meeting to relate summer successes and to plan an extensive program for the coming year.

With 21 actives and 14 pledges returning to school, our chapter ranks promise to swell to a total of 35 members by October 16, the date set for initiation. Already we have held our fall frolic where members, pledges, and professors mixed congenially to make the party one of the season's outstanding social affairs. We have made arrangements for our annual bus trip to Kansas City, Missouri, where we will visit most of the larger business concerns with our guests, the students and faculty of the Business School. With smokers, banquets, and lectures tentatively planned we have assurance that ours is to be an active year.

The fraternal order prospers only as its individual members prosper, and we of Kansas Iota are exceedingly proud of our brothers' successes on the campus. In the Ku Ku club, the University of Kansas pep organization, we have three members: Jack Carlson, Henry Schwaller, and Walter Sutton who acts in capacity of treasurer. In the political orbit we have members of both the campus parties: Martin Flesher, Jack Cosgrove and Henry Schwaller in the Pachacamac party; Jack Carlson and Bill Seitz in the Progressive Students Government League. Bill Seitz is the treasurer of the PSGL and Henry Schwaller the secretary of Pachacamac.

On the gridiron Delta Sigma Pi is again predominant in having Bill Lenhart on the varsity squad and Henry Schwaller as cheer leader. Nor do we suffer for lack of golf talent as Bill Udell is a member of the varsity squad in that sport.

Bill Seitz is a former business manager of the Jayhawker, the Kansas University annual, and a member of the Owl and Sagem societies, junior and senior honorary societies.

To guide our chapter we have chosen the following as chapter officers: Head Master, Harry Brown; Senior Warden, Jack Ledyard; Junior Warden, Morton Jones; Treasurer, Don Clinger; Scribe, Tom Mangelsdorf, and Senior Guide, Dell Kneale.

Having gotten off the mark with a good start we offer the other chapters an invitation to watch our dust in the Chapter Efficiency Contest.—JACK HUTTIG

Colorado Holds Annual Business Day

ALPHA RHO CHAPTER has been extremely successful this last year in furthering the principles that Delta Sigma Pi seeks to inculcate in all of its members. We have not only been very influential in the management of the School of Business itself, but in all other extracurricular activities connected with the school and the university. Delta Sigma Pi has become known as a group of boys who are willing and capable to put any of the various Business School activities over so that they will be enjoyable to all. One of the reasons for this unprecedented success of our chapter has been the membership which constitutes a very representative cross-section of the School.

Last spring the School of Business held its annual Business Day. This constitutes a whole day set aside for business men and students who are interested to come and enjoy themselves from all over the state. Delta Sigma Pi had active charge of gathering a number of exhibits of Colorado's industries and setting them up. As another feature of the Business Day program the School elections are held that day. Delta Sigma Pi had three of its members elected to the governing body of the school. We elected Howard Britzell, president; Cover Mendenhall, vice-president, and Bill Derryberry, treasurer. Since that time Don Thurman has been elected one of the three junior board members. That evening the annual spring banquet of Delta Sigma Pi was held. There was 100% attendance which included all of the faculty members of Delta Sigma Pi.

This year Delta Sigma Pi has an auspicious start by again becoming leaders in the Fall Frolic of the Business School. We are following our usual pattern of having this dance in the form of a round-up. There will be the atmosphere of the real West of Frontier days. Cowboys, six-shooters, and even gambling will be featured on October 28. We are getting a very good start in our rushing this year. There seems to be an unusually good class of men this year from which to choose, those who can live up to Delta Sigma Pi's standards. We have been rushing all quarter and our initiation will be held in about three weeks.

We have been very fortunate this year in securing men of importance for our professional meetings. Dean Petersen secured Dr. T. Z. Koo to speak to us at our last meeting. Dr. Koo comes from China where he received his education. He is of the generation which is the first to see the benefits of the new era in China. Dr. Koo came to Boulder to participate in the religious emphasis week that the university holds every year. His topic of discussion was "Work as a Vehicle to Life." His premise was that the modern educational system prepares a person to meet the more technical side of life, but it often leaves him helpless when it comes to having a richer enjoyment of life as a whole. Most people come from a university with a self-centered idea of how they should live. An ideal education would provide the means for a fuller enjoyment both of your own life and an appreciation of everyone else's. After he was finished we held a very interesting forum on current affairs and customs in China during the present situations. We are holding our professional meetings every two weeks and try to have men with us who will give us some very helpful information concerning other fields with which we are not directly connected.—BILL DERRYBERRY

Michigan Wins Athletic Trophy

XI CHAPTER IS OFF to another good start this year with an organized rushing program well under way and many chapter activities planned for the near future. The rushing committee under the competent direction of Senior Warden Wilson Archer is composed of Robert Pressprich, Don Rohn, and Richard Babcock. The campaign began with an open house with over 40 business administration and economics students in the undergraduate school as guests. The presence of many of the members of the faculty helped to make the affair a success.

Other activities have not suffered for the benefit of rushing, however. The chapter house has been filled by visiting alumni returning for football games. The victory of the Wolverines over their traditional foe, Michigan State, contributed to these reunions. A professional meeting held October 18 featured a talk by Stanley Waltz, manager of the Michigan Union, who discussed the accounting system employed by that institution.

Plans for future activities are going rapidly ahead. A Founders' Day celebration is planned, and it is hoped that our Grand Secretary-Treasurer, H. G. Wright will be present for this event. The first initiation is to be held November 26, and judging from the long pledge line, this should be the largest in recent years.

Having been the winner of first place among all professional fraternities last year for the second consecutive time, Xi Chapter is proud of its record in athletics. The reward was a handsome trophy. Xi is in the running again, and a volleyball team is being organized for the first of the eight competitions comprising the year's program.

Hoping that other chapters are duplicating our success, Xi takes this opportunity to wish all a fruitful and prosperous year.—BYRON HARRIS

Minnesota Remodels House

LAST YEAR Alpha Epsilon made its last payment on our house, a thing of which we are justly proud. It took considerable sacrifice in the past years to make this possible. We held off buying furniture and remodeling on the building in order to use the money to pay the mortgage. This year we have been rewarded for our economy. Not only can we call the house our own but the entire lower floor has been remodeled, giving us a modern lounge room which compares favorably with the best. From now on, money which has gone to retiring our debt will be used for improving and modernizing, on a pay-as-you-go basis.

This year we start with 16 actives and 10 pledges. This is not a large group but a nucleus for a good strong chapter by mid-year. Everyone seems to have caught the spirit of rushing. We started it with a Monte Carlo smoker for rushees and thus far have pledged six men. We are planning to double this before the end of the quarter. Remodeling and modernizing has helped to a certain extent; we do recognize that the appearance of a fraternity house does influence the rushee to some degree. This is especially true among the underclassmen. Incidentally it is this group we are trying to concentrate on because they will have more years to be associated with the fraternity. In this way they can get more out of the fraternity and the organization itself will benefit from having more experienced men within.

We are fortunate this year because the School of Business Administration is housed in a new building. After being confined to one of the oldest buildings on the campus for about 20 years, and having to go to classes in as many as 12 other buildings, both pre-business and business classes are now held in the main building. Credit for the structure goes largely to our own Brother Stevenson, Dean of the School of Business, who has worked unceasingly for many years for a building capable of taking care of business and pre-business together. It is recalled by some of the alumni of the chapter how each year at the time of the State Legislature, members were calling their representative or writing to him urging the appropriation of funds for the new building. As Patrick Henry said in his speech "We have petitioned, we have remonstrated, we have begged, etc." This expresses literally our activities in co-ordination with the dean's office in trying to get a new building.

Dedication services for the new building were held at Homecoming time last week. Prominent speakers and scholars from all parts of the country took part in the two-day dedication program. At the final event, formal dedication, our chapter presented the school with two large urns to be placed in the foyer of the Business building. Brother Rucks, who is president of the Business School Board and chapter Treasurer, made the presentation.

Alpha Epsilon has its usual majority representation in all Business School activities. Besides Rucks as president of the board, and Eichorn as pre-business representative, we are running two men for the two remaining jobs open on that board; senior representative and junior representative. Brother Charles Peick was appointed chairman of the Annual Business School Stockholders meeting—the fall function of the school.

With Founders' Day coming up in the near future we are planning a special dinner with our alumni club. Our other activities include a professional dinner, and initiation of six new members. Athletically, we have been fortunate thus far. We have no defeats in touchball, and only one in tennis.

Last week we enjoyed visits of Deltasigs from Marquette, Wisconsin, Northwestern, Michigan, and other schools. Our Head Master, Bill Stewart takes this opportunity in behalf of the chapter to extend an invitation to all Deltasigs to "drop in" if at any time you are in the vicinity of the Twin Cities, and to wish the other chapters a good year.—ROLAND RUSSELL

Georgia Out to Repeat

IT IS WITH PRIDE that we share the honors of "having fought a good fight" with our brother chapters, Beta, Kappa, and Alpha Beta. We have things in common of which each of us are proud: that trait called determination, coupled with co-operation, that made it possible for we four chapters to gradually, but consistently, climb to the top in the Chapter Efficiency Contest. To the other chapters, who did well, but lacked points, we say, "keep digging," for after trial and success, there comes that feeling of having accomplished your part in the great fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. You have done the things that our fraternity stands for. Through the able leadership of Brother Truelove in 1936-37, and then through that of Head Master Jackson in 1937-38, Pi has gained unquestionable prestige, that the current year leaders and brothers will not let wilt. We make our resolution, now, in this initial copy of THE DELTASIG of the new school year, that Pi will be on top in June again.

Those in the leadership of Pi, who will guide our chapter to success are: Head Master, Charles Simmons; Senior Warden, Eugene Broxton; Junior Warden, Neville James; Scribe, Bernard Butts; Treasurer, U. R. Jenkins; Historian, Walter Rylander; Chancellor, Thurlow Evans; Master of Festivities, James Humes and Master of Ceremonies, James Dozier. This list would in no way be complete without mentioning the two professors who so ably guide Pi to the top, Professor H. M. Heckman, and Professor Lloyd B. Raisty, both of the accounting department in the School of Commerce.

Our first smoker for the year was held in the Penthouse on October 4 with the room almost filled with new pledges and brothers. The special speech of the evening was given by Professor W. S. Beckwith who spoke on the current recession and ways and means of eliminating the current social problems.—FRED PIERCE

South Carolina Edits Commerce Magazine

REAL NEWS! BETA GAMMA Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi takes over the editing of the Commerce Digest! The Commerce Digest is a monthly magazine carrying topics of current interest as seen by commerce students and local business men. It is the "voice of the School of Commerce," and has been cited by President J. Rion McKissick, head of the university, as contributing much to the growth of the university and to the increasing popularity of the School of Commerce. During the past year, due to lack of leadership, the Commerce Digest greatly degenerated and had even failed to appear for several months, when Brother Sigmund Stoudenmire, now graduated, lifted the magazine from impending oblivion, and restored it to its former high position. Seeing the interest taken in the Commerce Digest by the Deltasigs, and desirous of preventing a re-occurrence of last year's tragedy, Brother George E. Olson, Dean of the School of Commerce, suggested that Beta Gamma Chapter take over the responsibility of the magazine. We received this suggestion last week, immediately passed on it, and have enthusiastically entered upon the work, setting November 15 as the date of issue for the first Beta Gamma edited Commerce Digest.

In other fields Beta Gamma is out to make a real record this year. Getting off to a good start, we had our first professional meeting at the chapter house in early October. Brother Frank Taylor, assistant business manager of the university, talked on purchasing. Freshman commerce students were invited to attend the meeting.

Several days later we made a tour of the local Nehi Bottling Company. The bottling process was interestingly and thoroughly explained by the plant manager. In addition, the manager outlined the accounting system used in the plant and told of the difficulties encountered in wholesaling his product. The manager also gave us bountiful proof that his drinks were as delicious as they looked. Seriously, the chapter profited by this tour and is eagerly looking forward to the next.

The social program, somewhat retarded by the mad rush of "getting into the swing of things," hit full stride on the night of October 21 with a hayride to Lake Murray, followed by a wiener roast on the lake shore. Needless to say, the affair was well attended and thoroughly enjoyed.

The number of rushees present on the hayride indicated that the pledging committee is also hard at work. Beta Gamma makes a practice of waiting until the freshman class has established itself scholastically before rushing freshmen.

Rising to fame on our campus is Evans N. Guyton, president of the University Glee Club. And no wonder, for it was his unselfish and successful work that secured financial support for the club, and started that long dormant organization into fervent activity which can result only in a wide reputation for the club and for the university. Another Deltasig, A. C. Lyles, is secretary-treasurer of the Glee Club, while the club quartet is half Deltasig—Evans Guyton, baritone and Junius Swittenberg, bass.

Not in a spirit of boastfulness, but with pardonable pride Beta Gamma would like it known that at commencement exercises last spring the president of the university named Beta Gamma Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi as one of three, among all the fraternities on the campus, who had done most for the university. Also, Beta Gamma during the past year made a scholastic average .530 better than the all-men average of 2.765. Two seniors, B. I. Lawrence and Sigmund Stoudenmire, made an all "A" average.

And now, striving to equal, yea even surpass, last year's achievement, we leave you until next issue.—A. C. LYLES, JR.

Temple Looking Forward to Convention

SINCE EXTENSIVE PLANS have already been made for the Grand Chapter Congress to be held in Philadelphia next September, this chapter is fairly buzzing with activity. Omega Chapter of Temple University and Beta Nu Chapter of the University of Pennsylvania are combining their efforts to make this Grand Chapter Congress one of the most successful of all. A huge publicity program has been started with a number of the brothers of Omega chapter taking part on the various committees. Gerry White, an alumnus of this chapter, has been made chairman of the entertainment committee. We welcome all brothers to attend the Grand Chapter Congress in Philadelphia in 1939!

The chapter house played quite a big part in the annual Homecoming activities that were held the week-end of October 1. In the competition for the best decorated fraternity house on the campus, we were awarded the second prize and in the competition for floats in the parade we received honorable mention. The day following, Homecoming, a group of Deltasig alumni from Omega Chapter went on a week-end trip to Atlantic City, where it was reported, a good time was had by all.

The plans for the coming semester include a program of activities that we hope will strengthen the bond of brotherhood between Beta Nu and Omega Chapters since our Pennsylvania brothers intend to co-operate with us to the fullest extent. It is the hope of the social committee that their visualization of a week-end party before the end of the semester will be realized and a committee has been appointed to investigate the possibilities of such an event.—WILLIAM G. DEEM

Creighton Moves to Bigger House

BETA THETA CHAPTER opened a new house this year, having obtained a very fine place located just south of the Commerce School, and making it convenient for the boys to get to classes. The house is completely filled with members and pledges. On October 10 the first smoker of the year was held at the new chapter house. Dean Floyd E. Walsh, Dr. John P. Begley, Dr. Lawrence Cusack, Deputy Province Director, and Norbert T. Bausch, faculty adviser, were guests of the evening. Dr. Begley gave the main talk and told the 25 guests present all that Delta Sigma Pi had meant to him during his life. Mr. Bausch gave a short talk about his work as faculty adviser and told how much good a member can get out of the fraternity. The entire affair was a grand success and we are therefore looking forward to a large initiation in November. We have decided to have the initiation on or near Founders' Day so that we can get together with the Omaha Alumni Club and celebrate Delta Sigma Pi's birthday.

On Tuesday, October 11 we invited the pledges to accompany the active members on a tour through the Item-Barmettlar Biscuit Company. This tour proved to be very interesting as we went through the entire plant which has been built only one year. This was our first tour of the year, the second one next week taking us to Swift's Packing Plant. We have decided to make tours of some large manufacturing plant about every other week.

This week we are having our annual Homecoming football game and we are entering a special float for the parade which we hope will win first prize. Our float is patterned after a famous cartoon that appears in a popular magazine. It depicts the picture of three old mountaineers carrying old-time muskets, dressed shabbily, and wearing long black beards. This float is supposed to represent the West Virginians, and the guns will be used to shoot a large Blue Jay, the symbol of Creighton University, and of course the mountaineers are supposed to miss. And thus the Blue Jay with the mountaineers in fast pursuit. We think that we have a unique float this year, and hope that this will indicate that we are doing our part to help our team make a fine showing. Besides this, we have all been sitting together at the past games and really have fought for our team. We can say without a doubt that we Deltasigs are really behind our team and are giving them real support.

Richard Murphy, winner of the Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key, outstanding student of the 1937-38 class, and now a Deltasig alumnus, has just returned from a three months' trip abroad which he received as a graduation present. His travels led him to England, France, Ireland, Germany, and Italy. Brother Murphy spent a few days with us and gave an accurate account of his interesting trip.—WILLIAM PETER

Florida Chapter Plans for Big Year

AS ANOTHER SCHOOL YEAR commenced Beta Eta Chapter of the University of Florida was able to look back on quite a successful one. Among its various activities was the initiation of Mr. Harold P. Colee, President of the Florida State Chamber of Commerce. An honor was bestowed upon us when H. G. Wright, Grand Secretary-Treasurer of Delta Sigma Pi, paid our chapter a visit last April. Brother Wright was entertained at a banquet in his honor at which he gave a very interesting talk on "The Value of Delta Sigma Pi." Also attending were: Howard Gray, R. G. Grassfield, Dean Walter J. Matherly, Dean of the College of Business Administration, and H. B. Dolbear, assistant professor of finance.

At our Homecoming last November an Alumni Association was organized to knit our alumni members closer to the undergraduates of the chapter. O. L. Sands was elected president, and Lyle S. Hiatt, secretary. Plans were made for the Second Annual Alumni Banquet to be held on our next Homecoming if possible. We considered the forming of this association a great forward stride for our chapter.

Besides the initiation of our honorary member, Brother Colee, Mr. Grassfield, Manager of the State Chamber of Commerce, and Mr. R. W. Cole, Secretary of the State Board of Accountancy, were also initiated into the chapter. Two industrial tours were made during the year, the first to Jacksonville, and the second to Tampa. Both cities are leading business centers of the state.

As to the present year our faces are turned forward and our shoulders are to the wheel. We hope to go places just as we hope all you other chapters do. Good luck on a successful coming year.—CECIL T. WILSON

Indiana Sponsors Weekly Luncheons

ALPHA PI CHAPTER is definitely on the way upward to a new high in chapter efficiency. From the dark days of several years ago when the membership of Alpha Pi Chapter had fallen to its all-time low the present organization has traveled far. With a nucleus of ten active members at the beginning of the school year and four co-operating faculty members we have embarked upon a most extensive program. Our fundamental aim or purpose for 1938-39 is chapter growth. All of our activities are therefore planned with that aim always in the foreground.

Naturally we must have more than ten members to become a very active well rounded-out organization. To increase membership a very successful rush smoker was held October 6 with 40 present, including faculty members, members and interested business students. Features that evening were most interesting talks by Acting Dean C. W. Barker, a Deltasig, Brother Ivan Snyder, professor of insurance and a most active Deltasig faculty member, and a local business man, Mr. W. H. Sullivan.

Acting Dean Barker gave us the lowdown on the $525,000 Business Administration building which is to be built within the next year. Incidentally the committee which is arranging with the architect for the details of the new building is composed entirely of Delta Sigma Pi men, Mr. Barker, Prof. E. E. Edwards, faculty adviser, and Dr. J. E. Moffat, all active in Alpha Pi Chapter affairs. Present building facilities were entirely inadequate for the 1600 business students enrolled in the university this semester. Deltasigs everywhere will hear more about this building in the future, since in it is to be incorporated all of the best old and new building ideas—truly it will be a most modern Business Administration building. Delta Sigma Pi activity will parallel the growth of this new, greater business school.

Brother Ivan Snyder gave an excellent talk on, "What Delta Sigma Pi Can Do For You." Plenty of doughnuts and cider concluded a worth while smoker. As a result of the smoker already eight men have been pledged; an attempt is being made to increase this to 15 before the pledge training class begins. With 25 members, watch our smoke.

Already Alpha Pi Chapter has gained worth-while recognition on the Indiana campus by inaugurating a series of weekly business school luncheons. Open to every student in the business school, the luncheons are held every Friday noon in the Union Building on the campus. Speakers for the luncheons are to be drawn from various sources outside of the business school and will include athletic coaches, heads and deans of the various schools and departments on the campus, visiting personnel men, school officials, etc. The first luncheon attended by 45 men was acclaimed a success by all present. Dr. C. L. Lundin, of the history department, spoke on the recent European war crisis.

Perfect co-operation was given to Delta Sigma Pi by not only business school authorities but also by the Indiana Daily Student, school newspaper. The paper devoted space daily to the luncheons and on Friday, the day of the luncheon, an excellent editorial praised the endeavor. Through these weekly luncheons, Delta Sigma Pi is destined to occupy an important place in campus affairs.

With working committees already appointed, the various activities are already taking final form. Professional meetings will begin next week, several social events are being planned for the immediate future, alumni participation is being solicited, and other worth while programs scheduled. The Chapter Efficiency Contest Budget Kit has been drawn up and every member is genuinely enthused about the future of Alpha Pi Chapter.

Robert Waters, past Head Master, is our representative to the Collegiate Chamber of Commerce this year, replacing Head Master Robert E. Schalliol to that body, the ruling tribunal in the business school, composed of representatives from each of the organizations and classes in the school. At a freshman meeting they are sponsoring Brother Waters is to speak on "Scholarship," and Evan Stiers is to give a short talk on Delta Sigma Pi to the first year students. They have published a handbook for business school freshmen which presents all organizations to the students. Delta Sigma Pi shares in this endeavor.

The present membership of Alpha Pi Chapter is as follows: Head Master, Robert E. Schalliol; Senior Warden, Evan Stiers; Junior Warden, William Hauschild; Treasurer, Robert Bottin; Scribe, Billy M. Pennsylvania for 1939 Grand Chapter Congress

GREETINGS, BROTHER DELTASIGS! It's been quite some time since we got together through the medium of THE DELTASIG but the interval was both a busy and enjoyable one at Beta Nu. The highlights of our summer activities were the June formal, the annual Pocono week-end trip, and those pleasant week-ends at the house in Ocean City. We certainly enjoyed every minute of them to say nothing of those impromptu get-togethers and house parties during the past vacation period. But, as is always the case, the summer passed too quickly and now we find ourselves once again cracking textbooks.

But wait! Things may not be so dull after all for here comes Al Wunderle's festivities committee with a list of social activities for the coming term. We start with a dance after the Navy game on October 29, followed by a Thanksgiving Dance on November 26, an Initiation Dance on December 10, a Christmas Party on December 23, and that grand old Beta Nu stand-by, the New Year's Eve Party. This list is further augmented by house parties and professional meetings to be held during the intervals. It looks like a pretty busy semester socially for Beta Nu but there is work to be done too, and lots of it, which brings us around to the preparations for the 1939 Grand Chapter Congress to be held next summer in Philadelphia.

As part host, Beta Nu thoroughly realizes the responsibility it has undertaken and we are determined to help make next year's Grand Chapter Congress one in which we will all be proud to have taken part. We plan to do all we can, as best we can. In the succeeding issues of THE DELTASIG we will devote more space to the Grand Chapter Congress preparations. Since last summer when the preliminary committees were formed, tentative plans have been drawn and are being worked upon. The exact nature of these preparations we are not able to divulge because at this writing things are pretty much in the formative stage, but the work has started and the details we will disclose in future issues of THE DELTASIG.

Beta Nu suffered quite a shock recently when our efficient Head Master, Skip Bowles, assumed his new duties with the firm of Day and Zimmerman. At present Skip is stationed in Erie. We sincerely hope he will be back with us very soon, permanently. His new position renders him inactive to the chapter and although his inspiring guidance will be missed, we wish him all the luck in the world. Skip's homesickness reached the point where he decided to commute between Philadelphia and Erie by plane.

We at Beta Nu extend our very best wishes to every Deltasig for a most profitable and enjoyable school year and remember, we'll be looking for YOU next summer in Philadelphia. Good luck.—RICHARD BOYAJIAN

Southern California Pledges Twenty-Three

FOR SOME TIME Phi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi has tried to produce a chapter newspaper. On October 17, 1938, a newspaper called Phi News was published. It was through the combined efforts of Fred Brown, editor, and his assistants, Bob Wagner and Bob Wood that this first publication was produced. Many copies have been sent to the different chapters of Delta Sigma Pi.

Several of our members have achieved offices of distinction in the University of Southern California. Rod Hansen, the Head Master of this chapter, was elected president of the Interfraternity Council, and vice-president of the Trojan Knights. John Tuttle was appointed manager of Interfraternity Athletics. Rod Hansen and Dwight Curtis were both appointed members of the Senior Council.

During the first five weeks of school our chapter has had two very interesting speakers, at our professional meetings. One was Professor Deane Campbell of the University of Southern California. The other speaker was Mr. Irving Hancock of the Union Oil Company who spoke on the essentials that a young man should have in entering the field of business.

As a result of several weeks of rushing, we have pledged 23 new men. We in the chapter feel that we have the finest pledge class ever to enter this chapter. Bob Wood was elected pledge captain and Bob Wagner was appointed pledge master. The actives have planned a pledge dance to be held on November 10 at the Coconut Grove in the Ambassador Hotel.

On Saturday night, October 8, the College of Commerce held a Barn Dance. This was a very successful dance and was thoroughly enjoyed by all who attended. Phi Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi was well represented. Rod Hansen was chairman of co-ordination for the dance.—DAVID W. WILKINSON

Rider Proud of New House

A NEW SCHOOL TERM is here and it looks like an imitable year for Beta Xi Chapter. When faces were counted it was found that there were 23 brothers living in the new chapter house at 849 W. State Street. The large red-brick house with its arch-styled porch and porte-cochere will easily accommodate 25 members. The entire interior has undergone a general refurnishing. It is a house of which we are all proud and to which we will gladly welcome any brother.

As proud as we are of the new house we have not let our ego overcome us and we started off the year with a meeting at which the following officers were elected: Head Master, Clifford Crane; Senior Warden, Norris Bull; Junior Warden, Frank McNair; Scribe, William Newbury; Treasurer, Richard Lion; Chancellor, Ross Radley, and Historian, Roger Callahan.

According to the new regulations of the college administration we are allowed only three social functions during the year. The following dates were decided upon: formal house party, October 22; initiatory formal, January 28, and a summer formal, August 5.

Frank McNair, who is our representative on the Interfraternity Council, was recently elected Secretary-Treasurer of that organization. Other brothers who are active in student organization are: Ross Radley and Joe Devlin, members of the Student Council. Brother Radley is also President of the Business Administration Club. Brother Crane is President of the Dramatic Guild. Our chapter is well represented on the staff of the Rider College News, the weekly publication of the college. Brother Devlin is Editor-in-Chief, Brother Sutton is News Editor, and Brother Thomas Thorn is Circulation Manager.

The fall sport season found the Deltasigs were busy. Brothers Bull and Devlin played good tennis in the school tournament, each reaching the quarter-finals before being eliminated. Our football team has just been organized and we are preparing to compete in intramural football. Brother Crane is a member of the varsity soccer team which has been very successful in winning their first two games by favorable scores. A bowling team is being organized by Brother Newbury which will compete in the intramural league.

At the present time pledge season is going very well. We have conducted one successful smoker and are anticipating another to be held soon. By the time this material is published we will have given about 30 bids to prospective members, and will have, we hope, a large majority of that number returned with an affirmative reply.

We are glad to report that several of our brothers, who have graduated during the last year, have obtained favorable positions. Following are a few of the fortunate ones and where they are employed: Allan M. Ziegler, Retail Credit, Newark; Paul K. Richard, Efcelite Co., Trenton; Edgar A. Ferguson, U. S. Post Office, Ocean City; Paul Williams, International Business Machines, Endicott, New York; Edward H. Redfield, auditing firm in New Brunswick, and Fred Brown is working in a local auto-parts sales company.—FRANKLIN R. SUTTON

Miami Initiates Sixteen

ALPHA UPSILON INAUGURATED the new semester with a luncheon for members and guests on October 6. Mr. Shaw, editor of Standard Statistics publications, was guest speaker. Speaking of his organization and its work, he elaborated somewhat on business' dependence upon services of the sort he is connected with. He gave the seniors of our chapter a better feeling toward commencement by announcing that a pick-up in business enterprise was certain to come during the spring. All of the faculty members of the School of Business Administration were invited.

October 19 commenced our active rushing. A smoker for 25 men was held. Every man there had a grade average of B or better. We are facing a quandary as to how we are going to eliminate some of them. By November 7 we will be ready to accept congratulations for initiating a group of 16 men we really feel are serious students of business and commerce and yet are not muddled-head grinds.

At one of our recent business meetings Dr. C. H. Sandage was elected our chapter's faculty adviser. Perhaps some of you are using his text on advertising. He is head of our department of marketing here at Miami, and recently was Chief of Transportation and Communications Division, Bureau of Census, and this month has been elected chairman of a national marketing association. Having his support will aid us greatly throughout this coming year.

Plans have been completed for an industrial trip to Hutton's brokerage office in Cincinnati, and another to The Crosley Radio Corporation. Carl Hiller of Hutton's has promised to be our guide through his firm. The future holds a prospect of a motion picture show on business subjects. As last year, it will be open to all those members of our school interested enough to come. Our Head Master Jim Mautz has already selected the films. All we are waiting for is the chapter's approval of tentative dates.—A. A. LEININGER

Beta Lambda Plans Commerce Ball

BETA LAMBDA HAD AN unusually successful 1937-38 season as is attested by her Chapter Efficiency Contest rating. We lacked only a comparatively few points of being tied for first place among all the chapters of Delta Sigma Pi. We really got started on our promising 1938-39 season last spring by electing L. E. Foster, Jr., of Birmingham as Head Master. Seldom has Beta Lambda had a man as resourceful, versatile, and loyal as our astute Foster. His enthusiasm is infectious, and few of us doubt that most of his plans will materialize.

Our chapter this year is sponsoring a series of six addresses by leading Alabama business men to all business administration students. It is our hope that these talks will bring the business students into close contact with the actual business world. Another of our projects will be to give a Commerce Ball with all the brothers dressed as "big shots" of the business world, and to add spice to the occasion we might even smoke cigars. We are already looking forward to hearing Dean Scott and Brother Austin, of the faculty, swap punches in a debate on a subject concerning capitalism. While we are dreaming we might mention that we intend having baseball games with other professional fraternities, steak fries, and week-end parties, award a freshman scholarship cup, make an inspection tour of Birmingham, present Dean Scott with an appreciation key, and present the usual senior scholarship key. Our reception for business freshmen is already behind us.

J. H. Goff, our former chapter adviser, has left the teaching staff in Auburn to take charge of the transportation division of the T.V.A.—HORACE W. WEISSINGER

Ohio State News

STUDIES ARE AGAIN well under way and all other campus activities are in full swing to complete the program of a student at Ohio State. Nu Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi is looking forward with zest to the 1938-39 term. The boys of Nu Chapter started things rolling by joining in Freshman Week activities, greeting old friends and welcoming new students. Most of the time was devoted to rushing. We are deeply appreciative to our rushing chairman, Reino Kahelin, for having organized the most successful and enjoyable rushing program we have ever experienced.

For our first professional meeting, October 6, we had as our speaker Dr. Eugene Van Cleef, chairman of the foreign trade department of our school. Dr. Van Cleef is a noted authority on Europe having served in several advisory capacities for the government. His topic was the present European situation. We of Nu Chapter are proud to call Dr. Van Cleef "brother."

Our first social function of the new term was a "house dance" following the Ohio State-Southern California game on October 8. The spirit of the Deltasigs was not dampened by the defeat of our team and actives, pledges, and alums, who came to town for the game, stomped at the "Victory" ball which was a victory for our social committee.

Nu Chapter is proud to state that she has a real sweetheart. Just before the close of last school year we presented Miss Claire Harmeyer with our sweetheart pin. The presentation was made at a banquet held in honor of our mothers. Miss Harmeyer is assistant to the secretary in the College of Commerce and one of the best known members of the entire O.S.U. staff. She has always been one of our most interested friends.

We extend our hearty congratulations to two of our worthy brothers who graduated last June and have recently become married. They are Richard Wood to LaVerne Kisner on August 20, and James Hamilton to Arlowyn Isabell on September 5. The respective brides also attended Ohio State.

Anyone visiting Nu Chapter will find a healthy looking bunch of fellows and there is a reason for that. Now the person responsible for this condition is one who is seldom seen by our guests but yet makes a lasting impression on them. We believe, as most men do, that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach. The person referred to has won us over in that manner and she is our cook, Mrs. Olla Viney, better known to the fellows as "Cooky." She has cooked for the boys on the campus for 16 years now and knows all the tricks of the trade but is very modest about it. Ordinary foods are prepared in such a manner as to tickle any palate. "Cooky" knows some of the best known alumni of O.S.U. and she is greatly pleased to be one who helps make college life pleasant. We are really fortunate in having some one like "Cooky" to care for us.—LLOYD RAUSCH

Tar Heel Prospects

THE ALPHA LAMBDA Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, which was revived last spring after being dormant for several years, had 15 of its 20 members return to school this fall. All returned with the avowed purpose of putting forth every effort to aid in the growth and advancement of the organization and making its influence felt throughout the campus. The large School of Commerce here offers fertile soil for its certain success, and no trouble at all is anticipated in reaching our quota of new men by initiating a group of the most outstanding students.

Rushing activities, consisting of personal contacts with interested persons, culminated Wednesday evening, October 19, with a smoker held in the Student Union of the university. About 50 invited prospects were given an outline of the history of the local chapter and a résumé of the fraternity as a whole by Brother Rhinehart of Durham, North Carolina, a charter member of Alpha Lambda, past Head Master, and a receiver of a Delta Sigma Pi Scholarship Key. Several of the brothers were called upon for impromptu speeches, giving their views as to the benefits they had derived from the fraternity. The prospects present were given an opportunity to indicate their reaction to the organization by making a statement on the back of their lapel cards. A large percentage of these comments showed that there was a definite interest on the part of those present, and that they were desirous of being pledged.

One of the major activities of the coming year will be to establish an efficient placement bureau to aid students in obtaining jobs. The School of Commerce has made provisions for the printing of personnel blanks to be used by the applicants. This personnel work will be carried on in collaboration with the University placement bureau.

Plans for the year also included tours to nearby industrial centers and sound films showing the various phases of industrial activity. The fraternity is co-operating with E. W. Zimmerman, noted economist in the field of natural resources and professor of economics in the university, in obtaining such films for showing. The School of Commerce has appropriated funds, and a program of speakers is also being planned.

University Day was recently celebrated here at the University of North Carolina, it being the 145th anniversary of the school. Mark Ethridge, general manager of the Louisville Courier-Journal, was the principal speaker. After being introduced by the president of the university, Dr. Frank P. Graham, he delivered an enlightening and inspiring speech on "The South and Its Prospects." In his speech he brought out the dire problems facing the South today, concluding with suggestions as to how the situation might be remedied. This was of particular interest to us Deltasigs, inasmuch as our future depends on our finding and bringing about the correct solution to these problems.—BILL OGBURN

Denver Hits the Trail

A WESTERN AUTUMN opened its doors to a very active chapter of Delta Sigma Pi here at Denver University. Alpha Nu accepted the challenge to new heights in progress which was offered by the 1938 school year. Classes commenced September 19, and every active and alumni member was prepared to hit the trails of promotion and advancement. The spirit of true Denver University Pioneers has showed itself in the enthusiasm and energy which has been driven into chapter activities.

At the outset, the efforts of the entire chapter were rewarded when 18 pledges responded to the sincere friendship which was offered to them. That makes the total active and pledge lists soar to a starting point of 44. With this group of Deltasigs working together, chapter progress has the same motivating power as had the covered wagons which carried the slogan, "Pikes Peak or Bust!"

Activities which have already been passed on the back-trails have consisted of business meetings, professional meetings, and the celebration of the 13th birthday of Alpha Nu Chapter which was founded October 10, 1925. Other trails are being blazed constantly as the members are planning Western parties, hayrides, dances, banquets, and varied pledging activities.

Alpha Nu Chapter has been interested in the experiences of last year's graduate students who have been scouting in the field of business administration. Several of the new alumni have found interests in accountancy, banking, and newspaper work. True to the standards of Delta Sigma Pi, they are passing their experience on to those actives who are about to set out for themselves.

Speaking of alumni, Alpha Nu Chapter is receiving the whole-hearted support of the alumni chapter. The alumni gave a Monte Carlo party which established a closer relationship between new pledges and active members. With the alumni backing the whole chapter, Alpha Nu will reach a high peak in 1939. The whole unit is pulling together to furnish stiff competition for the other chapters of Delta Sigma Pi which have adopted the same policy of advancement.—PAUL BLAGEN

Texas Has Pledge Class of Seven Before Rushing Starts

A PLEDGE class of seven before any rushing activities were started! This is the beginning of what Beta Kappa Chapter of the University of Texas expects to be the most successful year it has ever known. Three of this number, Jack Hatcher, Travis Evans, and Neal Alexander were invited to pledge last spring but did not do so until this fall. Four others, John Kinney, Johnny Goodman, Edward Hauschild, and Donald Wigginton were pledged last spring.

On Saturday, October 15, Beta Kappa Chapter held its semi-annual rushing picnic attended by 20 rushees and 25 members, pledges and alumni. Representing the faculty were Professors Watrous H. Irons and John H. Fredrick. Rushees invited to the picnic were only those business administration students whose grades measure up to the scholastic standard which the chapter demands of its membership. Fifteen were initiated November 10.

Your Texas Chapter did not allow any water to flow under the bridge before starting its fall activities. Besides its regular business meetings it has held its fall back-to-school dinner at which Faculty Adviser W. P. Boyd and Professor James C. Dolley made short welcoming talks. On October 9 four men were pledged after which the members and pledges held a pleasant informal smoker and general bull session. Very entertaining and interesting was an account which Dr. James C. Dolley gave of his unusual deep-sea fishing escapade off the coast of California last summer.

Carroll Brown has been elected Head Master of Beta Kappa Chapter to take the place of Charles Word, Head Master-elect for this year who did not return to school after having received a promotion in the Bell Telephone Company. Elected to fill the office of Treasurer left vacant by Head Master Brown was Donald Richardson.

In the limelight at this season of the year are our football players and brothers, Roy Baines and Wesley Boyer, both varsity letter men playing their last year of football for the University of Texas. Because of his outstanding performance at the center position in previous games, Brother Baines was appointed acting captain by Coach Dana X. Bible for the Longhorns' first Southwest Conference game. Besides being outstanding athletes both Brothers Baines and Boyer are very good students, excelling in the classroom as well as on the gridiron.

Beta Kappa chapter has adopted a program of activities for the remainder of the semester. Besides the regular semi-monthly meeting the program includes dinners, professional meetings with speakers, two industrial tours, and pledging and initiation activities. When the American Bankers' Association meets in Houston, Texas, in November, Beta Kappa hopes to sponsor a talk by a leading eastern banker before the assembled School of Business Administration.—GEORGE ZEISS

De Paul Tours Illinois State Penitentiary

AT 1:30 P.M. ON SATURDAY, October 15, fifteen members of Alpha Omega Chapter and their guests assembled at the Illinois State Penitentiary, at Stateville, Illinois, for the purpose of making a trip through the institution. After registering at the office, we were escorted through the electric eye following a very thorough and complete "shake-down." After being "released" from this part of the office building, we walked across the front grounds to the main entrance of the administration building.

Upon being admitted to the administration building, we were escorted to the second floor and were confronted with a beautiful miniature of the entire grounds and all of its buildings (made by an inmate) whereupon we entered the guard hall. Passing through we noticed the numerous clerical divisions, such as the radio control room, where all the programs for the entire institution originate, the armory, the barber shop, hospital and the visiting rooms.

Following this we entered the mess hall. The first thing to greet the eye was a large sign on the tower in the center of the hall reading, "All you want to eat, but no waste." We were then shown the bakery, general kitchen, and also taken through Cell C, one of the circular cell houses. We were then shown the machine shops, barber training shops, furniture factory, soap factory, bed spring and bed manufacturing section, and the power house. The last building to be visited was the newly-erected assembly hall, in which we learned that the church services take place on Sunday. The altars were made by inmates, even the drawings which were indeed most beautiful. We were then dismissed from the institution, and returned to Chicago much wiser.

The new blood injected into Alpha Omega's new stream hereby issues a warning to all other chapters. Our list of speakers and our list of potential activities are growing ominously threatening the other chapters aspiring to those coveted positions lying at the head of the Chapter Efficiency Contest. Our list of speakers for this semester's smokers includes such luminaries as: Honorable Joseph E. Ragen, warden of the Illinois State Penitentiary at Stateville, Illinois, Reverend William Gorman, Pastor of St. Columbanus Church, Chaplain of the Fourth Degree, Knights of Columbus for the Northern District of Illinois, and Chaplain of the Chicago Fire Department, and Professor Cerny, instructor of accounting and former auditor for the New Deal Administration in Oklahoma.

Six brothers have been elected to the Evening Commerce Council, largest student organization in De Paul University. Alpha Omega's representatives are James Kelly, Frank Tangney, William Hunter, James Donnellan, Edward Stahl, and Jack Terry. Donald MacAllister, Past Head Master, has been re-elected as president of this council. Plans are being formulated for the Alpha Omega Winter Informal Ball.

Commensurate with the re-issuance of the Alpha Omega News, the alumni are planning to attend the Founders' Day celebration which is to be held at Harry's New York CaBARet on November 8.

Watch us, we're moving!—In the right direction.—WILLIAM R. HUNTER

Marquette Class Presidencies Go to Deltasigs

KING SOLOMON ONCE said, "There is nothing new on the face of the earth," but this department disagrees with him. Why? Because as far as we know Delta chapter has never carried the presidencies of all three classes in the College of Business Administration until this autumn. The sophomore class elected Herman Loeb, the junior class chose Henry Pandl and the senior class upheld Jack Christoph for the presidency. All of these offices, incidentally, were won by a large margin. Congratulations, fellows, on your unquestionable victory, and may you hand your positions to other worthy brothers in 1939.

Now that the 26 active brothers have pledged 14 boys within the past few weeks, the brothers are making preparations for the fall initiation and Hell Week. Last year's paddles and "whack boards" are being dusted and shined to play a tune in not too cruel a fashion.

The social season opened with a smoker on October 3 at the house with Dean Pyle as the guest speaker. Sixty guests were present. More smokers will follow as the school year progresses. On Saturday evening, November 12 following the Homecoming game with Michigan State University, a dance at the Plankinton Hotel in the beautiful Lotus Room will be held for the actives and alumni. A large attendance is expected as the entertainment will be well worth the admission asked. The actives hope that the alumni will be there in a large number to talk over past and present experiences.—JAMES LIPPERT

With Deltasigs in Washington

FULL OF SUMMER EXPERIENCES, Deltasigs of Mu Chapter found their way back to the nation's capital in September to begin the 18th year of activity. From Germany and France came Brothers Raish, and Kysela, bicycle-worn and better informed about the streets of "Gay Paree." England, Holland, and France were likewise given the "once over" by Brother Hyland. Brother Mainella attended the University of Paris and came back speaking French like a native. Brothers Wiesenfeld and McCandless drove to Mexico and attended the summer session of the University of Mexico. And in all parts of the United States, brothers of Mu Chapter found summer experiences to better prepare themselves for their chosen field of foreign commerce.

Under the supervision of house manager McClenahan, the chapter house has been completely renovated and redecorated. With new curtains and drapes, new pieces of furniture, woodwork and floors refinished, we are happy to open our house to any Deltasigs who may be traveling through or near Washington. Head Master Gerald F. Stack is buzzing with plans for what appears to be our greatest year. A series of fine professional meetings, an interfraternity dance, a big Founders' Day celebration are some of our immediate plans. Our pledging period is well under way with 12 promising neophytes and several more prospects.

Brother Arthur A. Verner, faculty member of Mu Chapter and professor of economics at the School of Foreign Service of Georgetown University, welcomed the freshmen at a reception and smoker held for new men at the chapter house on September 9. On September 16, Mr. William G. Buchanan, Dean of the School of Business Administration, addressed the first professional meeting of Mu Chapter. For the new men Dean Buchanan outlined the careers of foreign service and of foreign and domestic commerce. These activities are a part of the freshman program sponsored by Mu Chapter. On October 17, Mr. Mircea Victor Babes, First Secretary and Charge d'Affaires of the Roumanian Legation, discussed with Mu Chapter the current European crisis with reference to Roumania.

Rex Wiesenfeld, ex-Scribe and DELTASIG correspondent of Mu Chapter, was stricken with an attack of infantile paralysis upon his return from Mexico in September. Brother Wiesenfeld survived four weeks in an iron lung and we are happy to report that he is now slowly improving. Letters will be appreciated by Rex and may be addressed care of Mu Chapter. Congratulations to Francis X. Van Herpe who has qualified for the varsity golf squad of Georgetown University. In the qualification rounds, Brother Van Herpe turned in a score of 235 for three rounds giving him an average of 78.3. Rumor has it that Thomas Redzevich, who graduated from Georgetown last spring, has turned politician in the vicinity of Connecticut.

Lacking but a few points in last year's Chapter Efficiency Contest, Mu Chapter is out to reach the 100,000 mark this year and carry off the grand prize. Watch our smoke.—WILLIAM H. McCANDLESS, JR.

Chicago Not To Be Outdone

ALPHA PSI CHAPTER is determined to make the present academic year its biggest—fraternally, scholastically, and otherwise. Our new officers for the year are Head Master, Kenneth Skillin, of Oak Park; Senior Warden, Leonard Zedler, of Milwaukee, Wisconsin; Junior Warden, Donald Smucker, of Chicago; Scribe, David Brown, from good old North Carolina; Chancellor, Iron Man Benjamin Hubbard, of Grand Rapids, Michigan; and last, but by no means least, our Master of Ceremonies, Petro Lewis Patras, of Chicago. Brothers Skillin and Hubbard are members of the Student Council of the School of Business, with Brother Hubbard presiding over that body. With an election coming up in October, it appears as if we might have one more member on the council.

The chapter is stronger this year than in many semesters past, with ten full-fledged members attending the first business meeting in October. It has usually been the custom to open the season with only four or five actives. We also welcome a newcomer into our chapter, John Kempster from our Missouri Chapter. Brother Kempster has joined right in with our ambitious group.

The program of professional activities which we have planned for the coming year is an interesting and constructive one. We started out with a smoker on October 12, with Dean William H. Spencer as our leading speaker. Dean Spencer spoke on "Present Trends in Labor Relations," a topic of very great significance at the present time. Dean Spencer is considered to be an authority on the subject of labor relations, having assisted the government in arbitrating labor disputes in connection with the railroads.

Our next smoker looms up as our high spot. We have planned a round-table discussion on the financial outlook for the United States. Participating in this round-table will be three figures prominent in the field of finance. We feel that these round-table discussions are more stimulating and interesting than talks by a single man, as evidenced by the success we enjoyed from this type of smoker last year. We also plan, as part of our program, to visit some of the more interesting points of business activity.

Alpha Psi Chapter, not to be outdone by other chapters, has planned to sponsor several parties and dances during the coming year. We began the year by sponsoring, with the help of the other organizations in the school, an Open House for School of Business students. The students were given the benefits of all the recreational facilities of Ida Noyes Student Clubhouse, including, of course, dancing to Bob Cooney's "orchestra" (plug). At our future dances in the Men's Residence Hall we will also swing out to the varied tempos of the aforementioned outfit (plug). We find that these social activities are very conducive to fraternizing, especially since we do not enjoy the privileges of a house.

Well, this about closes our news for the first issue of THE DELTASIG, except that we must get in a plug for two brothers who have ventured forth into the outside world. Gordon Freese has accepted a position with the Public Administration Service, Lansing, Michigan, while Joseph Osborn (of Tenth Anniversary fame) has gone to live in Marion, Indiana, with his wife and new born son. So, take it away, Graham.—ROBERT J. COONEY

Kappa Active Throughout Summer

THOUGH A NUMBER of the brothers trekked to the seashore and to the mountains, many and varied were Kappa's activities during the summer. Our annual house party on the Fourth of July week-end started things off with fun galore. Pleasant weather, good food, and a crowd of about 50 people made it one of the most talked-of affairs ever held at the Lodge. Such sports as tennis, badminton, softball, and swimming gave everyone ample opportunity to display his skill. Some of those present even managed to sleep, though how they did it is still a mystery.

Rain and muddy roads failed to stop the brothers and their dates as a large crowd splashed their way to the Lodge on July 23. What was supposed to be a watermelon cutting turned out to be a supper with all the watermelon one could eat for dessert. Dancing, ping pong, cards, etc., furnished an evening of entertainment, while the rain continued to play havoc with the roads.

August 6 found us at the Lodge again, this time to devour an old fashioned church supper. Rain again intervened, but not enough to stop the hungry brothers and their dates, who quickly made way with a delicious meal.

All the brothers turned gamblers on August 27 and trusted their luck at the chapter's second annual Monte Carlo Night. No one won or lost any great sum, however, but just a merry scramble of swapping play money took place. A large crowd was present to enjoy the fun.

So successful was our Fourth of July house party that we repeated the affair over the Labor Day week-end. A large crowd turned out and slept even less than they did before. Plenty of activities had been arranged by the Social Committee, including a dance Saturday evening and a ping pong tournament Sunday. Several of the brothers were embarrassed by allowing a pledge to reach the finals.

The last event of the summer, but far from the least, was our annual barbecue on September 17. One of the largest gatherings since the 1936 Grand Chapter Congress was present to enjoy the delicious meat and brunswick stew, accompanied by copious drafts of beer. The affair was held in conjunction with the second anniversary of the founding of Deltasig Lodge.

All these affairs, along with regular Wednesday and Saturday get-togethers, kept the Lodge literally humming with activities during the summer and gave the brothers an opportunity to associate with one another frequently.

Returning to school after a hilarious summer, Kappa Chapter ushered in the fall rushing season with enthusiasm. From the beginning of the term until our first initiation in November, every other week found some social activity on schedule. On September 29, hardly two weeks after school opened, the chapter held its first smoker of the year for the entertainment of commerce students. Approximately 75 Deltasigs and their friends heard Brother Lewis T. Bates, a professor at the Evening College and Agency Organizer of the New York Life Insurance Company, deliver the principal address of the evening. On October 1, the rushees were again entertained, this time with a dance at Deltasig Lodge. A large crowd was on hand to take advantage of the music and partake of the breakfast that was served early in the morning.

Thongs of hungry brothers and their friends trekked to the Lodge Saturday, October 15, to have a part in our first steak fry of the year. During the afternoon, most of the gang demonstrated their ability at football, although several preferred to become eligible for the "Polar Bear" club by taking a swim in the cold Deltasig Lake. After making way with a delicious steak dinner with all the trimmings, everyone found interest in such things as cards, ping pong, chess, and bull sessions, and the remainder of the evening was well occupied.

In keeping with the season, our chapter promoted a Halloween Dance on Saturday night, October 29. One of the largest crowds ever to attend a Kappa function was on hand, several of those present being from out of town. Everyone came garbed in hillbilly costumes and prizes were awarded for some of the best. The Lodge, too, was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Plenty of noise was made as we convened with the spirits.

Climaxing these activities, the chapter held its fall initiation November 5 and 6 at the Georgia Evening College and Robert Fulton Hotel. Eight men received their badges, bringing the total number of Kappa initiates to 308 and our active membership to 46. In conjunction with the formal initiation, a banquet was held, observing the fraternity's 31 years of existence. The main speaker for the Founders' Day celebration was Brother Carlton George, an alumnus, and holder of a prominent position with the American Discount Company. A large crowd filled the meeting room to overflowing.

We are aware that the Chapter Efficiency Contest has begun again and every Kappa man intends to do his share toward getting the necessary points to put us ahead. Although we have won it for six consecutive years, we warn all you other chapters. We're after it again.—FRANK L. CARTER

Start Planning Now to Attend
the
THIRTEENTH
GRAND CHAPTER CONGRESS OF DELTA SIGMA PI

to be held

September 5, 6, 7 and 8, 1939

Hotel Warwick

Philadelphia, Pa.

The New York World's Fair will attract millions of visitors to New York this coming summer and fall, including many members of Delta Sigma Pi. You are urged to arrange your vacation plans so that you can attend the fraternity convention at the same time. The largest attendance in fraternity history is expected. A real hospitable welcome is assured you. Read the article in this issue of the DELTASIG about this important meeting.
