Preparing for the 39th Grand Chapter Congress

William R. Kinsella

As we approach the end of the bien-nium, all eyes turn to Anaheim and the 39th Grand Chapter Congress. California you say, trek all the way out there? It's too far... It's too expensive... It's too much time... I won't know anyone else there... They have earthquakes out there! Any other excuses you can think of not to go? I'm sure that you could come up with a million of them and miss what is shaping up to be the best Congress yet.

But if you really want to go and see your entire Fraternity at work and at play, this is your chance. For those of you who have never been to a Congress, you might be a bit skeptical about all this hype and hoopla. Whether you are an alumni or collegiate Brother, let me offer you some good reasons to attend:

- Professional. We are planning all types of issue awareness sessions on current topics that affect you on your campus and in your daily lives, whether on or off campus, whether in school or out of school. These will be stimulating and thought provoking and certainly not your garden variety professional speaker.

Experience the Magic of Brotherhood

- Networking. Brothers from dozens of industries and professions will be attending. Planning is underway for the Career Fair. This is a golden opportunity to make that professional or personal contact that could make the difference.

- Education. The first session of our 1993 Officer Training School (OTiS) series will be held just before the Congress begins. Our premiere training program just keeps getting better and better.

- Legislative. This is your chapter's opportunity to make its voice heard directly by discussing and voting upon the issues that will shape our Fraternity's future.

- Electoral. Having decided upon the issues, this will also be your opportunity to exercise another privilege of your charter and select the volunteers who will lead us into the future of our fraternity.

- Initiation. Our Fraternity's 25th National Honorary Member will be initiated during this Congress.

- Fund-raising. Chapter merchandise sales are a great way to meet people and influence them to relinquish some of their money.

- Awards. All Fraternity awards for the year will be announced and presented during the Congress. What an honor to be recognized in front of hundreds of your peers!

- Service. Interested in working behind the scenes at Congress? We will once again be soliciting volunteers to help out at Congress, such as serving as Chancellor, Parliamentarian, doorkeeper, etc. And for the first time, interested Brothers can also help with the registration and welcome process.

- Food, fun and party. This is self-explanatory.

There's something at Congress for everyone. Too far? Consider it an adventure away from home. Too expensive? We're very sensitive to that and are doing our very best to keep costs down. But, you'll be hard pressed to find a better value for your Fraternity dollar. But you need to start planning and saving now so you don't get caught short in August. Don't know anyone else at Congress? Unless you stay locked in your room the whole time, by the time you leave you'll definitely know more people than you thought possible. As for the small, occasional temblor, well, we can't promise you one, but just think of it as another part of the adventure.

Come to California this summer. Spend some time with your Brothers from all across the country and across many generations of fraternal experience. Experience the magic!

Best fraternal regards,

39th Grand Chapter Congress Delta Sigma Pi

It's almost time for the 1993 Grand Chapter Congress—your time to “Experience the Magic of Brotherhood.” For the 39th time, Deltasigs will converge on an outstanding location for several days of learning, sharing and just plain fun! In this issue, preliminary convention information is provided as well as an abundance of information about Anaheim—the site of the 39th Grand Chapter Congress. Greater detail about the convention program and registration materials will be included in the Spring, 1993 issue of The DELTASIG as well as in a mass mailing.

Anaheim—the Playground of Southern California—is where we will be this August and the award-winning Anaheim Marriott Hotel will serve as your home. From the orange groves of the turn of the century, Anaheim and surrounding Orange County have grown into a large metropolitan area that serves as home to over 2.6 million people. Today, they serve as host to over 38 million visitors each year.

Why do over 38 million people visit each year? It's simple, they go there to have fun—after all, it's the home of Disneyland and numerous other attractions!

Who would have thought of what was to come in the future when a young entrepreneur named Walt Disney opened his Magic Kingdom, Disneyland, to the public. Tomorrowland, Adventureland, Frontierland and Fantasyland—names of magical parts of Disneyland that kids of all ages have dreamed about and visited. All of this and more await you just two blocks from your convention hotel; a short complimentary trolley ride offered to all registered Marriott guests.

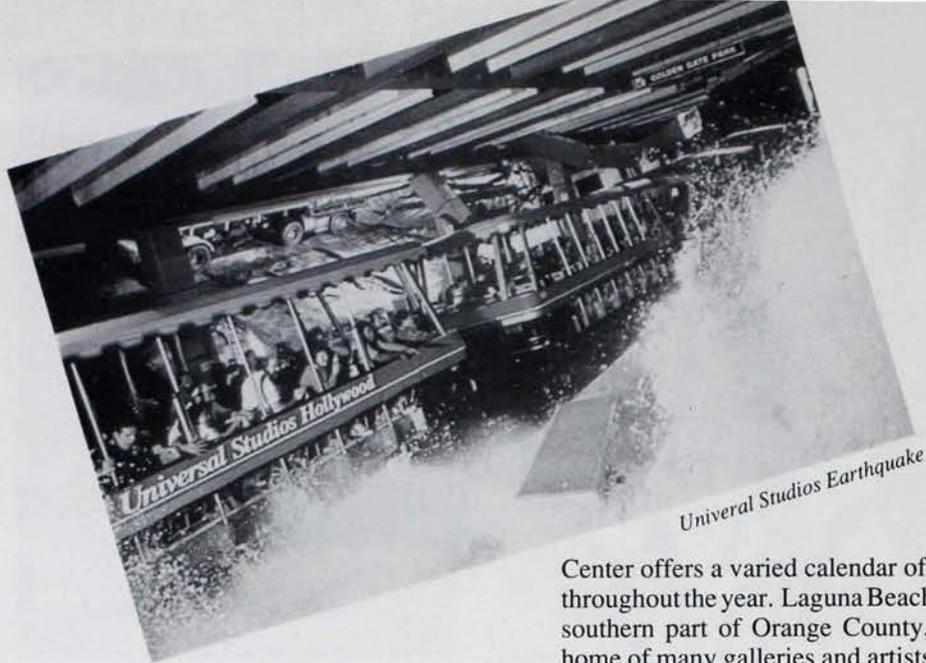

Knott's Berry Farm is another nearby attraction. It's the oldest theme park in Southern California and offers over 150 rides, shows and attractions in five theme areas. Located in nearby Buena Park, Knott's Berry Farm offers fun and excitement for everyone.

Other nearby attractions include: Movieland Wax Museum with over 230 lifelike figures of famous movie stars; Medieval Times with its “dinner tournament” with knights in armor, jousting and feasts; Wild Bill's Western Extravaganza—a country-western theme dinner theater, and many other shops, restaurants and entertainment spots. An interesting and moving place to see is the Crystal Cathedral in nearby Garden Grove.

For sports fans, Anaheim Stadium is the place to be. It's home to the Angels and the Rams and its just two miles away from your convention hotel. Golfers will enjoy the numerous courses including some of the nicest public courses in the USA. You'll also want to catch the next issue for details on our planned golf outing.

Shopping is nearly an art in Orange County. Minutes from your convention hotel is The City Shopping Center with over 100 stores. In nearby Newport Beach is Fashion Island Shopping Center with a dramatic view of the Pacific Ocean at its front door to over 200 shops inside. The crown jewel of the Orange County area is South Coast Plaza and the adjacent Crystal Court and South Coast Plaza Village. These are just some of the many shopping opportunities in the Anaheim area.

Spanning out from Anaheim and Orange County are numerous other attractions of interest to all. The Los Angeles area has numerous attractions. Universal Studios Hollywood offers all the excitement of the movie-making art including stunt shows, backlot visits and special effects. Hollywood, Beverly Hills, Bel Air—all names that conjure up images of the rich and famous — are real towns that await your visit. Visit the famous Chinese Theatre and the Hollywood Bowl, shop on Rodeo Drive and drive the famous Sunset Strip through Beverly Hills and the fabulous mansions of movie and TV stars.

Catalina Island is a magical place to visit — an island 26 miles off the coast accessible by numerous boat lines. San Diego, some two hours south, offers a wealth of attractions including the world-famous San Diego Zoo, Balboa Park, Seaport Village and Old Towne San Diego. Tijuana, Mexico is just a trolley car ride away from downtown San Diego and offers shopping and a wealth of experiences.

For the culturally minded, the surrounding area offers a wealth of activities. The nearby Orange County Performing Arts Center offers a varied calendar of events throughout the year. Laguna Beach, in the southern part of Orange County, is the home of many galleries and artists. During the time of our convention, Laguna Beach has the famous Pageant of the Masters, where famous paintings and sculptures are presented live on stage with orchestra accompaniment — a truly special and unique experience.

We could go on forever about the numerous attractions of Southern California but we also don't want you to forget the Grand Chapter Congress and the special experience that it offers. We will take you through a day-by-day description of the convention in the next issue of The DELTASIG. As much as we try to describe it, you must experience the convention to truly understand and appreciate what it is all about and why many Deltasigs like yourself come back to convention after convention.

Before the convention begins, take advantage of the pre-convention cruise for the complete Deltasig experience. Arrangements have been made with Royal Caribbean Cruise Line to host our pre-convention trip for all Deltasigs on the Viking Serenade for a four-day cruise on the Pacific with stops at Catalina Island and Ensenada. This trip leaves Los Angeles on Friday and returns on Monday, just in time to attend the convention. Call Wagons-lits Travel USA, our official convention travel source, at 800-388-8699 for complete details.

Wagons-lits USA has been chosen as the official travel agency for the 39th Grand Chapter Congress and it will be worthwhile for you to make your travel plans through them. Arrangements have been made for special convention rates on selected air carriers and with Hertz Rent A Car but, in order to obtain these rates, you must use Wagons-lits for your travel plans. Do remember that there is never a fee to the consumer to use the services of a travel agency. Call Wagons-lits for your air, car rental and Marriott room reservations.

The Anaheim Marriott Hotel, one of the finest hotels in Southern California, serves as the headquarters of the convention. With over 1,000 rooms, The Anaheim Marriott offers an award-winning resort facility in the heart of Anaheim. The amenities are numerous and the quality is excellent.

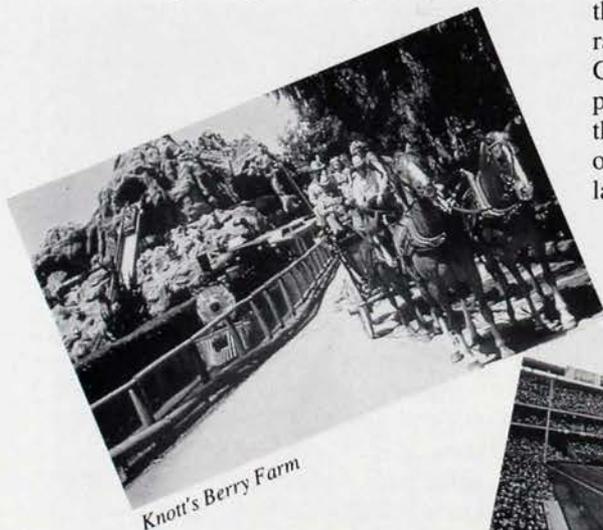

For recreation, the Marriott has for the exclusive use of its registered guests, two pools — one indoor/outdoor and one outdoor, two whirlpools, two saunas, health club and game room.

Dining is an elegant experience at JW's and La Plaza offers multipurpose dining throughout the day and night. Gambits will serve as a gathering spot into the wee hours each night.

There are many other services available to guests of The Anaheim Marriott Hotel including Hertz car rental counter, concierge service, room service, guest laundry, valet service, safe deposit boxes, gift shop, barber and beauty shop, shoeshine and both valet and self-parking.

The Anaheim Marriott Hotel is just 16 miles from the John Wayne/Orange County Airport; 31 miles from Los Angeles International Airport; 20 miles from the Long Beach Airport, and 27 miles from the Ontario Airport. Easy shuttle service is available through several commercial companies and registration confirmation packets will have information on discounted airport shuttle packages. Travel through the John Wayne/Orange County Airport provides the easiest experience and is closest to the hotel.

So, begin to make your travel plans to the convention now. You will not want to miss the experience of Anaheim and the 39th Grand Chapter Congress. You have to be there to Experience the Magic!

ALLEGHENY REGION

DUQUESNE, THETA RHO—Theta Rho Chapter is on the go as we strive to reach our goals. Although our chapter remains small, we have initiated quality Brothers who continue to improve the chapter. The Dean of the School of Business and Administration, Dr. Thomas Murrin, was among those initiated in the spring.

The Brothers have also been busy discovering that Brotherhood is nationwide. In the spring, some of our Brothers were injured in a car accident in South Carolina on the way home from Spring Break. The southern hospitality of the Beta Gamma Chapter of South Carolina shown to the Brothers in the hospital, and their families, touched everyone who waited in Pittsburgh for their recovery. With the help of some of our Brothers who made it to Officer Training Schools during the summer, relations with the Lambda Chapter of the University of Pittsburgh have strengthened and we hope to hold some events together in the future. Enthusiastic Brothers are also planning a road trip to visit with Brothers at Pennsylvania State University.

—Cathy J. Loch

PENN STATE, ALPHA GAMMA—It was an exciting and eventful fall semester for the Brothers of Alpha Gamma Chapter. Several weekends included football tailgates for both alumni and undergraduates. We also invited several professional speakers to address the fraternity, such as economist David Yerger who made a presentation on "International Trade and Globalization." At the end of October, we visited the General Motors production facility and the Great Lakes Brewing Company in Ohio.

Aggressive plans for the spring 1993 semester include our continued participation in the Penn State Dance Marathon which raises money for the Four Diamonds Fund. We hope to increase alumni financial participation and the level of donations from corporate sponsors over our total from last year's efforts. In April, our 2nd Annual Deltasig Parents Weekend will include a night of dinner and dancing followed by a Sunday brunch. This year's annual alumni-undergraduate Rose Dance will celebrate the 70th birthday of the founding of our chapter.

—Marilyn Zaret

WEST LIBERTY, DELTA OMEGA—The Brothers of Delta Omega Chapter would like to thank the Brothers of Beta Pi Chapter at Kent State for inviting us to join in their meeting and the social that followed.

We are raising funds for the chapter through a computer raffle. The computer was donated to us by our Chapter Advisor's computer company, Professional Computer Systems.

We are looking forward to the coming year and hope to increase interaction with other chapters.

—James B. Davis, Jr.

CENTRAL REGION

BALL STATE, EPSILON XI—The Epsilon Xi Chapter has initiated numerous programs that have been an instrumental factor in reaching our goals. One of the successful events that we were involved in raised funds for the American Cancer Society. We have also started an Adopt-A-Highway program which is a continuing service that will make our chapter more recognizable in the community. Additional professional speakers along with an increased number of special events have been vital in increasing professionalism and creating networks for future jobs.

All of these unique events have resulted in excellent participation and enthusiasm in our drive to surpass previous goals.

—Corey Beechboard

BELLARMINE, KAPPA PSI—The Kappa Psi Chapter has been exceptionally busy this year. We recently initiated Bernard F. Thiemann as an Honorary member. In addition, we have channeled some of our energy into helping the Louisville community. We accomplished this by recently completing our annual Adopt-A-Highway service program in addition to holding a dance to benefit Hemophilia victims.

As for our professional activities, we have enjoyed the company of business executives from General Electric, Philip Morris, and successful alumni of the Kappa Psi Chapter. This summer we organized an alumni reunion. We had an exceptional turnout and Deltasigs enjoyed activities such as basketball, volleyball, softball, tennis, and simply visiting. It was an exceptionally pleasant afternoon for all.

—Tim J. Recker

EASTERN ILLINOIS, EPSILON OMEGA—The Brothers of the Epsilon Omega Chapter started the semester with a bang! Our chapter is very proud of our 27 pledges, one of the largest Epsilon Omega classes ever. Early this semester we started several fund-raisers financing our participation in the annual EIU Homecoming events. In an effort to increase recognition on campus, our chapter entered a float in the Homecoming Parade. The Homecoming events proved to be good publicity as well as a lot of fun. In addition to some local tours, we enjoyed our tours of The Central Office and the Queen's Corporation in Indianapolis.

Epsilon Omega Chapter has provided outstanding community service in the Charleston area during the past years, and we continue to do so. Already this year we have participated in a campus-wide blood drive and provided a recycling bin in one of the student lounges.

We ended the year with our annual softball tournament.

INDIANA STATE, DELTA TAU—Delta Tau Chapter has been "Taking Care of Business" as usual. Activities include the Central Regional Conference, Barn Dance 1992, Homecoming and professional events. The professional program included various tours and choice speakers. One valued speaker was Dr. John Moore, President of Indiana State University. Dr. Moore was not only interesting, but provided a one-on-one opportunity for our personal concerns to be answered. The Central Kappa Sigma Chapter visits Maury Boyd & Associates, publishers of The DELTASIG Magazine.

Your Chapter Speaks

Regional Conference was an especially rewarding experience for the four Brothers who attended, and they came back with many quality ideas.

Indiana State University is home of the largest student organized parade in the country, and Delta Tau Chapter shared in the excitement. A full day of activities were organized for welcoming back alumni in full spirit of the October 31 festivities. Thanks to the alumni for a tent full of memories. Barn Dance '92 was successful since the chili was warm enough, the music fast enough and the fire was constantly engulfed by Brothers to ensure that the 30 degree weather did not keep us down.

In conclusion, Delta Tau Chapter would like to welcome nine new Brothers to the chapter.

—Christy Cooksey

INDIANA UNIVERSITY-PURDUE UNIVERSITY, KAPPA SIGMA—We are having a very exciting semester with our professional activities program. We have toured two businesses in Indianapolis, Indiana this semester. The first was a tour of General Motors' Allison Transmission plant. This tour gave us an opportunity to observe some of the procedures, processes, and technology used in the manufacture of high quality vehicle transmissions.

The second tour was at Maury Boyd Publishers. Maury Boyd is the publisher of The DELTASIG of Delta Sigma Pi Magazine. Having our picture taken in front of the Heidelberg Web-16 printing press was a uniquely exciting opportunity.

Among our scheduled speakers are members of the Indiana University School of Business and members of the local business community. One prominent business speaker we have scheduled is Mr. Gerald Paul, co-founder of the Paul Harris retail store chain. Mr. Paul is a guest lecturer on our campus this semester. Having him as a speaker is a great opportunity to learn from a true entrepreneur.

EAST CENTRAL

AKRON, THETA KAPPA—We're striving for another great year of success for the Deltasigs of Theta Kappa Chapter, and to keep tabs on our progress, goals were established early. A few areas of concentration include improving chapter relations, increased faculty involvement, and adding diversity to our professional programs. These goals will be reviewed throughout the year as we strive to improve ourselves as business people, and work hard toward the betterment of our community.

We started the fall semester by sending 12 Brothers to Officer Training School at Ohio State University. While there, excellent ideas were exchanged and the executive board returned with many good plans. Many of them involved ways to improve our pledge program and are either now being implemented, or will follow in the semesters.

Our fall professional tour to Chicago proved an excellent opportunity to see the commercial world and to meet Brothers of Theta Psi Chapter from Indiana University NW. During our Regional Conference we learned they had planned their trip to Chicago during the same weekend as our trip. We enjoyed an excellent weekend and welcomed the opportunity to have them join in the fun. We have plans to continue these relationships through future events, to fulfill our goals for better chapter relations.

Our agenda for the fall included numerous community service projects including Safe Trick-or-Treat, a canned food drive for the homeless, Adopt-A-Highway, and involvement with Habitat for Humanity.

—Raymond G. Liebhart

BOWLING GREEN, THETA PI—The Brothers of Theta Pi Chapter have accomplished many goals. We received the honor of runner-up to the Most Outstanding Chapter in the East Central Region.

Theta Pi Chapter has been involved in many exciting activities. We held a successful and fun Homecoming Tailgate Party of which over 75 Brothers, alumni, and friends attended. We also volunteered for the Bowling Green State University Job Expo, and helped our Regional Conference run smoothly in Sandusky, Ohio. In addition, Deltasigs spent a fun filled day this fall at Cedar Point Amusement Park.

Theta Pi initiated 14 quality pledges in November, and we are looking forward to recruiting during the spring.

—Melissa M. Circle

CINCINNATI, ALPHA THETA—The Alpha Theta Chapter is focusing on current business, political and personal issues that directly affect our members.

Theta Lambda Chapter Brothers gather at their recruiting table at Xavier University Club Day.

Our fall quarter activities helped us become more aware of local business ties to the city government in Cincinnati. They also helped us to decide which presidential candidate to vote for and how to better prepare ourselves for the upcoming interviewing season. David Mann, former city of Cincinnati Councilman, running for Senate in Ohio's 1st Congressional District, talked to us about how city government promotes business activity. We sponsored a presentation and debate between local representatives of the Republican and Democratic parties about the presidential election. Finally, David Latham, a private practice executive placement professional, answered questions concerning job search activities, marketing ourselves and interviewing.

We also participated in the 1st Annual "Run Like Hell" on Halloween to benefit the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. We will soon be volunteering at a local animal shelter and plan to participate in the Adopt-A-Highway cleanup program.

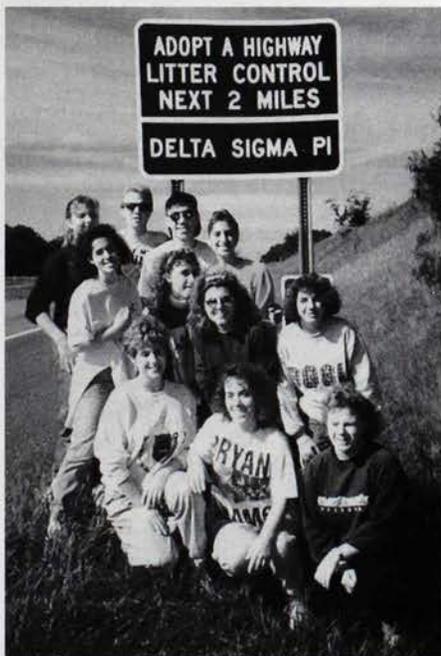

We are proud to announce we have 28 pledges in our fall pledge program and we are excited to have them aboard and are confident that this excitement will carry us all the way to initiation in January.

—Jeremy Frye

DAYTON, EPSILON TAU—This past spring Epsilon Tau Chapter welcomed 12 very enthusiastic initiates into our Brotherhood. This new life within the chapter helped us to successfully finish out the year with our annual Jail-n-Bail for Cancer Research. Months of hard work and enthusiasm paid off when Epsilon Tau Chapter was chosen as The Most Outstanding Chapter in the East Central Region. Eleven Brothers were on hand in Sandusky, Ohio, to receive the award, which served as a great motivation for the fall semester.

Our community service began early with Brothers volunteering to help load trucks for Florida Hurricane Relief. We also planned a Halloween party for patients at a local hospital. Other chapter events include a canoe trip, a tour of The Central Office, an overnight retreat, and a professional trip to Detroit, Michigan and Windsor, Canada. Meanwhile we are all looking forward to the initiation of 19 new Brothers and a great second semester.

—Kate Darcy

Several Brothers from Beta Pi Chapter participate in their community service projects.

Your Chapter Speaks

KENT STATE, BETA PI—Beta Pi Chapter has embraced the new school year with a spirit of change, progress and enthusiasm.

An aggressive recruitment program culminated with 35 individuals participating in a pledging ceremony. A reorganization of our committee structure has led to more productive meetings and greater involvement. Our new "Golden Rose Society" is providing greater incentives for attendance by awarding points for attending events. Brothers earning 1942 points (the year Beta Pi Chapter was founded) are granted membership and are entitled to wear the "Golden Rose" pin.

In addition, we have continued to give to the community by participating in such events as Adopt-A-Highway, Toe-to-Tow Marathon, and canned food drives.

Our professional program is as strong as ever including a variety of speakers as well as tours of Chicago and New York City.

Other activities have included an overnight pledge retreat, theater night, Founders' Day party, and Homecoming events in which two Brothers were on the Homecoming Court.

We are very proud of our accomplishments so far and will continue to strive for excellence.

—Rana Curcio

MIAMI-OHIO, ALPHA UPSILON—With Alpha Upsilon Chapter's recent initiation of 13 members, Deltasigs on Miami University's campus are continually working together to strengthen every aspect of the fraternity.

Our professional activities program has drawn tremendous speakers from NCR, Packard Electric, Andersen Consulting, and Ohio Casualty Insurance.

A private broker from the Chicago Board of Trade also addressed the chapter on our recent 3-day trip. Members toured Merchandise Mart and spoke with various vendors. We also toured the Sear's Tower and visited as many of Chicago's shops, restaurants, and museums as possible.

To help polish the professional side of Deltasig, a speaker was invited to a special dinner where we were instructed on proper etiquette to prepare members for upcoming lunches and dinners with prospective employers. A resume consultant also spoke to our chapter with guidelines and ideas for resumes. Through carpet and t-shirt sales we were able to sponsor a family in the Oxford community's Adopt-A-Family program. Deltasigs at Miami also manage to have fun in social activities including an alumni Homecoming picnic, going to Cincinnati Red's games, and of course the annual professor/Deltasig basketball game.

Alpha Upsilon Chapter is located in Oxford, Ohio, and welcome all chapters to contact us when visiting the area.

—Sarah E. Wolfe

OHIO, ALPHA OMICRON—The Brothers of Alpha Omicron Chapter started off the school year with an eventful fall quarter. We have made a commitment to improve in every aspect of our chapter. The year began with a successful fund-raiser which consisted of distributing envelopes with merchant's coupons to Ohio University students. In October, two Brothers attended the East Central Regional Conference in Sandusky and brought back many ideas to share.

Our professional program brought many exciting speakers. Alan Reidel, Senior Vice President of Cooper Industries, spoke on manufacturing companies diversifying. Interview preparation and job atmosphere was the main focus for Jack Kettler's lecture about packaging oneself for corporate America. Kettler is Senior Vice President of The Midland Mutual Life Insurance Company. We also plan to have the president of Daytimers, Inc., Steve Rowley, speak on "The Road to Success" and Paul Dunphy, a corporate director and management consultant, talk about "The Evolvement of Corporate America."

As always, the community service projects were successful. In September, we answered phones and collected pledges for the WOUB telethon. Delta Sigma Pi received a lot of publicity from this local television station. Our Halloween community service activity was once again at the L'il Rascals Day Care Center. We made crafts, ate food, and performed a Halloween skit. Our work with the Habitat for Humanity program consisted of renovating a home for a needy family.

Social activities for the quarter included a fall date party at Smoke Rise Resort where we enjoyed hayrides, food, and music. Homecoming was a great success. Over 50 alumni came back for the festivities.

—Angeliki P. Lycakis

XAVIER, THETA LAMBDA—Theta Lambda Chapter has started the 1992-93 school year with an outstanding recruiting effort led by Senior Vice President Bill Keehn and the entire membership committee. Our 13 outstanding pledges has everyone in our chapter talking. Their hard work and enthusiasm is very impressive.

Many members of our chapter volunteered time at Cincinnati's Tall Stacks '92, and donated blood at the Hoxworth Blood Drive. Future plans include lending a hand to the recycling effort on campus.

Our professional program has kicked into high gear with a variety of speakers and tours. Bill Kellner of Miller Beer Distribution recently attended as well as professionals from Kappa Phi Chapter Brothers after their visit from Chapter Consultant James E. Leingang.

Shearson-Lehman Brothers. A tour is planned for Seagram's Corporation and Levi Strauss & Company. Oscar Robertson, former NBA great and current President of ORCHEM will also visit our chapter.

Many new ideas were acknowledged by our Brothers that attended the recent Regional Conference in Sandusky, Ohio. Some of the seminar topics were shared extensively with our chapter. This conference has assisted us in achieving the many goals of Theta Lambda Chapter.

—Paul C. St. Pierre

EASTERN REGION

ADELPHI, KAPPA RHO—Kappa Rho Chapter celebrated its 10th anniversary in March, 1992. A party was held on a chartered boat that traveled around Long Island. The guests included many alumni who came from long distances with one Brother traveling from as far away as North Carolina. We were also honored to have Kappa Rho Number One, John Farrell, who started our chapter a decade ago. The award for Eastern Regional Collegian of the Year was also presented to Stacy Myron at the anniversary celebration.

As we begin another great semester, we look forward to working with the seven newly initiated Brothers from last semester, and to continue recruiting new members so that the chapter continues to grow and develop. One aspect of the recruiting plan for the fall involved a boat cruise for prospective members.

We've held several community service and fundraising events. With such an excellent beginning, we hope that the rest of the fall semester will continue to be as great too. Our goal is to be the best at everything we do and keep aiming at being the best chapter possible.

—Jonathan Heller

HURON REGION

FERRIS STATE, DELTA RHO—We are very excited about the new year. The spring is promising us another great pledge class, a great Roseball, and a huge festive bash at Grand Chapter Congress.

Fall and winter terms at Ferris State were very educational and beneficial. We started out with a speaker, Bob Carr, the head purchaser from Masco Industries. He was very interesting and presented a couple of movies. Our largest accomplishment in our professional program was our tour at Dow Chemical in Midland. We enjoyed a free lunch and had a very informative three and a half hour tour around the plant. I believe it changed the way many of us thought about the chemical industry. In February, we are going to have Pete Kent speak to us. He is the current owner of Pete's Cleaners and an alumni Brother. We are looking forward to more speeches and professional events throughout the year.

INDIANA-NORTHWEST, THETA PSI—The Brothers of Theta Psi Chapter are proud to have received the fraternity's "Most Improved Chapter" of the year award. We would like to thank everyone who believed in our chapter and gave us their time and effort, especially Northern Provincial Vice President Frederick C. Lipsey and Huron Regional Director Jeffrey S. Fizer. A very special thanks goes out to one of our very own Brothers, Carla Goetsch, for all of her hard work, determination, and belief in our chapter back in 1989 when she was the only Brother in the Theta Psi Chapter. At Theta Psi Chapter we are proud to be Deltasigs.

—Greg Boswell

INDIANA-PURDUE, IOTA LAMBDA—Iota Lambda Chapter has experienced tremendous growth in the last year. We have more than doubled our size and we are hoping to double again this year. This sudden growth spurt has caused many changes, but our commitment to good communication, organization, and unity has remained as strong as every.

We recently attended our bi-regional in Sandusky, Ohio, and it was an excellent learning experience for all of us who went. As none of us had ever attended a bi-regional, it also gave us the opportunity to see how big Delta Sigma Pi really is. The incredible feeling of unity and the instant friendships we discovered are something none of us will ever forget. Thank you to everyone who helped make it such a great time.

—Wendy L. Bass

VALPARAISO, KAPPA PHI—Our goals this year include promoting Brotherhood within our chapter, increasing our participation inside the College of Business Administration and the university as a whole, promoting our professional nature, and increasing contact with the other area chapters.

Some of our fall events included beginning a CBA recycling program, attending the bi-Regional Conference, entering the winning car in the Homecoming Parade again this year, enjoying a hayride at the local lake, supporting a pledge class of ten, and "adopting" a local family for the holidays.

At the semester break we wish our graduating Brothers well and turn toward planning the spring semester. We will be visiting the Chicago Board of Trade as well as inviting local business members to speak at the university. In addition, we will be celebrating Kappa Phi Chapter's 10th anniversary this spring.

Throughout the year we are striving to improve our current programs and expand our commitment to the Brothers and the university. We look forward to the continuation of an already successful year.

—Krista Fielman

WAYNE STATE, GAMMA THETA—Action-packed are the only two words to describe our chapter's year. To begin with, we have had a dynamic professional program which included Mike Ilitch Jr., whose family owns Little Caesar's, the Detroit Red Wings, and the Detroit Tigers; Norm Wachler, the CEO of Kosins' Clothing; and Roger Cheek, Labor Relations Director for the City of Detroit.

In October, many of our Brothers attend the Huron Regional Conference. They learned about new fraternity policies and procedures and experienced first hand what Brotherhood is all about. In November, Lambda Xi Chapter from Grand Valley State University visited the Detroit area for the weekend. Our chapter sponsored a professional event followed by a Founders' Day party to celebrate the Brotherhood between the two chapters.

Most of our fundraising has included working a concession stand for concerts and Piston games at the Palace of Auburn Hills. In addition, we supported our community by participating in a fund-raiser tele-a-thon, and donated canned goods and clothing to the needy.

Our chapter was named "The Most Outstanding Student Organization" at Wayne State University for the year 1991-92. With our exciting schedule and promising pledges, we see this year as another rewarding year and we plan to become the best organization on campus again.

—Lynn Burley

WESTERN MICHIGAN, EPSILON OMICRON—Nearly two years after reactivation, Epsilon Omicron Chapter is continuing to grow and prosper with a fall pledge class of 22 dedicated pledges. Even with the thrill of so many potential new Brothers, we are striving to keep in contact with our alumni. This year we held a tailgate party at the homecoming football game.

The event was a success and gave us an opportunity to visit with ten of our chapter's alumni.

Throughout the semester we have been rigidly trying to balance our schedule of events. To raise funds, we worked at numerous football games selling concessions and undertook a project of selling discount cards. Our chapter is still diligently keeping a local highway free of litter with the Michigan Adopt-A-Highway program. The Brothers also had a good time bowling to raise funds for Gryphon Place.

Professionally, we've had many speakers over the semester who have discussed financial investments and entrepreneurship among other subjects. In addition, some Brothers went on a tour of the Chicago Board of Trade. Despite all of our hard work, we managed to keep unity strong with such social activities as interfraternity football, a hayride, and square dancing lessons.

—Wanda M. Kirkpatrick

MIDEASTERN REGION

GEORGE MASON, MU TAU—The charter class of the Mu Tau Chapter is having a very exciting and challenging year. As the founding fathers of Mu Tau Chapter, we hope to form valuable and useful precedents that will be used to aid future Brothers in their decisions. These precedents will also ensure that the Brotherhood and integrity of the chapter, which we fought so hard to create, will be maintained throughout the years.

To aid us in this process, our chapter has established an ambitious set of long term goals which we plan to work toward in the coming years. The results of these goals are already becoming evident in many areas. The recruiting drive for our chapter resulted in 12 pledges. Speakers in our professional program for the year include prominent figures such as O. Nicely, CEO of Geico Insurance; P. Keshisnik, Director of Marketing for Pizza Hut; and J. Walls, a partner for Price Waterhouse's D. C. division. Our social program for the year includes activities such as going to the Regional Conference in Philadelphia, a Founders' Day celebration, and visiting Iota Kappa Chapter at James Madison University.

We are very optimistic about the future of our young chapter and are looking forward to the challenges and rewards that lie ahead.

—Gregory S. Jacobson

JAMES MADISON, IOTA KAPPA—"Up-down-up-down-up-down." So creaked a special, fraternity-built see-saw for 168 consecutive hours. The purpose was to raise money for a scholarship fund dedicated to the memory of a recently deceased Brother. The Brothers and pledges of Iota Kappa Chapter teeter-tottered continuously in order to raise funds for the Michael Brown Memorial Scholarship, established in the memory of Michael Matthew Brown who passed away on January 3, 1992, after a long bout with cancer. The event was well received by the community, being the subject of two articles in a local newspaper.

—Don Commers

Your Chapter Speaks

SHEPHERD, EPSILON KAPPA—The Brothers of Epsilon Kappa Chapter have successfully strengthened our recognition on campus by winning the school spirit stick. The spirit stick was won by through our participation in a series of homecoming events. This was the first time in many years a professional organization has overcome the spirit of a social organization.

Other extracurricular and professional activities include a beginning of the semester trip to Brother Barnes's house for crabbing, skiing and other fun activities, a very successful Parents Day Picnic at our fraternity house, a Kings Dominion trip hosted by Gamma Sigma Chapter, which included professional speakers and lots of fun, a Xerox tour, a sweet shop tour, and we sponsored speakers during The Shepherd College Business Week.

The Brothers of Epsilon Kappa Chapter are striving to reach our goals and to continue the success of our chapter. We anticipate sending over half of our Brothers to the 39th Grand Chapter Congress in Anaheim. We are looking forward to seeing you there.

—Todd J. Shriver

NEW ENGLAND REGION

CONNECTICUT, THETA IOTA—The Brothers of Theta Iota Chapter began the fall semester with much enthusiasm and a lot of new ideas. Over the summer, one third of the chapter traveled to Trenton, New Jersey, to attend the Officer Training School, where it was announced that Theta Iota Chapter was awarded Outstanding Chapter of the Year in our Region.

We started of the semester by throwing a party for all the summer birthday babies. The excitement carried over into rush where we recruited 13 ambitious pledges. One half of the chapter and a few spirited pledges attended the Regional Conference in Rhode Island and had a blast. The Theta Iota Chapter Brothers never pass up a road trip. Along with many other social events including a Yale Bowl barbecue and a winter Mexican fiesta, we held a Founders' Day dinner in November. There was an outstanding turnout of alumni Brothers going back as far as the graduating class of 1976 that joined the celebration.

Many Brothers participated in our fundraising events which included a sweater and blanket sale, a loft and poster sale and a candy sale. Along with fund-raisers, we had community service events such as the Red Cross Blood Drive and a visit to St. Mary's Nursing Home to spread holiday cheer. We sponsored five professional speakers including a manager from Kaiser Permanente and a partner from Price Waterhouse.

If you have any invitations to upcoming events be sure to let us know. Theta Iota Chapter wishes continued success to everyone.

—Katherine M. Kendeffy

SIENA, THETA UPSILON—Along with our traditional fundraising activities this year, we tried a new fund-raiser; Balloon Bouquets. We sent letters to all freshmen parents over the summer asking them if they would like to send a bouquet of five balloons to their son/daughter. Over three-quarters of the parents responded positively and with great enthusiasm on what a wonderful idea this was.

Our primary goal was to raise money for the chapter, but also welcome the freshmen and make them feel at home. This activity became an essential and creative part of recruiting. As we delivered the bouquets in groups, we were making our name more well-known across campus as many students inquired what we were doing and for whom. Having the Brothers hand-deliver the balloons gave us the opportunity to inform the freshman of the fraternity, its activities, and our involvement within the community. We hoped to create among the new students an interest in Delta Sigma Pi and possible consideration for pledging.

Experience the Magic of Brotherhood

As simple as sharing a van ride together from the airport and sharing a place at dinner are the roots of two of my special Deltasig friendships. They were simple beginnings indeed but now, twenty years later, the friendships endure and the memories over the intervening years are more special.

For many Deltasigs, the origin of similar lifetime friendships began as simply as mine and at the same type of special event - a Grand Chapter Congress.

To ask someone to describe the Grand Chapter Congress experience is asking the impossible. While our foundational format has not changed dramatically for many years, each convention is different and the individual experience is unique.

To some, the Bylaw legislation and its related debate, amendments and compromise are memorable. To others, the election of volunteer leaders and the nomination process and the campaigns are unforgettable. To nearly all, the grandeur of the Grand Chapter Congress Banquet and Ball is an indelible remembrance.

The most enduring Congress memory that everyone shares is the person to person contact. The convention offers numerous opportunities to meet Deltasigs from all parts of the country and beyond. Younger members are amazed to meet Deltasigs who are old enough to be their parents or grandparents who have a wealth of knowledge and fraternal experiences and a genuine interest in today's collegiate members. Older members of the fraternity have a chance to interact with collegiate members young enough to be their children or grandchildren and, despite their differences of opinion on what constitutes music, truly seem to enjoy seeing the youth of today enjoy the same fraternal experiences that they have for many years.

My personal testimony is simply that I would have done not even a tenth of what I have done for Delta Sigma Pi over these past twenty years were it not for that first Grand Chapter Congress experience. My entire perspective on the fraternity shifted dramatically after those four or five days in New Hampshire. Everyone of the ten Congresses that I have attended has provided innumerable memories and true friendships that make my life richer with each passing year.

So, come to Anaheim to begin or to enhance your personal Deltasig experience. You too can undergo a dramatic shift in your perspective and commitment if you are there and if you let it happen. See you in Anaheim - it will be magical!

Fraternally yours,
