FOCUS ON THE FRATERNITY - NAVIGATING CHANGE

What is Navigating Change? Something you may have heard about already, and will hear a lot more about over the next 12 months. Last fall, the chapters of Delta Sigma Pi approved a new governance structure for Delta Sigma Pi. Since that time, the National Leaders have been working hard to transition into this new structure. This new structure will be fully implemented during the Niagara Falls Grand Chapter Congress (August 15-19, 2001). I would now like to give you an overall idea of what is taking place.

We have defined a Core Transition Group to oversee the process. This Core Transition Group is coordinating and facilitating much of the detailed work on policies, Bylaws and Congress issues. That group includes Past Grand Presidents Randy Hultz and Bill Kinsella; past Congress Chancellors Shawn Reitsma and Robert Tavarez; past Assistant Executive Director Mike Tillar; and current Executive Director Bill Schilling. I am acting as Chair of this Core Transition Group. This core has been the centerpiece of a much larger "transition team" that will include the Provincial Vice Presidents, all other Board members, District Directors, alumni and collegiate chapter leaders and any other brother with an interest.

To ensure all brothers have a chance to know about the transition process, we developed a communication plan. The goal of the communication plan is to keep lines of communication open as we navigate changes with the new governance structure. This plan includes a special newsletter called The Compass. Also, there will be specific sessions at the LEAD Regionals this fall addressing progress of the transition. We have also placed information on Delta Sigma Pi's Web site (www.dspnet.org). The Congress Beacon used to promote Grand Chapter Congress will include updates on the transition too. As you can see, we are trying to communicate frequently and in a variety of formats. Please refer to these items for specific details.

A key part of the transition is the first-ever Provincial Council meetings. These meetings will take place in the four current Provinces in the spring of 2001. The purpose of these meetings is to discuss organization of the new Provinces and Regions, to review legislation and prepare for Grand Chapter Congress. You will need to make sure your chapter is represented at these meetings with a delegate. All brothers are welcome to attend also.

We all understand this process is complex and critical to our future. Your National Leadership Team is working very hard to efficiently and effectively manage this transition process. We welcome any input on process, concerns or issues you may have. I believe this new Governance Structure will ensure Delta Sigma Pi remains strong well into the future. ▲

A Life Rewarded by a Lifetime of Learning

Eduardo Aguirre, Delta Sigma Pi's Career Achievement Award Winner for 2000

Brother Eduardo Aguirre, Louisiana State, accepts his award from Grand President Norm Kromberg at the Houston banquet.

Following his receipt of the Delta Sigma Pi 2000 Career Achievement Award, Eduardo Aguirre said to the audience who had gathered to honor him, "Education is the great equalizer that cuts across gender, race, religion, and national origin."

It is fitting that as Delta Sigma Pi enters a new century, Brother Aguirre voices this conviction, which is born of his own experience. Today education is indeed the tool through which everyone, no matter what their life situation, can better themselves, and ultimately the world around them. As president of the International Private Bank for Bank of America in Houston, Eduardo Aguirre's own story is one of the great American dream fulfilled—one that he sometimes can't believe has come true.

Born in Cuba, he came to the United States at the age of 15 as part of a program called "Pedro Pan," an operation sponsored by Catholic charities. "Pedro Pan" helped bring children who were at risk under the Cuban government to the United States.

Leaving his family behind, young Eduardo arrived in Louisiana, where he was sheltered by a Catholic charity and began high school in New Orleans. "Sometimes, when you're that age, you don't think of the danger or consequences," he says today. After high school, he attended Louisiana State University in Baton Rouge. While in college, he worked for a local bank, then was recruited by another one in Houston, after graduation.

His Delta Sigma Pi Family

It was at Louisiana State that Brother Aguirre became a member of the Beta Zeta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. The membership meant much more to him than simply belonging to a Greek organization on his campus. "My membership grounded me. It gave me the comfort level to expand my ideas, to use my Fraternity brothers as a sounding board on issues I wanted to talk about. I learned how to develop leadership skills in Delta Sigma Pi. More importantly, I had a sense of family with my brothers that was very important to me since I had left my real family and childhood friends behind in Cuba."

Brother Aguirre obtained a master's from ABA's National Commercial Lending Graduate School at the University of Oklahoma. He has also been awarded an Honorary Doctorate Degree at the Universidad Tecnológica de Santiago, D.R.; and Honorary Professorships by Beijing Polytechnic University and by The Central University for Nationalities in Beijing, China.

A Distinguished Career

As president of the Bank of America's International Private Bank, Brother Aguirre oversees locations in Washington, D.C., Miami, Houston, El Paso, San Diego, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Seattle, Vancouver, and Grand Cayman. The Private Bank manages $120 billion in assets and is the largest private bank in North America. Bank of America is the largest bank in the United States. He also chairs the Bank's Central Region Hispanic Business Advisory Council.

During his career, he was appointed by President George Bush to the National Commission for Employment Policy, and by the Supreme Court of Texas to the State Bar as non-attorney director. He serves as trustee and secretary/treasurer of the Texas Bar Foundation, and is on the Boards of the Houston Livestock Show and Rodeo and Texas Children's Hospital, among others. He was also previously honored by the Fraternity as an Outstanding Alumni at the 1997 Congress.

The Opportunities that Education Provides

His passion, that of communicating to others the importance of education and making it accessible to those who otherwise might not know about the opportunities available to them, is one that permeates all areas of his life.

Referring to his speech at the Career Achievement Award banquet, Brother Aguirre says, "The theme that education is the great equalizer is one that resonates throughout America today. People are coming to appreciate the value of education in a way that has never been done before. Education takes you to places you would otherwise never be able to go."

While education is important, Brother Aguirre emphasizes that many people, especially those who would benefit most from the educational process, feel that it is unavailable to them. “It is accessible to everyone, although many people may not think so. Our responsibility is to make people aware of the opportunities available to them.”

During his speech as he accepted the Career Achievement Award, Brother Aguirre emphasized why this mission is so important. “I know that those who are educated will get the best jobs, while many who are not will suffer through unemployment or be forced to scrape by on subsistence wages. Education is what made it all possible for me. And that is why, to this day, I can find no better cause than helping make education available to all our young—and not so young—people.”

With America’s multicultural populations growing rapidly, and with non-traditional age students returning to school, access to education is especially crucial. Brother Aguirre continues, “For those who think education is out of their reach, it’s a matter of shifting their paradigms. They must visualize that a different type of life will be available to them through education. This process begins with counselors, family role models, teachers, coaches, and anyone who can make a difference in someone’s life. The young of America are hungry for heroes and leaders. While many of today’s heroes are visible in the sports world, (and there are many admirable sports leaders), we must make other role models accessible to today’s youth. Through education, we need to make sure that everyone can aspire to be a role model.”

He is proud that his bank and the other organizations he works with are very active in providing education financing through student loan programs sponsored by the government. “The Bank of America is a big supporter of education,” he says. The Bank also contributes to school budgets, from pre-school to higher education.

Viewing Education in a New Light

While he can discuss the subject of education and its accessibility enthusiastically, Brother Aguirre acknowledges that not everyone feels the way that he does. “We have to open the eyes of today’s youth about education,” he continues.

“School is perceived as a chore. While they may view it as a burden, they need to understand it for the great opportunity that it is.” Moreover, he emphasizes, education is for a lifetime. “There is no finish line as far as learning is concerned,” he says. “While you may reach certain benchmarks to recognize that you have completed a particular goal in the educational process, learning continues all of your life.”

And although the education achieved through higher learning is crucial, Brother Aguirre supports non-conventional educational processes as well. “Life is about the transference of knowledge—formal and informal—for a lifetime.”

He was appointed to the Higher Education Task Force of the Education Commission of the United States by Texas Governor George W. Bush. The Task Force looks for ways to make education more accessible, and to make the educational experience more meaningful for everyone. Brother Aguirre helps the Task Force understand the issues faced in meeting this challenge. “I bring the perspective of the real world to the commission,” he says ruefully.

The Opportunity to Give

Brother Aguirre gratefully acknowledges the support of the Bank of America in allowing him to pursue his passion about education. He has been able to devote much time to his work for education advancement with the University of Houston System Board of Regents. Business, and the opportunities he has received through his career, provide him with the chance to give back to others.

“I’ve been blessed by the helping hands of many,” he says, “and many of those are people I will never know. I recognize that without this assistance, I wouldn’t be where I am today. As a banker, I always balance all of my accounts. I guess it strikes me as an ‘incomplete’ not to give back as much I’ve received. I can contribute through my time and talent, and by being accessible to those who need me. I am lucky that my family and the corporation I work for allow me the time to do this—they understand that it is my motivation in life.”

Brother Aguirre’s wife, Tere, is a retired elementary teacher’s aid who worked in special education, and understands her husband’s commitment. “She has done the real work,” he says. “She was on the front lines.” Residing in Houston for the past 24 years, the Aguirre’s have two children. Their son, Eddy, attends the University of Houston, and daughter Tessie is a student at Texas A&M.

“Business, capitalism, free enterprise—whatever you care to call it—business is what built this country,” Brother Aguirre says. “It is what has created our technology-based economy . . . it has allowed our citizens to enjoy a peace and prosperity unparalleled in modern times. Business leadership and education are the core values for Delta Sigma Pi . . . and what better way to ensure the success of business, the success of our way of life, and the success of our democracy, than by our continued support of education.” ▲

The Suttons: A Pillar to the Future

Buzz and Stonie Sutton Join "Centurion Level" with Cumulative Giving of $100,000

One of Charles I. (Buzz) and Ruth (Stonie) Sutton's favorite Fraternity events is Grand Chapter Congress. Buzz has attended 19 and Stonie is close behind with 15, and they plan on attending many more. They are shown here at the 1969 Mackinac Congress.

If you have ever had the opportunity to meet Buzz and Stonie Sutton, you will agree they exemplify the meaning of Delta Sigma Pi. The Suttons graced the Leadership Foundation with a generous stock gift this year, bringing their total giving to more than $100,000. In a recent interview, Buzz and Stonie explained why they choose to give to the Leadership Foundation, what benefits they have received from the Fraternity, and what they see as the future of Delta Sigma Pi.

Charles I. "Buzz" Sutton and Ruth "Stonie" Stonecipher met in Indianapolis, and were married 58 years ago, in May of 1942. Buzz joined the Army almost immediately to serve during WWII. When he was discharged in 1945, they made the move to Arizona for the warmer climate. Stonie was a graduate nurse from the Methodist Hospital in Indianapolis, and she began work at the Veterans Hospital in Phoenix upon their arrival. Buzz enrolled in classes at Arizona State University through Public Law 16 for disabled veterans, and he got involved in Delta Sigma Pi soon into his ASU days.

WHAT DELTA SIGMA PI HAS GIVEN TO THE SUTTONS

The Suttons found life-long friends through ASU's Gamma Omega Chapter. At the time of Buzz's initiation, Gamma Omega was one of the outstanding chapters in the nation (and it still carries a strong tradition). Many of the chapter members were returning veterans, who were non-traditional students with families of their own. Some of their chapter meetings were held at 6:30AM for breakfast, since that was the only time which fit into everyone's schedules. Stonie mentioned, "The spouses even attended some of the chapter meetings, especially if there was an upcoming potluck to plan." Many activities allowed for the chapter members to bring their families. Stonie says, with a twinkle in her eye, "The women each received a 'PhT' from their husbands – 'Pushing Husband Through,' and we loved it."

With Stonie's reinforcement, Buzz took a job with the Arizona Department of Economic Security. The career choice was a good fit and he retired as the Area Director, completing over 25 years of service in 1979. Stonie also had a most successful professional career as an operating room registered nurse. During her 40 years of nursing, she also served with distinction as Secretary of the Arizona State Nurses Association.

The Suttons have always been an integral part in Delta Sigma Pi and the Leadership Foundation. Buzz served as a founding member of the Phoenix-Thunderbird Alumni Chapter and as a Regional Director from 1959-61, and again from 1963-67. From 1967-69, Buzz served as the Director at Large on the Fraternity's National Board of Directors. The Director at Large position was the only Fraternity-wide elected position besides Grand President at the time. He was awarded the Fraternity's highest honor, the Lifetime Achievement Award in 1993.

Through the years, Buzz's mentoring has inspired many Deltasig brothers to take on leadership responsibilities in the Fraternity and the Foundation. Buzz was a Trustee for 20 years for the Educational Foundation, the precursor to the current Leadership Foundation, and he served as a Trustee for six years on the Leadership Foundation Board as the National Fraternity's appointed representative. In 1999, the Board of Trustees recognized Buzz as an Honorary Trustee for his many years of service to the Foundation.

One of the Sutton's favorite events is Grand Chapter Congress. Buzz has attended 19 Congresses, and Stonie is close behind with 15. "And we're planning on attending more!” she says. It was at the 1963 Congress in Bedford, Pennsylvania, where Stonie was initiated into the Pink Poodles. The Pink Poodles was an organization of wives of Fraternity men who held their own meetings and initiations at each Grand Chapter Congress. Stonie never held an office in the Pink Poodles, but always took part in the initiations. The Gamma Omega Chapter initiated Stonie as an honorary brother of the Fraternity on November 21, 1998, soon after Congress legislation made such an initiation possible.

Buzz and Stonie Sutton have long been integral parts of Delta Sigma Pi and the Leadership Foundation. Buzz's Congress ladder is testimony to that!

THE FRATERNITY: WHAT HAS AND HAS NOT CHANGED

In the course of Deltasig history, there have been a few major turning points. Buzz recalls the time when the Fraternity became co-educational: “The change was for the better. We wouldn’t be nearly as strong today without welcoming women in. The national leaders advised us that we needed to be leaders, instead of being dragged kicking and screaming to the wall. Over the years, the Fraternity has grown. Attitudes and cultures have changed. Hazing is also gone, and the Fraternity is better because of it.”

When asked what the future of the Fraternity and the Leadership Foundation looks like to him, Buzz answered, “The commercial world is increasingly technological. But our role is still in human relations. The Fraternity’s LEAD Schools are good. We need to encourage business ethics. The value of our fraternalism will be in human relations.”

Buzz said when he looks at the friends that they have met over the years, he sees successful CEOs – friends – Deltasigs. “You can find them everywhere, from public firms to private commerce. The friendships and associations are retained through the Fraternity. We need to strive to connect to the business world.” Buzz states the biggest benefit of the Fraternity to brothers is its “classical networking” and that “collegians need to take advantage of this great opportunity.”

CHOOSING TO GIVE TO THE LEADERSHIP FOUNDATION

Donating to the Leadership Foundation has always been important to Buzz and Stonie. About the time of Buzz’s initiation, Fraternity members began collecting donations to be used as scholarships for deserving brothers. The Suttons began giving back to the Fraternity and the Educational Foundation almost immediately upon introduction to Delta Sigma Pi. Fifteen years ago, Buzz and Stonie began making annual donations, marking them as loyal investors in the Leadership Foundation.

When asked why they give to the Foundation, Buzz says, “We choose to give money to the Leadership Foundation because we can accomplish something with it.” Their generous stock gift this year will be used to increase scholarships and leadership training for Deltasigs, so brothers can develop the leadership skills that are vital for success after graduation.

Stonie says, “I plan to support Delta Sigma Pi as long as I am able.” Knowing most of their life-long friends have come from the Fraternity, the Suttons feel like they identify with Deltasig, and hope that others will too.

In August of 2000, in special honor of this remarkable Deltasig duo, the Fraternity’s National Executive Committee and the Leadership Foundation Board of Trustees passed a joint resolution (see box) designating the Archives Room at the Central Office as the Buzz and Stonie Sutton Archives Room.

Quoting the Suttons, “We have been fortunate in our investments and are happy to share so the brothers of Delta Sigma Pi will continue to have a positive impact on the business world, and we encourage other Deltasig alumni to do the same.”

Delta Sigma Pi is the fortunate recipient of the positive impact and leadership of Buzz and Stonie Sutton. It is more than fitting, based on their lifelong service and support, that visitors to the Central Office for years to come will be able to ponder our fraternal history in the beautiful room bearing their names! ▲

Miami Men Are Good Sports

Three Alpha Upsilon Brothers help lead Miami-Ohio sports teams to successful seasons!

Rich Allendorf, at 6 feet 10 inches, is the tallest member of the RedHawks basketball team. The team finished sixth in the Mid-American Conference's East Division and ninth overall in the league.

Athletics and business may seem worlds apart, but the two realms possess many similarities. Competition, teamwork, deadlines, a fast-paced environment, and continuous change describe both the sports field and any business environment today.

Three members of the Alpha Upsilon Chapter at Miami University in Oxford, Ohio attest to this similarity. As members of Delta Sigma Pi majoring in business and finance, these men are also members of three diverse athletic teams at the school. Marcus Smith, who graduated in August, played the position of halfback for Miami's football team. Rich Allendorf, a junior, continues as center on the RedHawks basketball team. And Tom Ewers helped Miami's Club Hockey Team capture their first American Collegiate Hockey Association (ACHA) Division II National Championship this year.

Marcus Smith

Marcus Smith is described as "providing great competition" and playing the game with "tremendous attitude" on Miami's RedHawks Web site. The football team finished 7-4 overall in the past season and 6-2 in the Mid-American Conference. Marcus, a marketing major, wanted to attend Miami because of the school's excellent academic reputation. "Although the athletic side was important to me, I knew how important it was to concentrate on academics while I was here," Marcus says.

Brother Smith also places importance on his membership in Delta Sigma Pi. "You always have someone you can depend on in Deltasig," he emphasizes. "The marketing major under the Miami Plan requires a lot of group work, and it was always helpful to have a fellow Deltasig to work with on projects." He says the interview process before he became a member prepared him when he began his own job search before graduation.

Marcus has joined Black & Decker Corporation, a leading manufacturer of electrical products for consumer households, building and construction industries. He has relocated to Phoenix, Arizona to work in sales for their Dewalt division. "I have a chance to go to construction sites and work outdoors, which I'm really looking forward to," he says. He plans to carry his love for football into his professional life by playing arena football.

"Athletics is the best background you can have for a career in business," Marcus says. "You gain practical know-how, you learn how to put aside your ego for the good of the team, and you can perform under pressure. You also learn how to communicate with different types of people, which is so important in the business world." A star player for his high school football team in Bolingbrook, Illinois (near Chicago), Marcus was voted Illinois Player of the Year in 1997 by USA Today, and won numerous titles on his high school football team before coming to Miami. In addition, he played on Miami's basketball team when the RedHawks lost some players to injuries in 1997.

One area in which Marcus has become more confident is in speaking in front of people. "After playing football in front of 40,000 to 60,000 people, I am a lot more confident when I give presentations now," he says with a smile.

Rich Allendorf

Rich Allendorf is the tallest member of the RedHawks basketball team at 6'10. As center, he was thrilled to compete in the Mid-American Conference Tournament Championship in Cleveland, Ohio this year. The RedHawks finished second in the Mid-American Conference's East Division and ninth overall in the league. The team's results for the year were 15-15 overall, which made its tenth consecutive year with a .500 or better record.

Rich has played on the team since he was a freshman, and was part of the excitement as Miami made it to the Sweet 16 last year. Rich has appeared on ESPN three times with the RedHawks, and was awarded the Darrell Hedric Most Improved Player Award at the post-season awards banquet in March. Darrell Hedric is a former Miami University basketball coach and former associate athletic director. Rich was honored to have received the award. "I really worked hard this year on my game, and this award was an acknowledgement of my work," he says proudly.

He also acknowledges the excitement he has felt playing for Miami. "Last year, as a member of the Sweet 16 team, I'll never forget the cheering crowd of 42,000 people in Kentucky, and playing with Wally Szczerbiak (the team's Most Valuable Player). It was a great thrill. I was also glad to see two Miami Deltasigs, Jill R. Hepler and Dacia M. Ludwick, who were also cheerleaders at the game."

Rich also points out that his Deltasig brothers are always behind him at Miami's games. "Deltasigs are great—they're always in the audience to show their support."

Delta Sigma Pi is a major influence in Rich's college life.

Pursuing a double major in accounting and finance, he became a member in his sophomore year. "At that time, my life needed a balance," he says. "I was looking for a way to connect with other students in the Richard T. Farmer School of Business. When I found the recruiting table for Delta Sigma Pi, I realized the Fraternity was exactly what I was looking for. Delta Sigma Pi has had a huge impact on my life, and is the best thing I've ever done."

Rich says he has made great friends within the Fraternity. "When I walk into a classroom and look around, it's great to have my brothers there," he affirms.

As for the impact basketball has made on his life, Rich says, "It's not that different from business. I've learned dedication, discipline, teamwork, and I have time management down to an art. All of this has been an exciting experience, and will be valuable to me in the professional world."

A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, Rich completed an internship this summer with Arthur Andersen, and is looking forward to graduation. "Athletics is one phase of my life. I love basketball, and have been doing it since I was a child. I would be thrilled to incorporate athletics into my life in some way after graduation. But I plan to concentrate on business." Brother Allendorf will no doubt be as dedicated to his business career as he has been to basketball.

Tom Ewers

Miami University's Club Hockey Team became the 1999-2000 ACHA Division II National Champions in March of this year as they defeated Indiana University 3-2 in the championship game. The team was 22-2-4 overall for the season, and went 4-0-1 in the tournament. Tom Ewers, an Alpha Upsilon Chapter member, was a proud member of this victorious team.

Tom, a senior and a three-year team member, described his feelings upon winning the championship. "It's hard to explain—it's a great feeling after such a long season, and a bittersweet victory for us."

Brother Ewers majored in finance and MIS (Management Information Systems). He will work for Arthur Andersen, in Chicago, in the company's Advanced Technology Group after graduation. As co-captain and president of the Club Hockey Team, he says he is well prepared for the career challenge. "I took a lot of pride in my position on the team, and learned leadership skills. This will help me tremendously in the business environment. I'm not afraid to take on new challenges." Tom also hopes to play in the men's hockey league in Chicago when he moves there.

Just as important, however, is his experience as a member of Delta Sigma Pi. "It's been invaluable," he says. "Delta Sigma Pi connected me with people who had the same academic goals that I had. The environment of the Fraternity fosters professionalism. As a member, I was very well prepared to begin job hunting. And our alumni are just as invaluable—they're an excellent base for collegians to draw upon."

Tom is from Bloomington, Minnesota, and says, "I played hockey there for 17 years. You can't help but be exposed to it in Minnesota—there, hockey is regarded in the same way as basketball is in Indiana. I regard it as a lifelong sport, and will play as long as I can."

Delta Sigma Pi is proud to salute

these members of our Fraternity. They exemplify the best in dedicated, hard-working collegians who have proven themselves in many arenas. No doubt these young men will become distinguished alumni who know how to meet challenges and how to succeed—in the business world and beyond. ▲

A Chapter of Excellence

Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Texas-Austin is Reactivated

On May 6, 2000, the Beta Kappa Chapter at the University of Texas in Austin was officially reactivated. In a moving reactivation ceremony, the chapter, which had been operating as the Beta Beta Beta Colony for over a year on the university's campus, became once again a part of Delta Sigma Pi's heritage.

Grand President Norm Kromberg led the Installation Team, which included Mid-American Provincial Vice President Kathy Jahnke; Gulf Western Regional Director Sean O. Herbold; District Director Allison Visconti; Beta Kappa Affiliates Clinton J. Henderson and Kendall L. Wright; Dale M. Clark, Director of Chapter and Expansion Services; Mary Kay Misko, former Leadership Foundation Executive Vice President; and Educational and Leadership Consultants Erica L. Verderico and JoAnne K. Hendricks.

Also in attendance were Southwest Regional Director Cindy Collum, members of Theta Omega-St. Edward's, Lambda Upsilon-St. Mary's, Eta Theta-Angelo State, Delta Epsilon-North Texas, Eta Psi-

Houston, and Dallas and Houston alumni.

Master of Ceremonies Sean Herbold said, "My involvement with the chapter over the past year has given me first hand knowledge and interaction with them, and it is an honor to call them brothers."

The 65 members of the colony were praised by Delta Sigma Pi members, administrators and advisors from the University of Texas, and business professionals. Herbert Miller, Former Assistant Dean to the College of Business, said, "The colony has more than proved its ability to provide a wide range of services to its members, the university, as well as the community around them. I am impressed with what they have done in the past year."

The chapter's record is impressive indeed. They sent a representative to Grand Chapter Congress in Houston, sent a delegation to the LEAD School in Austin, and have had a presence at Houston Alumni Chapter events and meetings since their beginning. Members are actively involved with the local collegiate and alumni chapters.

Strong professional programs included tours, speakers, and attendance at professional development events. The chapter was praised for its careful planning and execution of professional and social events and business meetings. All members have a strong commitment to academics, and many are in the university's Business Honors Program. They have overseen successful fundraising efforts, and actively sought sponsorship in other areas. Community service activities included a canned food drive, the Salvation Army Angel Tree Project, and the Tsu Chi Elderly Home Bingo event.

Brother Visconti affirmed the chapter's hard work and dedication to the ideals of Delta Sigma Pi. "The Beta Beta Beta colony has by far been the most dedicated group I have ever worked with. Their 'can-do' attitude and their focus to obtain the goal of becoming a chapter has been astounding! It has been an honor to work with such a fine group of students."

Beta Kappa's History

The Beta Kappa chapter was chartered at the University of Texas-Austin in 1930, where it operated until mid 1995. In the spring of 1999, a group of highly motivated students created Beta Beta Beta in the hope of re-establishing a presence for Delta Sigma Pi at the University. Today the chapter is known as one of the most active organizations on campus.

About the University of Texas-Austin

The University of Texas was founded in 1883, and sits on 40 acres of land in the state capital of Austin. With an annual enrollment of approximately 49,000 students, 25% of which are enrolled in graduate programs, the university enriches the public through technology, innovation, research, scholarship, teaching, and service. The student body is diverse and made up of top applicants from the United States and 120 other countries. The culture encourages achievement and nurtures excellence, while expanding diversity for its students.

The School of Business Administration was founded in 1922 and awards bachelor's, master's and doctorates in business. In 1955, the school instituted its first executive development programs, and now offers a full array of custom-designed, company-specific, and public programs. The Professional Program in Accounting (PPA) degree, where students can earn both the Bachelor of Business Administration and the Master of Professional Accounting in five years of study, was added to the School's repertoire in 1985.

Delta Sigma Pi is proud to welcome the Beta Kappa Chapter back into our brotherhood. Their dedication to the Fraternity and their commitment to excellence has again found the perfect home at the University of Texas-Austin. ▲

The new charter for Beta Kappa Chapter was presented to the Colony President Sunil Varghese during the installation banquet by Grand President Norman Kromberg.

The new Beta Kappa Chapter gavel is presented to Chancellor Neil Rajan by Provincial Vice President Kathy Jahnke.

LEADERS EVALUATE PROGRESS, MAKE PLANS

Fraternity and Leadership Foundation Hold Joint Meetings in Oxford

An in-depth review of Delta Sigma Pi plans and progress took place in Oxford over the August 10-13 weekend. The Fraternity Executive Committee and the Leadership Foundation Board of Trustees met jointly (and singly) to take a “big picture” look at how Delta Sigma Pi is advancing and how improvements can be made.

Each set of leaders first held their own meetings to address issues of policy and planning that were organization specific. Minutes of these meetings are available on request from the Central Office. Looking at the long-term, however, the most significant event was an all day joint meeting of the Executive Committee, Trustees and staff. Invited guest (and Past Grand President) John Henik added important perspective from the Advisory Symposium held in Chicago last year.

Past Grand President Randy Hultz, currently a member of both Boards, served as facilitator of the productive discussion. Using a system of green-yellow-red cards to indicate go-caution-stop, Brother Hultz was able to quickly and easily aim the group toward areas of clear consensus. Similarly, on issues where consensus was not apparent, further discussion drilled-down to clarify and provide better understanding of differences. Finally, color card “votes” green-lighted a list for priority focus by Delta Sigma Pi and its leadership.

In general terms, the focus hasn’t changed — the Fraternity and Foundation missions were found to be solid benchmarks for brothers to aspire to and to guide the leadership. Renewed attention to the following areas was determined to be of priority:

- Business and Professional - Our commitment to commerce is as strong as ever, but more aggressive effort is needed to secure win-win partnerships on the national and local levels.

- Fraternal Relationships - Partnerships between and among Fraternity and Foundation, staff and volunteers, Deltasigs and their community leaders — are important for us to successfully fulfill our mission.
- Development: People and Dollars - Developing more interest and involvement in Delta Sigma Pi activities will lead to more funding from many sources (individuals, businesses, foundations, etc.).

Lengthy discussion took place on what initiatives and actions were needed to better accomplish our goals in these areas. Examples of agreed-upon broad-based objectives include:

- Improve overall marketing and communication efforts to raise awareness of Delta Sigma Pi.
- Increase Leadership Foundation education in the pledge process and collegiate level.

- Use technology to facilitate accessibility for members and partners.
- Identify, develop and utilize relationships with brothers in key business positions.
- Leadership Foundation staff to orchestrate corporate fundraising program (as one funding source).
- Increase awareness of member benefits to alumni and collegiates.
- Define programs and educational strategies over a longer term.

Following these discussions, each of the groups met individually to further define specific actions to be taken in the coming months. The lists are long, but opportunity for growth abounds. With the proper commitment and involvement, there is no end to what can be accomplished. We need your help to maximize our potential. Volunteer today! ▲

Past Grand President Randy L. Hultz, who currently serves on both the Fraternity and Leadership Foundation Boards, led a full day joint discussion that explored fraternal relationships and the long term direction of Delta Sigma Pi. Leadership Foundation President Joan Maag Nason helped facilitate the meeting as well.

The Delta Sigma Pi LEADERSHIP FOUNDATION

Breaking New Ground

Charitable giving online. Charitable electronic shopping malls. Millionaires at age thirty. Financial statements online. Personal endowment funds. Payroll deductions. Electronic banking. Stock gifts.

The world of charitable giving is changing by the minute, and the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation is breaking new ground, latching onto the roller coaster of new age charity. As an investor, you have been asking more questions about the Leadership Foundation, and you have been taking advantage of alternative giving options, like payroll deductions and stock gifts. We are in a time of great change, and we are inviting you to come along for the ride.

What you'll find in this year's annual report

In this year's Honor Roll of Donors, we are presenting background and statistics for two reasons: education and motivation.

You have asked for more details about our philanthropic efforts, and we're answering your questions in this year's Honor Roll of Donors. We will show you where the money goes, your giving options, and the programs available to join.

As you learn more about the Foundation, it becomes your duty to help in our efforts. The staff and Trustees of the Leadership Foundation cannot pass along the word of the Foundation alone. Spread the word for us!

Joan Maag Nason
Chairman and President
Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation

Taking it further, thanks to you

The success of the Leadership Foundation is attributed to each and every one of the brothers who invested during the fiscal year 1999-2000. Those brothers who have joined the Living Legacy Society, the Grand President's Circle, and contributed into the Patron Circle of Donors are acknowledged in our report. Many heartfelt thanks to all of you from all of your brothers. Our greatest thanks this year go out to Brothers Buzz and Stonie Sutton and Brother Melvin Wolfe for their generous contributions that show their dedication to this Fraternity and what it provides.

Now that your contributions have been received and processed, we have the opportunity to invest those funds to keep the Foundation and Fraternity strong.

We are paying it back out to you in the form of scholarships, grants, awards, and educational programming through the Foundation and Fraternity. The Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation is increasing philanthropic efforts more this year than ever before because of your investment and dedication!

Congratulations on another year well done! Thanks for helping to build the Foundation!

1999-2000 Giving Sources

Who is investing in the Leadership Foundation?

Brothers of all sorts have been investing in the Leadership Foundation. Collegians generally donate to the Foundation at regional and national events and through their chapter. Each semester, the Senior Vice President makes a presentation about the Leadership Foundation. As part of the presentation, collegians are encouraged to make their first or annual donation. Many collegiate and alumni chapters make chapter donations throughout the year.

Alumni are encouraged to continue donating through direct mail and at regional and national events. Appeal letters are sent to annual donors at least two times per year. Many alumni have started taking advantage of automatic charges to a credit or debit card on a monthly, quarterly, or annual basis. More stock gifts were donated by alumni than ever before in 1999-2000.

1999-2000 Number of Gifts per Giving Level

How much are donors investing?

The Leadership Foundation tracks donations by both the number of gifts and the number of donors each year. This graph shows the number of gifts received for 1999-2000. Many donors make more than one donation throughout the year. Therefore, if a donor contributed $25 each quarter during 1999-2000, all four gifts are tracked in the $25-99.99 category.

The Leadership Foundation encourages periodic donations. This continual investment plan is a smart business move. Staff members simply follow your directions and automatically charge your payments as you direct. For automatic contribution options, contact the Leadership Foundation at 513-523-1907.

1999-2000 Programs Funded

What programs are being funded by the Leadership Foundation?

The Leadership Foundation and Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity are two separate entities. The Fraternity applies for grants from the Leadership Foundation on an annual basis. Grants for 1999-2000 to the Fraternity included funding for LEAD Schools and Grand Chapter Congress educational speakers, programming and materials, grants for the Collegian of the Year, Scholarship Keys, and resource materials for the library.

Scholarships and grants are awarded to brothers annually, accounting for more than $20,000 each year. In summers of even-numbered years, Ultimate Academy scholarships for travel and registration fees are awarded. In 1999-2000, over 40 collegians received support for the Academy from the Foundation.

The Leadership Foundation Hard at Work

Recently, Wendy Eilers, Director of Alumni Development, was interviewed by the DELTASIG Magazine regarding the changes that have occurred in the Foundation over the past year, and what can be expected in the future. The following is the text of the interview:

ΔΣΠ: What has been the best part of the last year for the Foundation?

WE: So many good things have happened in the last year for the Foundation. We were the beneficiaries of two major gifts. With these two gifts, we have helped create two new scholarships, each worth more than $1000 annually, and further bolstered the infrastructure of the Foundation. And, of course, I'd have to say that meeting so many of our brothers across the country in my travels has been very rewarding.

“The future of the Fraternity is in the hands of our donors.”

ΔΣΠ: What kinds of questions have people been asking about the Foundation?

WE: I have been asked everything from, “How can I donate to the Foundation?” to, “Where can I get the scholarship application?” We have done our best to answer those questions, and make the answers more readily available through the Web site, regional and national events, collegiate and alumni chapter mailings, Educational and Leadership Consultant visits, and one-on-one conversations.

ΔΣΠ: Who is donating to the Foundation?

WE: We track categories like collegiate brothers, alumni brothers, the Golden Council, the Grand President's Circle, and corporate sponsors. The tricky part is when a donation comes in from someone who is a member of four different groups!

ΔΣΠ: How does someone donate to the Foundation?

WE: Good question! Donors need to choose the National Giving Program that suits their needs. The Foundation currently offers programs like the Living Legacy Society, the Grand President's Circle, the Patron Circle of Donors, Gifts of Securities, and Giving through Endowment.

ΔΣΠ:
WE:

Why do people donate to the Foundation?

Many of our donors see that, because of their donation, a brother in need will receive a scholarship or a travel award to attend a national educational event. Over the years, our loyal donors have helped the Foundation to provide hundreds of Foundation scholarships and thousands of dollars back to the Fraternity for educational programming. This year alone, more than 30 brothers in college received a scholarship for their own academic and professional development. As an additional incentive, brothers receive a tax deduction for donating money for the betterment of the Fraternity, because the Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization.

ΔΣΠ:

Do scholarships really make a difference with tuition being so expensive now?

WE:

I believe we are making a difference in the lives of the recipients of these scholarships and in the lives of the brothers who attend the national events. Imagine not having any money to buy books for the classes you just took out a student loan to attend. Imagine if you had been selected by your chapter to attend an event half way across the country but you had no way to get there? The Foundation helps to make all these opportunities possible. We can all agree that the education about real-world networking and leadership comes back to the brother and the Fraternity ten-fold.

ΔΣΠ:

So what is next for the Foundation?

WE:

The future of the Fraternity is in the hands of our donors. Wouldn't it be great if every chapter had at least one $5,000 scholarship available to one of its members each year? Wouldn't that make recruiting new members interesting? What if by our 100th anniversary every alumni member gave $10? That would be more than a million dollars! What if there were fellowships available at Microsoft, Nike, Dell, the Lilly Foundation, and Fast Company Magazine only for Deltasigs? In the upcoming weeks, we will be revisiting our current practices to determine what will bring us the greatest return on our donors' investment. We're doing what we can to increase our revenues across the board this year, hoping to set the pace for the future.

THE LEADERSHIP FOUNDATION MASTER BUILDERS

This past August, the Trustees of the Leadership Foundation convened at the Central Office for their Annual Meeting. Traveling from literally every part of the country, the Trustees volunteered their time to set policy, make operational decisions and provide guidance to the ongoing activities of the Foundation.

While the Foundation is a 501(c)(3) charitable organization, much of its day-to-day operations mirror those of a for-profit organization. The Trustees worked to approve an annual operations budget, clarify existing policy for the more efficient operation of the organization, set new policy, review staff performance, review investment services regarding endowed funds, and work with the Fraternity Executive Committee to identify areas of opportunity for strategic planning and direction.

Trustees are elected each year, during the Annual meeting, and serve for 2-year terms. Service is voluntary and each Trustee pays his or her own way to Foundation and Fraternity events. This year, the Foundation welcomed a new member of the Board of Trustees, Claire Moomjian (Theta Kappa - University of Akron), who was elected to service this August (see page 13).

The Foundation is extremely thankful and honored for the many years of service to the Foundation and the Fraternity of Brothers Chris Robinett (Alpha Delta - University of Nebraska), Richard "Nick" Steinkrauss (Delta Psi - Suffolk) and James "Jimmy" Pendergrass (Gamma Tau - Southern Mississippi) whose terms were concluded during this past fiscal year. These three brothers now serve as "Honorary Trustees" to the Leadership Foundation and are a continuing source of support, ideas and assistance to the efforts and activities of the organization.

A FOUNDATION TO BUILD UPON

The Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation has developed a toolbox for you filled with different options for investment.

CASH

The Foundation can process any cash, check, or money order presented. All donations above $100 receive a receipt for your tax purposes.

MASTERCARD, VISA, DISCOVER

The Foundation can process Credit or Debit Card donations. Annual, quarterly, monthly, or bi-weekly payments can be coordinated through the Foundation. This paperless method for giving is an excellent way to budget your contributions over an entire year.

ELECTRONIC FUNDS TRANSFER AND PAYROLL DEDUCTIONS

The Foundation can work with your human resource / payroll department to set up an Electronic Funds Transfer (EFT) from your paycheck. For amounts less than a lunch or movie or dinner, members can participate in supporting the work of the Foundation. A $5 contribution over 26 bi-weekly pay periods ($130) establishes you securely in the first giving level. A $25 contribution each bi-weekly pay period over a year is $650! Best of all, the process is paperless and your gift is automatically tracked through your own payroll statement.

DONATING ON THE INTERNET

Beginning this fall, brothers will be able to make on-line donations with the click of the mouse. The Foundation will accept on-line donations through Mastercard, Visa, and Discover.

MATCHING GIFTS

Double your money! Thousands of corporations and organizations match charitable giving efforts by their employees. The Foundation is available to work with you to coordinate matching gift requests. All matching gifts are credited to your individual record. All matching gift organizations are provided receipts for tax purposes and matching gift requirements.

BEQUESTS/WILLS

Join the Living Legacy Society and insure a Foundation and Fraternity legacy of future generations learning and leading the global economy. Making a provision in your will or trust is a simple process and can be executed at the time the will is created or as an addition to an existing document. You also can designate the Foundation as your primary or secondary life insurance beneficiary. Foundation staff is available to provide suggested document language and to answer any questions regarding this giving option.

NEW GIVING LEVELS ANNOUNCED

In order to simplify the recognition process, Trustees of the Leadership Foundation have proposed new giving levels for annual and cumulative giving. But don't worry, all gifts received to date will be transferred to the new structure. For example, if you have donated $500 this year to bring your cumulative giving up to $25,000, you are automatically a member of the Leadership Society on the annual scale and a Benefactor on the cumulative scale.

The Foundation Board of Trustees encourages brothers to push their giving up to a new level this year in order to build the Foundation to new heights.

Cumulative Giving Level Amount

Centurion	$100,000
Fifth Founder	$50,000
Benefactor	$25,000
Cornerstone	$10,000

Annual Giving Level Amount

Trustees' Society	$5,000
Crown & Delta Society	$2,500
1907 Society	$1,000
Leadership Society	$500
Foundation Member	$100

The Collegian of the Year Scholarship Program

In the early 1970's, Delta Sigma Pi embarked upon a program called the Undergraduate of the Year Program, which is today known as the Collegian of the Year Scholarship Program. The National Collegian of the Year represents the most outstanding collegiate member of Delta Sigma Pi, as evidenced by fraternity service, scholarship, extracurricular activities, demonstration of responsibility to self and others, and the representation of conduct according to the highest standards of ethics and integrity.

By a chapter nominee accepting the honor of representing their local chapter, they accept the obligation to forward a completed application to the Regional Director for Regional Collegian of the Year consideration. All chapter candidates are reviewed by a regional committee and one is selected to represent the region. Regional Collegians of the Year are awarded scholarships in the amount of $400, which are made possible from the Clyde Kitchens/Thoben Elrod Endowment Fund and the Sidney A. Sparks Endowment Fund.

The application of each Regional Collegian of the Year is then forwarded to the national Scholastic Development and Awards Committee and the Board of Directors for the selection of the one national award recipient. The National Collegian of the Year is offered a scholarship for graduate school in the amount of $3,000 from the Sidney A. Sparks Endowment Fund, to be used within ten years. In addition, the National Collegian of the Year serves on the Fraternity Board of Directors for a two-year term.

Thanks to...

Brother Melvin Wolfe

On February 2, 1999, Brother Melvin Wolfe (Zeta – Northwestern) passed away, leaving an unexpected gift of $100,000 to the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation. The gift was received with no stipulations, creating the opportunity for the Leadership Foundation to increase the annual scholarship program, a long term goal of the Board of Trustees. At the annual meeting of the Board of Trustees this past August, it was determined that Brother Wolfe's gift would fund the top two annual undergraduate scholarships in the amount of $1250 each. The world is truly a better place because of Brother Wolfe's gift!

Brothers Buzz and Stonie Sutton

Buzz and Stonie Sutton (both Gamma Omega) honored the Leadership Foundation and the Fraternity with a stock gift of over $70,000 in 1999-2000, enabling the Foundation to provide funding for outstanding educational programs for many years to come and to purchase new furniture for the Foundation staff. The Fraternity and Foundation will recognize the Suttons for years to come through the dedication of the Buzz and Stonie Sutton Archives Room at the Central Office.

Brothers Claire and Mark Roberts

Claire Roberts (Delta Omicron - San Francisco State) and Mark Roberts (Gamma Omicron - University of San Francisco) once again proved their long-term support of the Leadership Foundation in 1999-2000. At the 1999 Grand Chapter Congress in Houston, Claire and Mark donated over $5,000 to the Leadership Foundation through an alumni challenge, and their giving increased even more in 2000, as they assisted four students from the San Francisco area to attend the Ultimate Academy in Oxford. Many thanks to Mark and Claire!

Corporate Partnerships build your future workforce

Delta Sigma Pi fosters the study of business in universities and encourages students to learn about the business world. One tradition of Delta Sigma Pi that will outlast the test of time is the ability to offer networking opportunities. In the business world, everyone knows it is about who you know. We encourage our members to take every opportunity to meet with alumni and other collegians to expand their networks.

Corporations have that same opportunity for networking by becoming a Corporate Partner. We encourage corporations to become more active in Deltasig, by providing professional speakers at events, contacting local chapters for recruitment, and opening their charitable contribution budgets to the Leadership Foundation.

Experience Brotherhood and the Excitement of Niagara Falls

What an exciting time for Delta Sigma Pi as we enter a new century! The 43rd Grand Chapter Congress will be held August 15-19, 2001, at the Buffalo Hyatt Regency. The spirit of brotherhood with 1000 Deltasigs amidst the backdrop of magnificent Niagara Falls will inspire all who attend this fun filled extravaganza!

“Navigating Change” is the theme of the Congress, and it is a fitting one as we move forward in our new Fraternity governance structure. At Congress, Delta Sigma Pi will focus on a promising future for all members and potential members, as we pay homage to a distinguished history which helped us become the strong, international brotherhood that we are today.

Join us for this exciting chapter in Delta Sigma Pi’s future. The beauty of Niagara Falls, historical and cultural attractions, nature preserves and botanical gardens, and night life in the famous “Chippewa District” await you at this 43rd Grand Chapter Congress. The Hyatt Regency, in downtown Buffalo, is adjacent to the city’s Theater District as well as the thriving night spots of “the Chippewa.”

You’ll want to be a part of this important event as we guide the future of the Fraternity. Come to the Falls and navigate change for Delta Sigma Pi!
