Your Soda Pop Can Make a Difference

Many families travel far from home and spend several weeks or months away to get treatment for their seriously ill or injured children—a long time to be away or to divide a family. For children facing a serious medical crisis, nothing seems scarier than not having mom and dad close by for love and support. A Ronald McDonald House is that “home-away-from-home” for families so they can stay near their hospitalized child at little or no cost. Ronald McDonald Houses serve more than 8,000 families each day around the world, saving them over $311 million a year in hotel costs.

This year, Delta Sigma Pi is partnering with Ronald McDonald House Charities (RMHC®) for community service. There are 324 Ronald McDonald Houses serving families in 32 countries and regions worldwide. Additionally, there are 176 Ronald McDonald Family Rooms in 22 countries and regions and 48 Ronald McDonald Care Mobiles in 9 countries, bringing healthcare services to areas where it is needed most.

I encourage our chapters and all brothers to hold community service events to benefit RMHC. You can cook a meal for those staying at the house, take part in a weekend cleanup doing yard work, or help with the local house’s wish list by providing food and toys.

All brothers and chapters can also help by collecting pop tabs. On a soda can, the highest density of aluminum is in the tab you lift to open your soda. It is also the cleanest and purest form of aluminum. Simply pop the tab off and collect them for donation. For more information, go to rmhc.org.

The hours volunteered, dollars donated and pop tabs collected will be combined and announced at Grand Chapter Congress in Chicago, home to the International Headquarters of Ronald McDonald House Charities. We will also have a pop tab war in Chicago, start saving now! The total weight from each province will be combined and the winning province will be announced at the closing of Grand Chapter. Visit a local Ronald McDonald House to pick up a pop tab collection box today. Let’s see how many pop tabs we can collect before August 2015!

Fraternally,

Kris McDaniel
National Community Service Chair

Chapter Management Program Recognition

The Chapter Management Program is divided into three achievement levels: Accredited Chapter, Chapter of Recognition and Chapter of Excellence. The CMP allows chapter members, national leaders and staff to evaluate chapter operations and activities. Chapters are required to submit items to the National Fraternity to achieve each level and are expected to reach the Accredited Chapter level, which includes the minimum standards for every collegiate chapter. If all requirements for Accredited Chapter are completed, the chapter should strive to achieve the second level, Chapter of Recognition, and then the third level, Chapter of Excellence.

Congratulations to the 58 chapters that reached Chapter of Excellence, 91 chapters reaching Chapter of Recognition and 123 that earned the Accredited Chapter 2013-2014!

EXCELLENCE

A Chapter of Excellence is a chapter that is operationally sound with a well-rounded program focusing on larger scale events and National Fraternity promotion. To earn Chapter of Excellence, a chapter must achieve the Accredited Chapter tier, the Chapter of Recognition tier and complete the required and optional items for the third tier. These are the top performers in Delta Sigma Pi.

Alumni Chapter Recognition Program

The Alumni Chapter Recognition Program was developed in 2013 to encourage alumni chapters to move beyond basic alumni chapter franchising requirements. The program encourages alumni chapters to promote leadership, enrich programming, enhance communication and receive recognition for their efforts. Chapters can be recognized on three levels: Bronze, Silver, and Gold.

The Bronze level has requirements in three categories: chapter events, communications and supporting the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation. Silver level chapters must complete the Bronze requirements, additional chapter events and communications and fulfill criteria in the Certified Deltasig Leader, collegiate relations and new member categories. Gold chapters will have completed requirements of the Bronze and Silver levels, increased chapter communications, events and CDL training, and submitted a strategic planning and operations report.

Congratulations to the following alumni chapters reaching recognition for 2013-2014!

Overcoming the FEAR

What do Sheryl Sandberg, Bill Gates, and Justin Bieber all have in common? If you guessed wealth and singing ability, you are partially correct! In fact, all three of these illustrious folks have had important mentoring relationships that have been instrumental for their careers. Not all of us are fortunate enough to call the likes of former U.S. Treasury Secretary Larry Summers, Warren Buffet and Usher our mentor, yet all can enjoy greater career satisfaction and success by becoming involved in mentoring.

So, if mentoring is so great, why doesn't everyone do it? In twenty years of researching and working with clients, I noticed that people don't get involved in mentoring for three main reasons. Let's take a look at the reasons and some possible solutions.

Reasons Why People Avoid Mentoring

- 1) Lack of understanding about the benefits of mentoring and just too busy anyway.
- 2) Uncertain about how to get involved in a mentoring relationship.
- 3) Fear about making the mentoring relationship connection.

Benefits of Mentoring

People who have mentors make more money, get promoted more rapidly, and enjoy greater job and career satisfaction.¹ However, the benefits of mentoring do not just accrue to protégés, but also mentors as well. Recent research by Catalyst, a trusted resource for research, information, and advice about women at work, found that people who serve as mentors earn more money than those who do not, they increase their social capital, and gain a sense of career rejuvenation and joy from the relationship. Of course, like anything, caveats apply as mentoring is an interpersonal relationship and like most relationships some are better than others and they morph as time goes on. In terms of the time crunch, my best advice is to integrate mentoring activities into what you are already doing. Meet a mentor/protégé for a walk, a meal, a round of golf, or a man-pedi. In other words, figure out some shared appropriate interests and do what you were going to do anyway. Research has found that 15 minutes of regular interaction a week, even via email, is enough to keep a mentoring relationship robust once the mentor and protégé have established a connection.

¹ See <http://ellenensher.com/suggested-reading/> for links to academic articles that support these findings.

How to Get Involved in Mentoring

Recently I did a Tedx talk on how to get a mentor and expanded on these ideas in subsequent blog posts. In sum, there are three steps to connecting with a mentor:

- 1) Know thyself. Figure out what your strengths and growing edges are. Who are you and what do you want to obtain from a mentoring relationship? See my blog "How to Get a Mentor in 3 Steps in 3 Weeks: First, Know Thyself" for expanded discussions of these ideas.
- 2) Reflect on who to reach out to. If you are looking for a mentor, figure out the go-to people in your area and find people who might be able to provide you with a warm introduction. Use LinkedIn to see who in your network can connect you. See "How to Get a Mentor in 3 Steps in 3 Weeks: Step 2: Reflect on Who to Reach Out To" for an expanded discussion of these ideas.
- 3) Connect with Courage. In other words, develop a ritual that is personal to you that helps you to overcome fear in connecting. I will discuss this in greater detail below.

Overcoming the Fear of Connecting Into Mentoring Relationships

How do you overcome the fear of reaching out and making the connection? Typically I have found that almost everyone has some fear of connecting and this is true for bright, young undergraduates as well as successful executives. The reasons for the fear might be a little different, but it is real. One way I found that is helpful, which is well supported by psychological research, is for individuals to develop their own courage ritual. So, for some people, it is a song they sing or listen to on their way to an important meeting or networking event where opportunities to make a mentoring connection abound. For others, the courage ritual might be a phrase or quote they look to and read before reaching out to others. Some people have a spiritual practice, a form of prayer, or meditation. Still others might even have a physical routine such as a power pose, which has shown to increase confidence level. Recently, I asked professionals and students to share their courage rituals:

of Mentoring

By Ellen A. Ensher, Loyola Marymount

- Sing “Roar” by Katy Perry. “I got the eye of the tiger, the fighter, dancing through the fire.”
- Listen to “I Can” by Nas. “I know I can be what I want to be, If I work hard at it, I’ll be where I want to be.”
- Call Mom.
- Deep focused breathing with five breaths in and five breaths out.
- I say a prayer and visualize victory.
- I repeat this to myself, “Courage is being scared to death...and saddling up anyway.” By John Wayne.
- I recite movie lines to myself like, “I am the King of the World!” and “You talking to me? You Talking to Me?”
- I clap my hands and say this, “I can do it. There’s nothing too hard for me. Just get up and do it.”

There are many benefits to networking, and as a benefit of Delta Sigma Pi, all brothers should reach out to members to provide mentoring in one way or another.

Investing in Brotherhood Pays Out for Fuss

By Richard Verthein, Wisconsin-Milwaukee

While not a household name, Dan Fuss, Marquette, has been called the "Warren Buffet of Bonds" in the investing world. He is one of the most respected fixed-income investors the financial services industry has had in the past five decades. While at Marquette, Brother Fuss, received his BS and MBA and initiated into Delta Chapter as #708 in 1953. Dan's father was Delta #33. His education, hard work and determination to do the right things for his clients have been a true testament to what it means to be a Deltasig. He has focused and made a point to maintain the same values Delta Sigma Pi stands for and it has ultimately complemented his successful career.

Brother Fuss is currently the vice chairman of Loomis, Sayles and Company, a world class investment firm that manages over $200 billion in assets. He specifically manages the firm's flagship Loomis Sayles Bond Fund – which won the 2009 Morningstar Fund Manager of the Year award in his category. He also manages the Loomis Sayles Investment Grade Bond and additional income funds. In total, Dan specifically manages over $50 billion worth of investments. His peers honored him in 2012 with the Institutional Investor Money Management Lifetime Achievement Award and the Lipper Excellence in Investing Award. In 2000, he was named to the Fixed Income Analysts Society's Hall of Fame in recognition of his contributions and lifetime achievements toward the advancement of the analysis of fixed income securities and portfolios. He is also a major contributor and commentator on a variety of media outlets, having appeared on Bloomberg News, CNBC, Reuters, as well as a variety of newspapers and internet outlets.

Despite being incredibly successful throughout his more than 55 years of experience, he is grounded, humble and doesn't forget his roots. I've had the pleasure of hearing him speak twice at the local CFA Society of Milwaukee luncheon, where he makes a point to come back and meet with local investors, investment managers, and students to give an update on the market. He was also thrilled to have been previously nominated for the Delta Sigma Pi Career Achievement Award, saying that Delta Sigma Pi was instrumental in his ability to build relationships, enhance his education and support his success that he has achieved throughout his career.▲

Brothers and Friends,

You will likely read this as the changing leaves declare fall to be in full swing. On campuses, it's time for football, homecoming, LEAD Schools and initiations. At home, you may be going on community hayrides, attending alumni gatherings or simply enjoying jacket weather.

It is so much fun for me to see firsthand the generosity of brothers and friends, and to see the good manifestations of your spirit of service. Like the fall leaves, this generosity takes a variety of colors and shapes. Many of you have joined the Leadership Foundation's newest giving circle, the Deltasig For Life Donor program, which facilitates easy monthly or quarterly giving by credit/debit card. Others have donated to one or more of the Foundation's growing list of scholarship and grant funds. Some brothers have stepped forward to start new endowments this year. A group of very forward-looking Deltasigs have joined the Living Legacy Society by including the Foundation in their estate plans. Each form of generosity is important to help accomplish our mission. We honor each of these gifts in the pages following this letter.

Gifts to the Foundation make many things possible. Deltasigs attending LEAD Schools and LEAD Provincial Conferences benefit from great professional programming and opportunities to interact with alumni, some of whom end up as mentors or even employers for these brothers. Scholarships are another significant outcome of your gifts. The Foundation will write nearly 100 scholarship checks this year totaling more than $85,000. Applications for these scholarships were up nearly 20 percent year-over-year and the Foundation's email and mail boxes get many thank you notes from brothers who benefit very directly from your gifts. I pass those collective 'thank you's' to you here. Your dollars make a real difference!

I am especially excited to tell you that this past year, the Foundation's assets surpassed the $2 million mark for the first time ever. While there are good markets to thank for some of this, the base of all that investment growth comes from your continued generosity.

I want to say thanks also to the volunteers and professionals that work very hard on the Foundation's mission. Being good stewards of your gifts is an undertaking they take seriously as manifested by the time and talent they commit. They also challenge the Foundation to change with the times and to find new ways to tell our Fraternity's great story.

Continuing your engagement with Delta Sigma Pi can take many forms...time, talent and treasure. Treasure is a unique option in that it represents an easy way to convert what you do well professionally into opportunities for other Deltasigs to learn, grow and, in turn, return the gesture of help and service. Whether you call it duty, giving back, paying it forward--or it just makes you feel good--thank you for continued support!

I am honored to serve with all of you.

Fraternally,

Brian P. Krippner, Truman State

Grand President's Circle Joins the Deltasis For Life Donor Program

The Grand President's Circle was initially created in 1995 to recognize collegiate leaders and encourage a lifetime of giving and service to our Fraternity. Prior to July 2014, the Grand President's Circle was exclusively open to collegiate brothers attending a provincial or national leadership event. To remain active in Grand President's Circle, the member needed to fulfill his/her annual giving commitment.

Today, Grand President's Circle is the collegiate giving level of the Deltasis For Life Donor program. DFLD program is a meaningful and tangible way for members to exhibit their lifelong commitment to Delta Sigma Pi by pledging to support the Leadership Foundation's annual fund through monthly or quarterly automatic credit/debit card gifts. Collegiate members and pledges can join this special program as a Grand President's Circle Funder by pledging to give as little as $20 per year to the Leadership Foundation while in college and at least $120 per year once graduated. Grand President's Circle Funders are also eligible for exclusive scholarships. Join today at dspnet.org/JoinDFLD.

A listing of active Grand President's Circle members as of June 30, 2014 is available on dspnet.org. All future recognition of Grand President's Circle members will be achieved through the DFLD program and the annual Honor Roll of Donors published in the fall issue of The DELTASIG magazine. ▲

More than $8,000 was donated to the Leadership Foundation through the Buck$ 4 Brotherhood program in 2013. One hundred and two collegiate and alumni chapters were recognized as Legacy Chapters for donating at least $1 per each active member or a minimum of $50 per each alumni chapter. The 2014 campaign is underway and concludes December 1. Has your chapter renewed or become a Legacy Chapter for 2014—there's still time! We will soon find out if Western Province will win the title for highest participation for the fourth year in a row!

Double Your $!

Over 9,000 corporations and businesses in the United States recognize the need and provide support for scholarship and education through individual matching gift programs. Gifts are often matched at a dollar-for-dollar rate; however, some companies offer programs which double, triple and in some cases quadruple gifts. Check with your company's human resources department for more information and contact the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation to get your matching gifts underway.

Will your company match your gift to the Delta Sigma Pi Leadership Foundation? These companies did in 2013-2014...
