History of Willimantic (Windham County)

Willimantic is an Indian word meaning, "land of swift running waters". The Indians named it aptly, for the Willimantic River drops a distance of 91 feet as it courses over a series of falls between where it enters the city on the west, and where it empties into the Natchaug to form the Shetucket.

The first settlers werequick to recognize the utility of the Willimantic Falls, but slow to homestead there. When sixteen gentlemen from Norwich acquired the Indian title to the territory that became the town of Windham, they laid out three villages in the "new plantation in the wilderness ten miles above Norwich". Beginning in 1688, settlers took up lots in Hither-Place (Windham Center) and Ponde-Place (later, Mansfield Center) which was then part of Windham. But plots laid out at "the valley of Willimantuck" were not settled.

In 1707, Thomas Hartshorn became the first settler in Willimantic Falls when he built a sawmill and house there. Johnathan Babcock was the second in 1709.

By 1772, an iron works and forge was operating near the first bridge (built in 1722), thus being called the Iron Works Bridge. These works continued in operation a number of years, but were never very prosperous. (They were later washed away in one of the frequent floods.)

Perry O. Richmond introduced cotton manufacturing to Willimantic when in September 1822, he bought land and built on the river.

From 1833, the fledgling borough grew at a rapid pace. Streets and roads were improved, kerosene lamps added along main street.

In 1849, the railroad came through. The New London Northern came in 1849, the Providence, Hartford and Fishkill in 1853, and the Boston, Hartford and Erie in 1872 and the Air Line through to Middletown in 1877. Willimantic became an important railroad center and the community grew and florished.

By early 1890's it seemed wise to the leaders of Willimantic for the borough to become a city. In December 1893, Willimantic was incorporated as a city and divided into four wards. The early city government consisted of two boards—a board of aldermen of four, and the board of councilmen of eight. There was also a councilman at large, who presided over the board of coucilmen; a mayor and city clerk, and a treasurer. In 1896, a town building was constructed and is still used for town meetings and city administration.

Today, Windham County has more than 100 industries and churches representing many faiths.

History of The University of Connecticut

From a student body of 12 young men and a single frame building that once housed Civil War orphans, the Storrs Agricultural School of 1881 has developed into a dynamic New England center of higher education—The University of Connecticut.

A year earlier, the school was merely an idea. At a farmer's convention in New Britain, the Storrs Brothers, through E. H. Hyde, vice president of the Connecticut Board of Agriculture, established a school of agriculture in the state, and offered 170 acres and $5,000 to establish a school of agriculture.

A farmers' committee was appointed and soon reported favorable on the action to legislative commission. By April, 1881, the General Assembly had accepted the offer of the Storrs Brothers and established the Storrs Agricultural School.

The first classes started October 6, and students followed a schedule calling for rising at 6:30 a.m. daily, breakfast at 7 a.m., prayers immediately following breakfast, and lectures and recitations from 8 a.m. until noon.

From after dinner until dark the young men worked in the fields, cleared stones, drained swamps, cut wood, built andice house and performed chores required on the farm.

Students paid $25.00 a year, plus $2.50 a week for room and board.

Despite this success of the curriculum and the graduates, the school became the center of controversy. The Agricultural School Commission of 1885 reviewed the entire history and philosophy of agricultural education in Connecticut, beginning with the Federal Land Act of 1862.

This act provided funds for each state providing, "without exception, studies for all including other scientific and classical studies, and including military tactics."

In 1893, the General Assembly transferred the funds as well as the title and purpose of the Land Grant Act from Yale to the Storrs Agricultural School--at the same time, changing the name to the Storrs Agricultural College.

For the first time, women were admitted. The college continued to grow and expand and strove to be a state college. Finally, in 1899, the General Assembly changed the name to the Connecticut Agricultural College.

Thirty-four years later, the name was changed to the Connecticut State College. And in 1939, by act of the Legislature, it became the University of Connecticut. The university assumed the role of the state university as well as the Land Grant College, dramatically expanding its curriculum, its research activities, and setting forth on the program of expansion and tightening of academic standards which have resulted in making it one of the outstanding universities in the country.

Today, English Literature accounts for more than 50 percent of more than 70 courses listed by the Department of English. During the decade ending in 1962, the university student population had soared by 65 percent.

Also in 1962, Dr. Homer Daniels Babbidge, Jr. became the university's eighth president. A product of Yale's wartime accelerated program, President Babbidge has not altered his fast-moving pace since taking his bachelor's degree at New Haven in 1945. In the span of 25 years, he has successively been historian, leader, public servant, presidential advisor and university president.

Enrollment figures indicate there were over 17,000 students at the university in 1968. The number of faculty members, including more than 100 part-time staff members, approaches over 1000. Over 1700 undergraduates received degrees this year while over 800 advanced degrees were awarded.

The university employs more than 4,800 persons, including 3,530 fulltime personnel and 1,150 student workers. The university boasts 18 schools and colleges. Graduate work is offered in 36 different major fields with a projected student population in 1970 of 2000. Over 800 doctorates have been awarded since the first doctoral program in 1949.

The library now contains more than 800,000 volumes, including microfilm, and ranks in the top third of the 64 largest research libraries in the nation in terms of annual acquisitions.

From its very modest beginning on 170 acres donated by the Storrs Brothers, the University of Connecticut has grown to such an extent that the present total plant value of existing facilities approaches $100,000,000.

When Homer D. Babbidge, Jr., at the age of 37 took over as eighth president of the University of Connecticut in 1962, he began a new chapter in a career already marked by substantial contributions to the field of higher education.

A product of Yale's wartime accelerated program, President Babbidge has not altered his fast-moving pace since taking his bachelor's degree at New Haven in 1945.

Immediately before accepting the position of President of the University of Connecticut, Dr. Babbidge had been vice president of the American Council on Education. In this capacity he helped serve the Association's 1,000-plus colleges and universities, and 145 national organizations in the field of higher education.

He had previously served for five years in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, starting out as special assistant to the U.S. Commissioner of Education (1955-56).

He later became assistant to the Secretary of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare (1957-58) and subsequently became assistant U.S. Commissioner of Education and director of the Division of Higher Education (1959-61). Born in West Newton, Mass., May 18, 1925, President Babbidge was the son of a merchant sea captain who died in 1962. The Babbidges had moved in 1929 to New Haven, where the UofC president first attended public schools. He later attended high school at Amherst, N. Y. After graduating from high school, he enrolled at Yale College, where he held the James Fenimore Cooper Scholarship and the Yale Club of New York Scholarship.

As an undergraduate he was president of the Yale Political Union, chairman of the undergraduate radio station and a member of the undergraduate Board of Deacons of the Church of Christ in Yale University. President Babbidge took his bachelor of arts degree in political science in 1945. He immediately accepted a post in the Student Appointment Bureau at Yale and began graduate studies on a part-time basis. In 1948 he was awarded a master of arts degree and five years later was awarded his Ph.D. Both degrees were taken at Yale University.

His doctoral dissertation was a history of the founding and early years of Swarthmore College. He subsequently taught for several years in Yale's Department of American Studies. His continuing work in the Student Appointment Bureau, of which he became assistant director, led him to a post as director of the University's Division of Financial Aids.

During his year at Yale, President Babbidge also served as head resident counselor of freshmen and executive Fellow of Pierson College. Today he is an Associate Fellow of Pierson College. In 1948 he was a co-founder of the Yale Program of American studies for foreign students, a program that continues.

HISTORY OF SCHOOL OF BUSINESS ADMINISTRATION

The School of Business Administration at the University of Connecticut was formally established in 1940. Prior to that time, business related courses had been offered through the Economics Department and the School of Home Economics. The teaching program was initiated in 1941 with a faculty of 5 and a full-time dean. The School's offices were housed in the basement of Holcomb Hall until 1948, when the School occupied Storrs Hall.

The School was not departmentalized until 1947, when the departments of Accounting, Industrial Administration and Marketing were created with individual department heads. Courses in Finance, Insurance, Business Law, Real Estate, and Secretarial Studies remained in the Business Department. The dean continued to serve as head of the Business Department until 1956, at which time a separate department head was appointed.

The School moved to its present building in February 1960, when construction was completed. Dean Laurence J. Ackerman, who had served as dean since 1941, retired in 1963 and was succeeded by Dean Robert O. Harvey, the present incumbent. Course offerings and faculty in Finance, Insurance and Real Estate were removed from the Business Department and placed in a separate Finance Department in 1964. At the same time, the Business Department was renamed the Department of Business Administration.

Undergraduate major curricula now include: Accounting, Finance, Industrial Administration, Insurance, Marketing, Real Estate and Urban Economic Studies, Executive Secretarial Studies, and General Business Administration. The full-time faculty numbers 52 in both the undergraduate and graduate programs, assisted by 26 part-time Lecturers.

The Master of Business Administration was first offered as an evening program in Hartford in 1957. The first full-time MBA students arrived on the Storrs campus in 1960. This program was initiated under a contract with the U.S. Air Force, although a few civilian students were admitted in 1961. The contract with the Air Force expired in 1964, and the day program at Storrs became entirely civilian. A second evening program was established on the Stamford campus in 1965. All three campuses offer the MBA under the control of the SBA faculty, and full-time faculty teach extensively at each campus. Part-time Lecturers supplement the full-time faculty at Hartford and Storrs. All MBA students are now taking the same curriculum.

The School adopted an Honors Program for undergraduates in 1965.

Several adjunct research units serve the School and its faculty. All faculty appointees in these units also serve as teaching faculty in one of the School's departments. The Bureau of Business Research and Services was managed by the dean until 1965, when it was activated with a full-time Director. Also in 1965, a Center for Real Estate and Urban Economic Studies was established in the School by action of the state legislature. The Center staff is responsible for both research and the teaching of undergraduate and graduate courses in Real Estate and Urban Economic Studies.

In 1966, both the New England Research Applications Center and the Management Internship Program were established. NERAC was inaugurated under a contract with NASA to provide computer search services relating to business applications of the published and tabulated results of aerospace research. MIP was funded through a two-year grant from the State of Connecticut. Its success led to the establishment of the Management Sciences Laboratory in February 1969. This unit has directed its efforts primarily to the improvement of hospital administration and management through application of the techniques of operations research.

HISTORY OF THE FORMATION OF THE YOUNG EXECUTIVES CLUB OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT

In February of 1969, Mr. Ben Wolfenberger, Executive Secretary of Delta Sigma Pi, came to the University of Connecticut. His purpose in visiting the campus was to see about the possibility of setting up a chapter of Delta Sig at the university.

In April of 1969, Paul Speltz, a senior marketing major, met with Dean Robert O. Harvey concerning the steps necessary to start a Delta Sig chapter. Paul rounded up a group of interested students and met with the Dean several times again during the beginning of April.

By the middle of April, the Young Executives Club was born.

Several meetings were held in April and May and elections took place. We also had several social functions at a local beer hall and other places which really enhanced the reputation of the Young Executives Club considerably. Our energetic Dean was a most welcome member of these functions and found himself really getting to know the students in the School of Business personally. Already we were beginning to become an element of communication within the School.

The Summer of 1969 was spent writing the petition and setting up a tentative calendar of events for the following year.

Mr. Bruce Bentley, our Historian, spent a good deal of the time in an old, crumbling Town Hall digging up a history of the local town and piecing it together.

In August, Dean Harvey and Paul Speltz attended the 27th Grand Chapter Congress of Delta Sigma Pi at Mackinac Island, Michigan. They learned a great deal about chapter organization, and felt very much at home with the Brothers of Delta Sig. After establishing a lasting friendship with David Broussard - a brother from Houma, Louisiana, and after being initiated as "yellow dogs", Dean Harvey and Paul headed home.

In September, the Young Executives was started again with the opening of school. Elections were held for a new President and other officers and the social functions were again used to get the members to really get to know each other.

By now all members of the Young Executives Club were very ready and anxious to be granted a charter of Delta Sigma Pi.

The following letters and correspondence provides a running history of the Young Executives Club.

Dear Joe:

It has been some time now since I visited your campus and talked with you, Dean Harvey and a couple of your undergraduates concerning the possibility of establishing a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi at the University of Connecticut.

Each week I have been hoping to hear from you or Ray Tice and Paul Speltz letting us know what progress, if any, might have been made toward establishing a local fraternity on your campus. I felt sure that the undergraduates especially would have a number of questions after receiving the portfolio of our printed materials.

I still remember what I considered a very enjoyable and productive visit with you and others on your campus and would appreciate hearing from you by return mail.

At long last, there is active interest in the organization of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi here in the School of Business Administration. Delta Sigma Pi, as you may know, is a professional business fraternity, membership in which is no way precluded for persons holding membership in a social fraternity or departmental club.

A general statement about Delta Sigma Pi will be circulated to the faculty. Male students who are really interested in professional activities and wish to see a school-wide program develop here, should, by all means, be encouraged to join Delta Sigma Pi. Any male student with a quality point ratio of 20 or better is eligible to join. Craduate and undergraduate students are eligible as well as interested alumni. If you know of top-flight, energetic, action-oriented students who might enjoy participation in a school-wide professional fraternity, would you please give me their names, encourage them to visit with me, or be on the alert for an information booth to be set up in the School within a week or so. I urge you to talk with members of the faculty about Delta Sigma Pi and to ask them to identify and encourage student prospects.

Dear Paul:

Though the letter from Dean Harvey had not arrived when you called this afternoon, I was very pleased to hear from you and learn of your plans to organize a petitioning group on your campus. Confirming our telephone conversation together, I am enclosing two copies of our booklet, "Requirements for a Chapter Charter," for your use.

Confirming our conversation further, at your meeting next week, you should first decide to organize the local fraternity and then select your temporary fraternity name. A letter from you telling us of your decision plus a letter from the university recognizing your organization on campus should then follow. Then you should elect your fraternity officers and begin working on your bylaws, a budget for 1969-70, and a calendar of activities including business meetings, professional activities, social events, and any other activities you want to consider. As all of these things are done, we would like to have written confirmation of them to place in your file here at The Central Office.

As you are doing these things we will continue to work with you by correspondence offering our suggestions and helping you with any problems which might come up.

Your executive committee could work together this summer if you are in the same general area, and a lot of the work would be out of the way by Fall. If you progress to a great enough degree, you might want to work on your petition this summer, and again we would work with you on this, but that can come later.

Assuming that things go along on schedule and you decide to petition Delta Sigma Pi for a chapter charter, one of our national officers would be on campus early in the Fall to pledge your membership to Delta Sigma Pi, and after your petition is submitted and voted on by the Grand Council (and assuming the vote is favorable) a chapter charter would be granted later in the Fall.

Mr. Paul Speltz April 17, 1969 Page Two

I would like to wish you the best of success in your efforts and encourage you to call on us if we can be of any assistance.

Sincerely yours,

Minutes of the First Organizational Meeting

for the #### UNIVERSITY OF CONNECTICUT CHAPTER OF DELTA SIGMA PI

The meeting was held on Thursday, April 24, 1969, at the School of Business Administration. The meeting began at 7:00 p.m. with an attendance of nineteen. Paul Speltz, who served as chairman of the meeting, welcomed the assembly and proceeded to explain the purpose and scope of Delta Sigma Pi. He also discussed the history of the movement to form a chapter at the University up to the time of this meeting. After presenting a number of facts which shall be cited later in the minutes, Mr. Speltz stated what must be done to form the chapter.

Formal proceedings to form the University of Connecticut's chapter of Delta Sigma Pi commenced when Mr. Bruce Bentley offered a motion to petition for recognition as a local professional business fraternity by the University. The motion was seconded by Jose Montero and was unanimously approved.

The next step involved chosing a title for the organization. The following were suggested:

Beta Alpha Chi (Business Administration of Connecticut) Eta Theta Young Business Executives Club Gamma Beta (Good Business)

The final name was a combination of two--The Young Executives Club, Eta Theta Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi, to be known only as the Young Executives Club, Eta Theta until such time as the organization receives official recognition and installation by Delta Sigma Pi. The title was approved by a majority of those present.

Following the decision on the fraternity's name, Mr. Speltz announced that Dean Harvey has consented to be the organization's advisor. Furthermore, the organization would not seek membership in University of Connecticut's Inter Fraternity Council. It was suggested by Marshall Slacter that the fraternity consider becoming an Affiliate of Associated Student Government.

Next, Mr. Speltz turned to the matter of selecting officers, and read the list of officers needed and their duties. They are as follows:

President - holds an overseeing function in the fraternity in that he supervises all activities and coordinates all other officers and committees. He is ultimately responsible for the smooth running of the fraternity.

- Senior Vice President closely assists the president in performing his tasks, organizes and directs the rush program.
- Vice President his major activity is the pledge education program.
- Treasurer is responsible for receipt and disbursement of fraternity funds, and for the keeping of the fraternity's financial records.
- Secretary has charge of all of the fraternity's current records, takes the minutes of meetings, and issues all business correspondence for the fraternity.
- Historian his general purpose is to preserve all fraternity records and record the historical development of the fraternity. During the formation of the fraternity, he will have the vital function of compiling the Chapter Book that will be submitted to Delta Sigma Pi Headquarters when the fraternity petitions for membership. The book will include histories of the Storrs Community, the University of Connecticut, the University of Connecticut, and this Chapter.
- Professional Chairman has the important task of organizing the fraternity's program of speakers and other professional activities.
  - Chancellor serves as chairman and parliamentarian for meetings.
  - Ritual Chairman during the formation of the chapter, this officer will be responsible for all details concerning arrangements for the chapter installation ceremony and banquet, including acquiring and caring for all ritual equipment. After installation, the ritualist shall be responsible for initiating new Brothers.
  - Social Chairman is responsible for organizing fraternity social functions.

Mr. Speltz informed the assembly that under Dean Harvey's advice, a nominating committee had been created among the original organizers of the fraternity to propose tentative nominations for some of the offices in order that further organizational work might be expedited. The nominations were as follows:

President - Paul Speltz Senior Vice President - Sidney Gale Vice President - Philip Novak Chancellor - Marshall Slacter Treasurer - Ray Tice Historian - Bruce Bentley

Mr. Speltz asked for any other nominations. None were offered. He then asked that the nominees be accepted for their respective positions. The motion was seconded and passed.

Nominations were accepted for the remaining positions.

James Lasbury was nominated for Social Chairman, Raymond Chang for Secretary, Charles Yost for Professional Chairman. No noination was offered for Ritualist. Nominations shall continue at the next business meeting and shall be followed by elections.

Mr. Speltz announced that a picnic would be held Wednesday, April 30, at 5:15 p.m. at the residence of Mr. Bruce Bentley. It will be primarily a social affair, but a short business meeting will be held for the purpose of filling the remaining vacant offices.

Mr. Speltz mentioned that an organization of women business students approached him concerning the possibility of affiliating their organization with ours as an auxiliary.

It was also announced that new elections for office shall be held in the fall.

The meeting closed at 8:10 p.m.

FACTS CONCERNING DELTA SIGMA PI CHAPTERHOOD

During the meeting of the American Association of Collegiate Schools of Business in Detroit last week, Dean Harvey gave me the exciting news that your local fraternity has been organized and is now in operation. I would like to congratulate all of you on your progress.

Unfortunately, my conversation with Dean Harvey was interrupted rather suddenly, and we never did have another chance to get together.

I wonder if you would be good enough to let us know what name you have selected for your local fraternity, and supply us with a list of your officers and their addresses for future communications. We would also be interested in hearing about the activities you have had so far, i.e., business, professional, and social, and a little something about your plans for any work or activity to be done this summer, plus your projected plans for the 1969-70 school year (see my letter of April 17).

Also, just to satisfy my own personal curiosity, are you by chance related to Eugene W. Speltz, initiated by our Psi Chapter at the University of Wisconsin in 1937?

Paul, again I am pleased to hear of your organization, and will hope to hear from you within the week.

Sincerely yours,

Gentlemen:

Things are going very well here on campus for Delta Sigma Pi. I have informed the National Headquarters of all our activities and they are so pleased that they invited a couple of us to the Grand Council Meeting at Mackinaw Island, Michigan, in August (all expenses paid!).

At the last meeting, I told you that we would not meet unless absolutely necessary. This is why I cancelled our first meeting.

National has agreed to let us have more than 25% seniors in the Chartering Group providing you gentlemen run a rush for under-classmen after installation. So that's good news.

However - about the money - well, all that $35. initiation money goes to National and stays there. Therefore, we must charge fees for ourselves to raise working capital. We can do it on a monthly basis, semester basis or yearly basis. Please think about this and write me what you think is best. I would suggest $20/year with an estimated group of 50 members = $1,000.

Charley is lining up speakers with Dean Harvey at the moment. Any suggestions? Drop a line to him.

Bruce and I are going along quite well on "The Book" with the help of the University.

Ray - National will be sending you - if they haven't already - a systems of books all set to go.

Raymond Chang - you should be receiving copies of all our correspondence between National and myself.

Marshall - get off your rear and go see Dean Harvey about the rules and regulations and codes. We need them soon.

Phil - hou about a tentative calendar of events for next year. Contact Charley and Frank Spisinski.

Dear Paul:

We are indeed pleased to know that you are planning to be with us for the 27th Grand Chapter Congress, August 20-23, 1969, at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Michigan.

In order to complete your reservation, please complete the enclosed card and mail it directly to the Grand Hotel. They, in turn, will confirm your hotel reservation to you. Make your reservations now, as all rooms will be assigned on a "first come, first served" basis. If you are planning to spend a few extra days at the Grand Hotel in conjunction with the Grand Chapter Congress, you must plan to do so before the Grand Chapter Congress, as the hotel is booked to capacity immediately following the Delta Sigma Pi convention.

Also enclosed is a copy of the tentative program, a pamphlet about the Grand Hotel, some helpful hints, and a ferry schedule from Straits Transit, Inc. There are more than the one ferry line to the Island, but only the Straits Transit offers free auto parking.

May we take this opportunity to remind you not to forget your camera, swim wear, golf clubs and shoes, and your tennis rackets. We know that you will enjoy using them during the time allotted for recreation.

We believe that we have arranged for a fine Grand Chapter Congress and feel certain that you will enjoy every minute of it. Be on time and get in line for '69. We shall look forward to seeing you early Wednesday morning, August 20, 1969, at the Grand Hotel, Mackinac Island, Michigan.

After receiving your letter, I contacted both Charley and Frank as you suggested. I heard from Charley last week and Frank today. From the information they gave me I was able to compile the enclosed schedule. I must remind you that it is highly tentative. After glancing at it you may think that it has too many social functions and not enough business affairs. This resulted from what I was supplied with and can be worked out at one of our meetings. Careful attention should be paid to the dates for Rush Week and Installation. I was uncertain in these two areas and you might want to change the dates. The rest looks very good, eespecially the pancake breakfast on Nov. 22nd. which is Band Day. I think the professional functions are well spaced. However, another speaker might be added.

Enclosed you will also find the breakdown for the social functions. The dance Feb. 21st. and the picnic April 24th. was my idea. At least now we have something to work with.

I agree with you that 50 members paying $20 per year would work out fine. $25 is not bad either. If there is anything else Ican do drop me a line.

Dear Paul:

It was a pleasure having you and Dean Harvey attend our Grand Chapter Congress last week. I hope you found the convention rewarding in terms of both education and fellowship.

The copies of our policy on Hazing and "Tips for Rushing" which you and I discussed are enclosed with this letter for your use.

In a few days we will be billing you for the extra charges on your account with the Grand Hotel. Right now we are in the process of sorting our papers and other materials and are trying to get re-organized here in the office following our convention.

We should be in contact with you again before too long concerning the Young Executives Club, but should you have any questions or comments before that time please do not hesitate to let us know.

Mr. Paul Speltz c/o NERAC University of Connecticut Storrs, Connecticut 06268

Dear Paul:

I trust that you and Dean Harvey had a safe trip back to Storrs and that you have now embarked upon a successful year, both academically and fraternally speaking.

As Ben indicated to you in his letter of September 11, I am planning to be in your area next month, at which time I would like to meet with the members of the Young Business Executives. I am not sure when you hold your regular meeting, but about the only time that I could meet with you would be Friday, October 24. I know that meetings on Friday are not always the best, but I do hope that it will be possible to meet with you at that time and that it will not be too great an inconvenience for the members of YBE.

I know that we talked about the preparation of your petition, which I assume you are working on now. Would this not also be a good time to pledge the members of YBE to Delta Sigma Pi? If so, every undergraduate and faculty member that is to be initiated into Delta Sigma Pi should be pledged.

I am not sure now whether I will rent a car in Boston and drive to Storrs, or fly to Hartford and then rent a car and drive. At any rate I should arrive in Storrs by mid-morning. One other point—where are the nearest hotel or motel accommodations, should I plan to stay in that area?

I shall look forward to hearing from you regarding my proposed visit to your campus and the possibility of conducting the pledging ceremony at this time. Should you feel that the time is right for the pledging ceremony, please let me know the number of members in YBE so that I can bring the necessary pledge pins.

Paul Speltz September 19, 1969 Page 2

I shall look forward to seeing you in about a month.

Sincerely yours,

Mr. Arthur J. Lumsden, President Greater Hartford Chamber of Commerce 250 Constitution Plaza Hartford, Connecticut 06103

Dear Art:

Several of the leading students in the School of Business Administration have organized a Young Executives Club, which club is to petition the national fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi for the establishment of a chapter here in the School of Business Administration at the University of Connecticut.

Delta Sigma Pi is an honorary professional business frater nity which can be an important supporting, enriching activity for students in the School. I was a Delta Sigma Pi as an undergraduate at Indiana University, and I remember that it offered to me many worthwhile events and opportunities that supported the regular classroom work.

Delta Sigma Pi national officers ask that in our petition for the founding of a chapter, we obtain a letter from an important executive in the business community endorsing the founding of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi in the School. I write to ask if you will provide such a letter. If you are willing to do so, you may address the letter to me indicating that I have told you of our intention to petition for a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi and write to give your endorsement of the idea.

I have written to ask you because as President of the Greater Hartford Chamber, you represent the best organized, most socially conscious and productive group of businessmen that I have seen anywhere. You are in a position to speak well as the leader of a superbly outstanding

Mr. Arthur J. Lumsden September 11, 1969 organization and group of businessmen. If you find it possible to do so, please write to me endorsing the idea of a professional business fraternity and I, of course, will include it with our petition as evidence of the School's being recognized in the business community and as support for Connecticut's having a Delta Sigma Pi chapter. Cordially, Robert O. Harvey Dean nlb bcc: Paul Speltz September .11, 1969 Mr. David Paul Broussard 908 High Street Houma, Louisiana 70360 Dear David: Paul and I are most grateful that we could find a fabulous new friend at the Delta Sigma Pi convention. We thoroughly enjoyed being with you and were greatly pleased by your willingness to share with us our efforts on behalf of mankind. We have talked about finding ways of bringing you here for the time when we finally launch a Delta Sigma Pi chapter, and I tell you with delight that if it were ever possible for me to come to your campus to speak, I would do so with the greatest of pleasure. Many thanks to you for becoming our friend, and I look forward to seeing you again before this year is out. Cordially, Robert O. Harvey Dean nlb

School of Business Administration
University of Connecticut
Storrs, Connecticut 06268

Dear Mr. Speltz:

I respond to your announcement that the Young Executives Club of the University of Connecticut is organizing to petition the national fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi for chapter status. As you know, I am a Delta Sigma Pi, and it is with pleasure and pride that I anticipate that the School of Business Administration will have a Delta Sigma Pi chapter.

I welcome the prospect of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter, for it will provide an enriching experience for the brothers of the chapter, and the chapter as an organization will support and lead in the execution and development of the academic and extracurricular undertakings of the School of Business Administration.

A Delta Sigma Pi chapter will enrich the environment for the students in the School of Business Administration. I welcome the chapter and I pledge my support, cooperation and personal efforts in both the organization and operation of a Delta Sigma Pi chapter at the School of Business Administration of the University of Connecticut.

Dear Charles:

It was certainly a pleasure to visit with you on the phone earlier this week although the connection was so poor.

As promised, we have today mailed to you, under separate cover, 35 copies of the Manual for Pledge Education for the members of the Young Business Executives. I will bring with me the necessary pledge pins for the pledging ceremony when I am in Storrs later this month. Hopefully you can secure a white table cloth or sheet and four white candles and holders for our use at that time. Enclosed you will find two copies of the answer sheets for the pledge manuals plus an additional sheet of current information for the center section of these manuals.

I will also be prepared to discuss with you at the time of my visit the various arrangements necessary for your installation once your petition has been presented and accepted by our Grand Council.

If you have not already done so, will you please make a reservation for me at the Willimantic Motor Inn for Friday, October 24, having them confirm the reservation directly to me?

Thanks much for your assistance. I look forward to meeting you and the other members of YBE and having the opportunity of visiting your campus.

Mr. Raymond S. Chang, Secretary Young Executives Club 14-B Knollwood Acres Storrs, Connecticut 06268

Dear Mr. Chang:

Thank you for your letter of October 8, 1969, a copy of your program, the list of your officers and the copies of your recent meetings. These are all most helpful to us in maintaining communication with you? Macking Island, Michigan, in which Dean Robert are and Paul Speltz represented the Young Executive Club.

I had previously spoken to Paul Speltz about the possibility of some of the alumni members of YEC being pledged by other chapters since they would be unable to be on hand for the pledging ceremony.

I will endeavor to reach Bruce Bently when I am in Boston next week to see if he can join me at either Boston College or Suffolk University for the pledging ceremony. Another of my associates, Field Secretary Ellery J. Lacy, will be in New Jersey in the next couple of weeks and I will ask him to try and get in touch with Raymond S. Tice to see if he can be pledged at that time by one of our chapters at Rutgers University or at St. Peter's College.

I have already talked to Paul about having our chapter at the University of South Carolina pledge him. Just as soon as I hear from him I will be in touch with the chapter in Columbia to get this accomplished. In the meantime, you might want to inform these members that we will be getting in touch with them so that they will be expecting us to call them.

Will see you next week.

Sincerely yours,

Executive Director

We have just completed the proceedings of our Grand Chapter Congress held at the Grand Hotel at Mackinac Island, Michigan, in which Dean Robert O. I thought perhaps you and the members of YEC might like to have a copy of these proceedings since they contain a lot of vital information about Delta Sigma Pi and various aspects of our program. Accordingly, I have today under separate cover mailed to you a copy. I trust that you will be able to circulate it among the members of YEC.

Will see you next Friday.
