330 South Campus Ave.
P.O. Box 230
Oxford, OH 45056-0230

Dear Central Office:

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony welcomes the Board of Directors to the George Washington University. As the Board reviews the following petition, we hope that the Board finds the information sufficient and well articulated. Within the petition, there are thirty-five collegiate members. Rest assure that the colony plans to continue recruiting more students and faculty in the upcoming semester.

The current members would like to thank Delta Sigma Pi Professional Business Fraternity for the opportunity to build our characters, learn to work in a team structure, improve on our strengths and weaknesses, the management of our time and responsibilities, and the network with businesses and the School.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has been in operation for the past two years and the members are ready to prepare and complete the next phase in the process of being charter members – the Delta Sigma Pi Pledge Education Program. The Colony has worked very hard over the years through a variety of different activities necessary to prepare us for the business world from professional activities, community services, fundraising, socials, and the regular members that are held weekly. The number of interested students at the School of Business and Public Management of the George Washington University continues to grow on a daily basis, as the presence of Delta Sigma Pi becomes imminent.

Sincerely on behalf of the Gamma Beta Psi Colony,

Linh Vuong
President

Dear Mr. Clark:

It is with great pleasure that I offer my strongest recommendation for the student leaders and their colleagues who seek your endorsement by being granted a chapter in Delta Sigma Pi. The members of the George Washington University Gamma Beta Psi colony have devoted significant time and energy since the Fall of 1997, to achieve both a critical mass of activities and a significant amount of participation by the business student body.

I have met with the top management team of the Gamma Beta Psi colony, including the current President, Linh Vuong. We discussed in great detail their plans for the future and it was a very impressive agenda indeed. In addition, I asked them to consider leadership in several school-wide activities which sounded very attractive to them. The Gamma Beta Psi colony is committed not only to facilitating the personal and professional growth of Delta Sigma Pi members, but will seek to expand the professional opportunities for the entire business school student body.

Our students at GW have a tradition of creating high quality programs that we continue throughout the years. I have no doubts that the students involved in a new chapter of Delta Sigma Pi on this campus will build a sustainable set of programs and activities of which we all can be proud. Further, I will be meeting with them periodically to support their efforts in as many ways as I can.

Thank you for the opportunity to be considered for a new chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. Please do not hesitate to contact me if I can provide additional information.

Best regards,

Dear Central Office:

As the faculty advisor of the Gamma Beta Psi Colony from The George Washington University, I have witnessed the growth of strong individuals who have shown the discipline and hard work required for an active chapter. The colony has done many various activities such as professional events, community services, fundraisers, and social events. The colony members have proven to be very responsible and very capable of running a colony and are now more than ready to become charter members of the next Delta Sigma Pi chapter.

Not only am I a faculty advisor to the colony, but I am also a faculty initiate of the Hilo Chapter at the University of Hawaii since the early 1990's. Therefore, I see myself as having the experience and knowledge of what is required of a chapter and I believe the Gamma Beta Psi Colony has achieved this success.

I have witnessed the strength and growth in membership over the past years. The students are very enthusiastic as they fulfill their chapter requirements. The colony is very representative of the goals and purpose of Delta Sigma Pi. I have seen the students work together for the common goal of becoming proud charter members. As a faculty member of Delta Sigma Pi, I look forward to continue working with the colony if they are to become accepted into Brotherhood for as long as I remain here at The George Washington University.

Fraternally,

William Wilson

Dear Fellow Board Members:

It is my absolute honor and privilege to recommend to you the Gamma Beta Psi Colony at George Washington University in Washington, D.C., for installation as the newest chapter of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

Although the colony was formed in 1997, I began working with them after I was elected this past August as the Mideastern Regional Director. I assembled a team of past and present national officers to assist me in working with the colony to teach and assist them in their formation of a thriving colony and future chapter. This group has been very dedicated to the colony all semester, encouraging them as well as participating in their activities. I mention this team, because I feel they have been a great influence on the colony as a model to look to for development as fraternity members. We have demonstrated to the colony members what dedication to the fraternity looks like, and I feel that the colony members are well prepared for that challenge.

These students are very eager and enthusiastic. They are hard-working and determined, as demonstrated by the weekly meetings, and the professional, community service, social, and fundraising activities they have organized and participated in this semester. Several of the colony members attended the Baltimore LEAD in October, and brought back several ideas to share with the other members on being a successful chapter.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has the dedication, desire, and support that it takes to become a successful chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. Both George Washington University and The International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi will reap tremendous benefits from the addition of this group of students into our Brotherhood. I would be proud to call them Brother.

Fraternally Yours,

Kelli A. Smith

Dear Board Members,

It is my pleasure to highly recommend the Gamma Beta Psi Colony for approval to become a chapter in Delta Sigma Pi. Since November of 1997, the Colony has consistently evolved into a strong organization by developing structure and performing various fraternal activities. The Colony has proven that with persistence and determination, it can achieve its goal of becoming a successful chapter in Delta Sigma Pi.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has many strengths that will propel it to excellence as a chapter in Delta Sigma Pi. First and foremost, the Colony has had two years to absorb the structure of Delta Sigma Pi. Many of the members who were involved in the first year remain actively involved as officers or committee members and will provide a solid foundation for the future of their Colony.

Secondly, the Colony continues to expand its membership base. Most recently, the Colony's recruiting efforts have attracted a number of underclassmen that are excited and eager to be a part of Delta Sigma Pi. With one more large recruiting effort to be carried out in the spring of 2000, the Colony will be able to attract more members and strengthen its membership base once again.

Finally, the Colony's greatest and most important strength is its support system. As evidenced by its past activities and meetings, the Colony will have a tremendous amount of support from the school of business, local businesses, local Delta Sigma Pi chapters, alumni, officers, and directors. These resources will prove to be an invaluable source of information, guidance, and support necessary to continue as a successful organization at George Washington University and its surrounding community.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has all of the components to become a successful chapter in Delta Sigma Pi. From working with the members over the last two years, I know that they have the knowledge and desire to perform at the Fraternity's highest level. I urge you to consider the Colony's tremendous effort over the past two years and award it the privilege of becoming a chapter in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

Fraternally yours,

Dear Fellow Board Members:

It is with great pleasure and excitement that I recommend the Gamma Beta Psi Colony at the George Washington University, Washington, D.C. for approval as a Chapter in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

I first became involved with the colony when I moved to the Washington, D.C. area at the beginning of this past semester. There have been numerous opportunities when I have worked with and observed the colony. I have attended many colony meetings, professional events and social events. Colony members were also present at the Baltimore LEAD School where I was a presenter.

In the past few months, I have been amazed at the colony's tremendous growth. As Board members, we hold our Chapters to high standards of brotherhood, professionalism, and performance. The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has exhibited all of these characteristics. This is evidenced through their ability to more than double the colony size during the past semester. Financially, they have worked hard to raise money through numerous fundraisers. Their professional program, this semester alone, has brought in numerous Delta Sigma Pi alumni to talk about topics such as fraternity involvement and professional growth as well as investment management.

This is a colony that has continually set high standards for itself, has worked to communicate with Delta Sigma Pi chapters and alumni throughout the area, and that earnestly desires to become members of our organization. They would truly be a benefit to the Fraternity, George Washington University and the community. I look forward to the day when I can proudly call them all my Brothers.

Brothers:

It is with great honor and pride that I recommend the Gamma Beta Psi colony at The George Washington University be granted a chapter charter in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

When the colony formed in November 1997, I was the Mideastern Regional Director and I have been fortunate enough to work with the colonists in that capacity as well as an alumnus volunteer. Over the last two years, I have been able to watch the colony grow and develop into an organization that functions much like a chapter. I have been especially proud of the progress that the colony has made over the past twelve months. The students have set their sites on an installation in spring 2000, and they have worked diligently to achieve that and all their other goals.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony has developed strengths that lend themselves to the colony's excellence as a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. The colony has been able to experience the administrative procedures and overall structure of Delta Sigma Pi. They have attained the 50,000 CEI points necessary to be granted a chapter charter. Additionally, many of the members who were originally involved with the colony remain actively involved in leadership positions and will provide a solid foundation for the future of the chapter.

Also, the Colony continues to expand its membership base. Most recently, the Colony's recruiting efforts have attracted a number of underclassmen that are eager to be a part of Delta Sigma Pi and can carry the chapter into the next millennium. With another large recruiting effort planned for the beginning of the spring semester (much like chapter recruiting activities), the Colony will attract more members and strengthen its membership base once again. The colony currently has 35 members, only 4 of whom are non-returning students.

Finally, the Colony has an incredible support system in Washington DC, Northern Virginia and suburban Maryland. As evidenced by the Colony's past events, there is no shortage of speakers and volunteers available to maintain the activities of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. Also, the Colony has received awesome support from the School of Business as well as local Delta Sigma Pi chapters, alumni, and National Officers. All of these will prove to be an invaluable resource to the Chapter for information, guidance, and support. I wholeheartedly believe that the Gamma Beta Psi Colony will continue as a successful organization at The George Washington University if granted a chapter charter. The chapter would be an asset to not only the Fraternity but also to the University and the community.

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony would make an excellent addition to our Fraternity. I believe that the members have the ability to be an Outstanding chapter. I ask you to consider the qualifications of the colony, and I recommend that the colony be granted a chapter charter in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

Thank you in advance for your consideration of the Gamma Beta Psi colony.

Fraternally,

Dear Fellow Brothers,

In the upcoming year, I will be celebrating the 5th anniversary of the Nu Sigma Chapter as a Charter member. I still remember the days as my brothers and I worked diligently towards becoming a Chapter of Delta Sigma Pi. Today, I have the honor of working with an admirable group of business students as they work together to become the next chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

The Gamma Beta Psi colony at George Washington University, School of Business and Public Management colonized in November of 1997. I met the colony in September of this year. My interaction with the group of students at George Washington is always a pleasant experience. Although I have only worked with the colony on a few occasions, I'm impressed with all their accomplishments thus far. Their diligent work exemplifies the caliber of commitment they will contribute to the Fraternity.

The Gamma Beta Psi colony uses their location to their advantage. Located in Washington, DC, they have ample accessibility to speakers, community business functions and networking opportunities right at their doorstep. The professionalism they demonstrate as young business professionals characterizes the atmosphere they grow in.

It gives me great pleasure to recommend the Gamma Beta Psi colony to be granted a chapter charter in the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi. I appreciate your consideration for the Gamma Beta Psi colony.

To Whom It May Concern:

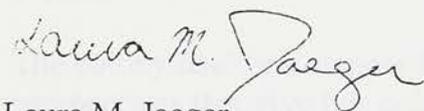

It is with great pleasure that I write to you about the Gamma Beta Psi at the George Washington University in Washington, D.C. I have come to know the students in the Gamma Beta Psi colony in both a professional and personal sense in the past semester and a half.

In the time that I have known the Gamma Beta Psi colony, I have seen its members work diligently to gain chapter status. In doing so, they have worked amongst themselves, as well as with the Mu Tau Chapter at George Mason University, to foster and promote a sense of professionalism among the business community at their college.

For this reason, I strongly recommend that Gamma Beta Psi Colony be installed as a chapter of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

Dear Central Office,

My name is Son Phan, Brother from the Mu Tau chapter at George Mason University. I have been in close contact with the colony at George Washington University (GWU) and it is my personal opinion that this colony should seriously be considered for a charter and ultimately Brotherhood.

I know the president of the colony personally and she has been a shining example of leadership and dedication. Linh Vuong took over as president of the colony after the predecessor quit and since then has revived the colony from a very dismal and unmotivated group of individuals and has given the colony a new and refreshing outlook on Delta Sigma Pi and the professional world.

The colony has been in existence for over 2 years now. There are over 40 active members and many more potential members based on the expressed interest from the student body. Currently, there are not any professional business fraternities on campus at GWU and I think it would a good strategic move to establish a chapter to build a reputation and perpetuate the growth of professionalism at the collegiate level.

The colony has turned to some of the other chapters in the region to draw from the experience and expertise and that was proven to be extremely effective in their success thus far.

The colony itself is composed of many outstanding individuals with bright ideas and new perspectives that give this colony so much potential. From what I've seen, this colony would represents Delta Sigma Pi, our goals, ideals and purpose as well as any other chapter I've seen, and it is my recommendation to extend to them a chance at Brotherhood.

To Whom It May Concern:

I am writing to you in reference to the Gamma Beta Psi colony of Delta Sigma Pi at George Washington University, in Washington, D.C. Over the past few months, I have been fortunate enough to meet and spend time with the members of the colony. During our time together, I have noticed that there is a strong sense of dedication and cohesion amongst the group. Their recruiting activities, professional events, and social gatherings have demonstrated, in great fashion, the ideals and beliefs promoted by Delta Sigma Pi.

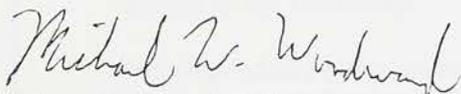

We all know that trying to gain support for an organization is not easy, especially when a majority of business students are completely unaware of the benefits and traditions of our fraternity. The executives and active members have done a fabulous job in raising support and recognition for not only their colony, but for Delta Sigma Pi as a whole. I feel that they deserve our respect and congratulations for this accomplishment. Their desire to be a part of our brotherhood is intense, and they are not afraid to work to prove this.

Although they are not brothers, and they still have lots to prove and accomplish before being considered for initiation, I believe they have displayed great potential. I am not alone in believing with all my heart that this group of men and women are very special, and I think that as a whole, they exhibit the fundamentals necessary to carry on the traditions of Delta Sigma Pi.

For this reason, I strongly recommend that Gamma Beta Psi Colony be installed as a chapter of the International Fraternity of Delta Sigma Pi.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,

The George Washington University

History

The George Washington University had its beginning in 1821 as The Columbian College in the District of Columbia. The name of the institution was changed in 1873 to Columbian University and in 1904 to The George Washington University. The debt of the University to George Washington, whose name it bears, is an intangible one.

George Washington, as president and as private citizen, had urgently insisted upon the establishment of a national university in the federal city. There he hoped that, while being instructed in the arts and sciences, students from all parts of the country would acquire the habits of good citizenship, throwing off local prejudices and gaining at first hand a knowledge of the practice, as well as the theory, of republican government. To further the materialization of his hopes, Washington left a bequest of 50 shares of The Potomac Company "towards the endowment of a University to be established within the limits of the District of Columbia, under the auspices of the General Government, if that government should incline to extend a fostering hand towards it." The Congress never extended a "fostering hand." The Potomac Company passed out of existence, and Washington's bequest became worthless.

Fully conscious of Washington's hopes, but motivated primarily by a great missionary urge and the need for a learned clergy, a group of dedicated ministers and laymen sponsored a movement for the establishment of a college in the District of Columbia. Inspired largely by the zeal and energy of the Reverend Luther Rice, they raised funds for the purchase of a site and petitioned Congress for a charter. After much delay and amendment, Congress granted a charter, which was approved by President Monroe on February 9, 1821. To safeguard the College's nonsectarian character it provided "That persons of every religious denomination shall be capable of being elected Trustees; nor shall any person, either as President, Professor, Tutor or pupil, be refused admittance into said College, or denied any of the privileges, immunities, or advantages thereof, for or on account of his sentiments in matters of religion."

During the entire time when the institution was known as Columbian College, its activities were centered on College Hill, a tract of 46 acres between the present 14th and 15th Streets extending north from Florida Avenue to somewhat beyond Columbia Road. The Medical School was located downtown. For the better part of the Columbian University period, the buildings of the University were situated along H Street between 13th and 15th Streets.

During the last half-century, the University's campus has been developed in that section of the old First Ward familiarly known as Foggy Bottom, between 19th and 24th Streets, south of Pennsylvania Avenue. The area has many reminders of historic interest to the University.

President Monroe, who signed the Charter, lived at 2017 I Street. The first President of the Board of Trustees, the Reverend Obadiah B. Brown, was for 50 years the pastor of a church at 19th and I Streets, and Washington selected 23rd and E Streets as the site of the National University he hoped to see established.

School of Business and Public Management

History

Organized as the School of Government in 1928, the School of Business and Public Management has been responsible for over half a century for the professional development of individuals assuming leadership roles in society. The School comprises eight departments--Accountancy, Finance, International Business, Management Science, Marketing, Public Administration, Strategic Management and Public Policy, and Tourism and Hospitality Management. The use of a multidisciplinary approach in educational programming helps prepare both the generalist and specialist for professional careers in today's complex, organizational society.

The School of Business and Public Management is a member of the American Assembly of Collegiate Schools of Business, and its Bachelor of Business Administration program is accredited by the Assembly.

Mission Statement--We believe that the creation and dissemination of knowledge is essential for effective management. Our mission is to serve current and future leaders, managers, and professionals in the global community by offering superior learning opportunities in business and public management; engaging in research and other scholarly activities to advance management theory and practice; and providing management and professional expertise to business, government, and not-for-profit organizations.

We are guided by our commitment to excellence in teaching and life-long learning; excellence in research and creation of new knowledge; meeting the distinctive needs of both part-time and full-time students; promotion of an entrepreneurial spirit; intellectual and professional development of faculty and staff; diversity in students, faculty, and staff; emphasis on the interaction of public-sector and private-sector organizations; and active engagement in the public discourse about the social and ethical responsibility of business.

As active and responsible citizens of our local community, the nation's capital, we acknowledge our reliance upon its wealth of resources and our commitment to help shape its future.

Discussion of Majors and Degrees Offered

The Bachelor's Degrees

The School offers programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Accountancy and Bachelor of Business Administration. Programs leading to the degrees of Bachelor of Accountancy and Bachelor of Business Administration include foundation knowledge for business in accounting, behavioral science, economics, mathematics, and statistics. Curricula are designed to provide perspectives on ethical and global issues, the influence of political, social, legal and regulatory, environmental, and technological issues, and the impact of demographic diversity on organizations.

The Bachelor of Business Administration - 120 hour (129 if specialize in 2 areas) degree program that offers general management preparation with an opportunity for specialization in a specific field of business. The program offers students with flexibility to adjust programs to own academic needs and desires in order to pursue career goals. All students take same business core classes but other education and specialization requirements are designed for the student.

A Bachelor of Business Administration student selects a field of concentration from among business economics and public policy, finance, human resources management, information systems, international business, marketing, tourism and hospitality management, or, with faculty approval, may choose to structure an individualized field of concentration reflecting the student's specific interests in management.

BUSINESS, ECONOMICS, and PUBLIC POLICY: The student develops understanding and skills for different positions and areas in business and government. Courses include economics, political science, and government/business relations.

FINANCE: The student develops skills necessary to make financial decisions. Focus is on a combination of three areas: 1) money and capital markets (interest rates and banking), 2) investments (stocks, bonds, and derivative contracts), and 3) financial management (capital investment, funding, and dividend decisions). Concentration allows opportunities to work upon graduation in different corporations and financial institutions or graduate work in business, economics, and law.

Human Resources Management: The student develops skills necessary for general management and leadership. Focus is on aspects of employment of human resources in business organizations. Careers could be in areas such as personnel management, employee relations, collective bargaining, or manpower utilization.

Information Systems: The student acquires skills with the use of computers in solving problems. Positions available upon graduation include programmer/analyst and systems designers as well as marketing computer hardware and software and systems consulting and management.

International Business: The student acquires skills for positions in international business, especially in multinational corporations, international banks, and government agencies. It is recommended that courses include two years of foreign language.

Marketing: Skills acquired by the student include an understanding of complex and changing environments and their effects on marketing activities and institutions; including buyer behavior, demand, market segments, and cost volume profit relations of marketing programs; and formulating and implementing comprehensive marketing plans. Choices in careers include advertising account executives, marketing research project managers, retail assistance buyers, and representatives for consumer and industrial products firms.

Tourism and Hospitality Management: The student acquires skills through understanding of tourism and hospitality including communication, transportation linkages, legal and regulatory environment, marketing, management and financial aspects, and operational requirements, with an international emphasis on strategic management and marketing approaches. Two years of a modern foreign language as well as a good understanding of a foreign culture is recommended. There is a work experience requirement in this concentration.

Individualized Field of Concentration: There is a possibility for a student interested in a individualized field consisting of courses across the university. You must have four courses and a field elective. All individual fields must be approved in advance through the business school.

The Bachelor of Accountancy- a 120 credit-hour undergraduate curriculum. The program is focused on preparing students for the Master of Taxation program, and future accountancy graduate work. Course work include accounting and business classes as well as liberal arts classes.

The principal objective of the Bachelor of Accountancy degree is preparation for a professional career in accounting. Professional preparation requires specialization in accounting knowledge as well as a general education in English, humanities, social sciences, mathematics, and sciences. An additional objective is the preparation of students for a fifth-year or Master of Accountancy program that is intended to meet the academic needs of students seeking professional accounting careers in the public or private sector, which demand high entry-level academic achievement.

Gamma Beta Psi Colony History and Activities

The George Washington University

The Gamma Beta Psi Colony was founded in late November of 1997. The Colony has been in operation ever since it was first installed and recognized by the University and the Central Office of Delta Sigma Pi.

The colony has grown substantially. The colony started with twelve members in 1997 and has increased to 42 active collegiate members by the end of the Fall semester of 1999. The colony went off on a slow start due to lack of recruitment and understanding of what is required of a chapter. Today, the colony has matured and bloomed to its full capacity and abilities. The colony has done a variety of activities in the past and continues to grow and mature as we are prepared to take on the requirements and duties expected of a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi.

(Detailed Past Events)

Fall '97- Spring '98

Seminar: Ethics in the Workplace

Jan. 20th- We had speaker Linda Malone discuss issues of professional ethics, governmental implementations, and "unwritten rules" that employers/employees must follow in the work environment.
