Petitioning Letter

Central Office Staff:

In the spring semester of 2012, it was decided that the University of Richmond needed to add another business fraternity in the Robins School of Business. The decision to include the Upsilon Omicron Rho colony of Delta Sigma Pi was met with both excitement and obstacles. In this month, the colony members would like to formally request a charter for Delta Sigma Pi.

By presenting this petition and corresponding fees, the colony members have promised to uphold the values of the fraternity and work towards success of the chapter. This confirms our intent to obtain a Delta Sigma Pi chapter charter along with all of the associated duties and responsibilities.

Sincerely, our colony members

Letters of Recommendation

To: Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity

From: Nancy A. Bagranoff, Dean Nancy Bagranoff

Date: February 11, 2013

The colony of Delta Sigma Pi at the University of Richmond has created extensive plans to contribute to the mission and ideals of the Robins School of Business. Their membership is composed of students representing many different countries, consistent with our emphasis on global business. Members have chosen to further their educational experience by creating this colony to supplement their classroom learning with professional business activities and experiences. At the Robins School we are a community, the creation of Delta Sigma Pi will add to the opportunities we provide for student professional development and growth.

The institution of Delta Sigma Pi would enhance the Robins School because it would bring business practices into the education system. With one already established business fraternity on campus, Alpha Kappa Psi, adding another business fraternity would allow both organizations to exercise competition and promotion, which are fundamental traits of business. More opportunities and a greater involvement would be available to business students. Students at Robins seek engagement opportunities and there is sufficient engagement desire to accommodate two school-wide business fraternities.

The opportunities that Delta Sigma Pi will bring will not only add to our network around the world but also create a different experience for students through involvement. Our business school has many involved and dedicated students, who would love to increase their direct involvement to the Robins School.

In the past year the colony of Delta Sigma Pi has been holding professional activities and community outreach events. Their weekly meetings also give the members of upcoming events at the Robins School and events specific for the colony. They have had speakers and opportunities such as a resume and interview workshop. They also plan on using their professional networks to bring distinguished visitors to campus to speak. Instating a chapter of Delta Sigma Pi would be beneficial to all members of the Robins School of Business community.

To: Board of Delta Sigma Pi Fraternity

From: Dana-Nicoleta Lascu, Ph.D.
Delta Sigma Pi Faculty Mentor
Chair, Department of Marketing

Date: February 21, 2013

I would like to offer my strong support for your approval of the petition to charter submitted by the University of Richmond Upsilon Omicron Rho colony to Delta Sigma Pi.

The University of Richmond colony of Delta Sigma Pi has actively worked to develop plans to foster and enhance the study of business at the University, to engage in collaboration that includes lecturing, workshops and research with the local businesses and multinational corporations headquartered in Richmond, to support the professional development and aspirations of its members, and to support the Richmond community through service. Its activities in the brief time of its existence are impressive, ranging from organizing executive speakers, internship panels and job-related workshops, to formal interactions with different University constituencies. The colony has also been engaged in the Richmond community through service, volunteering to clean large local historic parks, to help the largest no-kill animal shelter in the Richmond area, BARK, and participated in food bank drives, among others.

The Delta Sigma Pi colony at the University of Richmond is a diverse community of students committed to a diverse brotherhood. Many of the students have international backgrounds and are pursuing global business interests.

A Delta Sigma Pi charter will offer many opportunities for our Robins School of Business students to engage in professional development and growth and would benefit the Robins School of Business, the University of Richmond, and the greater Richmond community.

Dear Brothers of Delta Sigma Pi:

As you can see, I waited until the last possible second to write this letter of recommendation. Reason being, I wanted to be able to give my recommendation without having a doubt of "readiness". In my few years as a brother of this incredible organization, I have had the pleasure of personally meeting many of you and expect nothing less than excellence from our collegiate members, alumni and most importantly, our colony members. "Quality over Quantity" has been a minimum standard of Delta Sigma Pi and I have every intention of upholding that crucial value in my position as District Director.

With that being said, it is with absolute confidence that I recommend the installation of the Upsilon Omicron Rho Colony at the University of Richmond on April 27th, 2013. I have had the pleasure of attending a colony meeting, a community service event and meeting individually with all of the Colony officers. I have watched this group grow and transform from a dysfunctional group with no direction in sight to a cohesive, diverse collection of individuals that are truly seeking brotherhood for the appropriate reasons.

Upsilon Omicron Rho has made incredible progress in just seven weeks' time. They've completed all requirements asked of them and have shown a desire to go above and beyond in future activities and goals. The University of Richmond is known for their appeal to a diverse study body, what they do not advertise enough is the dedication of the individuals they seek. This is going to be a fruitful chapter full of accomplishment and I am proud to have the opportunity to be a part of it.

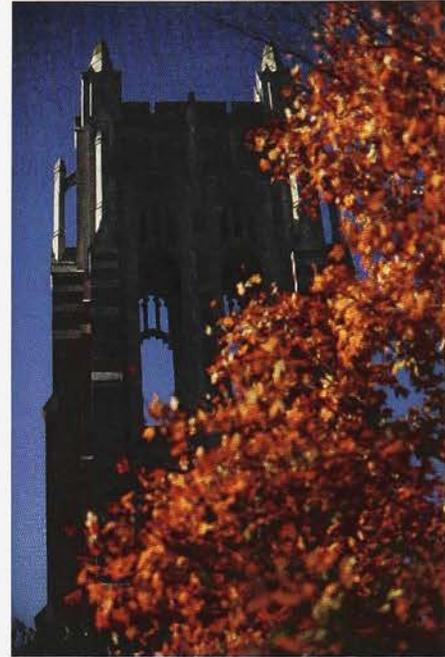

Please do not hesitate to reach out to me via any platform of communication. I am happy to provide affirmation of my observations of this group. If their experience within the formation of this colony has transformed them so much already, I can only imagine what their brotherhood has in store!

Fraternally,

Kara Adkins

University History

The University of Richmond can be traced back to 1830, when the Virginia Baptist Society opened a seminary for men. After adding a program for literary studies, the seminary became Richmond College in 1840. Created to follow the feminist movement of the late 19th century, Richmond College incorporated women as non-residential students in 1898. In 1906, Richmond College, with the assistance of the Virginia Baptist General Association, made the decision to create a college for women. The goal was to create two separated colleges under the President and Board of Richmond College, but both men and women would have separate school deans, facilities, courses, buildings, and student government systems. Westhampton College was created. Women could receive a degree without having to sit in class with men. This coordinate college system was a new addition to Richmond College. Richmond College, in 1914, moved to its current location of a 350-acre plot of land west of Richmond. This area, formerly a theme park, became the new home of the school. Also in 1914, Westhampton College opened for classes under the guidance of Dr. May Lansfield Keller, the first woman dean of a Virginia college. A few years later, both colleges were united to form the University of Richmond. The personality of the coordinate college system has remained intact. Women and men have separate student government organizations and deans, but classes are co-educational.

A pivotal point in the history of University of Richmond took place in 1969 when E. Claiborne Robins donated $50 million to the University. This donation was the largest cash gift presented to an American University at this time. Robins challenged the University to become one of the finest small American institutions. The University of Richmond has continued to thrive and grow as a result of this generous donation.

In 2007, Dr. Edward Ayers was named University President and is still currently serving in this position.

Based on the 2012-2013 school year, the University of Richmond has 3,400 undergraduate and 961 graduate students; 44% of men and 54% of women are in attendance. Most students (81%) are out-of-state students in the 18-21 age range. In 2011, there was a 93% retention rate among freshmen and in 2012, a 30% acceptance rate into the University of Richmond. The school mascot is a Spider, colors are red and blue and the University of Richmond is home to numerous major programs including the top-ranked Robins School of Business and the first leadership school, Jepson School of Leadership Studies.

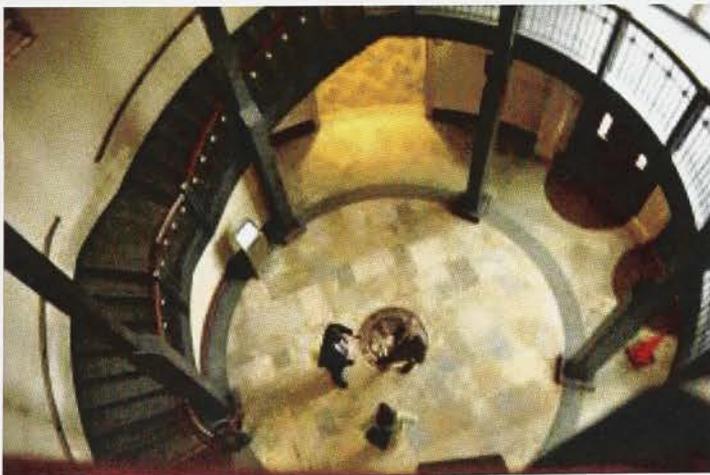

Robins School of Business Summary

The Robins School of Business at the University of Richmond is a nationally acclaimed business school. Bloomberg BusinessWeek (2012) ranked Robins #15 nationally among undergraduate business programs, #1 for undergraduate international business, #3 in academic quality, #5 for student satisfaction and A+ in teaching quality and facilities. Students in the school of business have a unique opportunity of receiving both a liberal arts and business education while fulfilling both business and general education requirements.

Students may declare a major in Business Administration, Accounting, or Economics after completing courses in the School of Arts and Sciences (typically during sophomore year). Students declare one major, but can enhance their education with concentrations in Accounting, Economics, Finance, Marketing, Management, and International Business. Concentrations are required for Business Administration majors, but can supplement Accounting or Economics majors.

Currently there are 844 sophomores, juniors, and seniors that have officially declared majors in the business school; 259 sophomores, 295 juniors and 290 seniors spread out between Economics, Accounting and Business Administration.

Delta Sigma Pi Record of Events

Professional Activities

Name of Event: DSP Leadership Foundation Presentation

Date: September 25, 2012

Time: 6-7:00pm

Location: Robins School of Business Auditorium

Description of event:

The Leadership Foundation Presentation, taken from DSP resources, was presented to colony members to educate students on the opportunities available with official membership in Delta Sigma Pi. The event consisted of the presentation, accompanied by supporting handouts detailing different resources and structures of the foundation, with time remaining for questions.

Name of Event: Summer Internship Panel

Date: October 2, 2012

Time: 6-7:00pm

Location: Robins School of Business Auditorium

Description of event:

Because many colony members had successful summer internships, it was considered beneficial to the colony to have a question and answer formatted panel to educate members, especially first-years, on how to go about receiving a summer internship. The 6 members involved ranged across years, business school majors, and international locations, giving the colony an in-depth look at the opportunities available. Topics discussed included: how to find an internship, daily activities, networking, turning internships into careers after graduation, and career goals.

Name of Event: Robins School of Business Executive Speaker Series: Alan Wurtzel, former CEO of Circuit City

Date: October 17, 2012

Time: 6-7:30pm

Location: Robins School of Business Auditorium

Description of event:

Associated with the Robins School of Business Executive Speaker Series, Alan Wurtzel, former CEO of Circuit City came to the University to discuss leadership lessons from his book, "Good to Great to Gone: The 60 Year Rise and Fall of Circuit City". He educated the audience on the importance of listening to target markets and keeping up with industries, along with how to successfully lead a business.

Name of Event: Risk Management Presentation

Date: February 5, 2013

Time: 7-8:30pm

Location: Jepson 120 (meeting room)

Description of event:

Sergeant Hull from the University of Richmond's Campus Police Department came to talk to Delta Sigma Pi members about risk management on campus. Sergeant Hull began his presentation with a discussion of alcohol consumption on campus. Sergeant Hull made it clear that the campus police department knows many underage college students consume alcohol on campus, especially during the weekends. He emphasized, however, the importance of moderation when choosing to consume alcohol and make smart decisions when doing so. Sergeant Hull briefly discussed drug use on campus, which hasn't been a pressing issue on campus recently. His main message to us, as college students, was to consume in moderation and to think before making a decision we could later regret.

Name of Event: Talk with Dean Bagranoff

Date: February 7, 2013

Time: 7:30-8:30pm

Location: Jepson 120 (meeting room)

Description of event:

Dean Bagranoff visited Delta Sigma Pi to discuss her career experiences and life lessons. She began her presentation by giving colony members a background of her path, beginning with her college education to her current position as Dean of the Robins School of Business at the University of Richmond. Dean Bagranoff stressed the importance of seizing opportunities and making the most out of every job one has. She finished her talk by advising the members of Delta Sigma Pi to utilize the Robins School of Business as much as possible.

Name of Event: LinkedIn Workshop

Date: February 11, 2013

Time: 5-6:00pm

Location: Tyler Hanes Commons Room 305

Description of event:

Career services hosted a LinkedIn Workshop stressing the importance of the professional LinkedIn account. The workshop gave advice on how to maintain a professional LinkedIn account through presenting examples of correct accounts and maximizing connections to professionals.

Name of Event: Resume and Interview Workshop

Date: February 18, 2013

Time: 7-8:00pm

Location: Jepson 120 (meeting room)

Description of event:

Erin Lowery from Career Services came to talk to Delta Sigma Pi about the beginning steps in crafting a résumé during our four years at the University of Richmond. Ms. Lowery emphasized the importance of organizing our current and previous experiences to help the interviewer or future employer gain a better understanding of the applicant. During the interview portion of the workshop, Ms. Lowery gave us tips on how to answer behavioral-type interview questions using the S.T.A.R. method (Situation, Task, Action, Result). Ms. Lowery pointed us in the direction of other on-campus resources to help hone our interviewing skills including interviews through SpiderConnect, or with a Career Services advisor to discuss tips and strategies.

Name of Event: Presentation on Professionalism

Date: February 18, 2013

Time: 8-8:30pm

Location: Jepson 120 (meeting room)

Description of event:

Colleen Tobin, colony President, gave a Professionalism Presentation after the Résumé and Interview Workshop. Colleen clarified the difference between business professional and business casual for both men and women. Through PowerPoint presentations and examples, colony members were educated on the proper attire for different events.

Name of Event: Special Event Speaker: John Wu

Date: February 18, 2013

Time: 4:30-6:00pm

Location: Robins School of Business Auditorium

Description of event:

John Wu, a University of Richmond alumnus, came in to speak with students. John Wu's life had a common theme of overcoming adversity. He grew up in China when Mao was still the leader of China and during the infamous Cultural Revolution period. During the revolution, Wu was sentenced to prison for one year for speaking against Chinese society where he endured brutal conditions and overcame starvation. After his sentence, he contacted the University of Richmond, where his grandfather attended as the first enrolled Chinese student. John Wu was accepted to Richmond and became a top tier accountant. Mr. Wu currently is a CPA and a successful corporate leader in the US and in China.

Name of Event: Evening of Etiquette

Date: February 19, 2013

Time: 6:30-8:30pm

Location: Alice Haynes Commons Room

Description of event:

Career Services hosted an evening of etiquette designed to teach students how to network in a cocktail reception. At this event, students were taught about how to properly shake hands, approach and talk to different groups of people, and hold a plate and drink correctly in a professional setting. It stressed the importance of manners and conversation during these events, not the food.

Delta Sigma Pi Record of Events

Community Service

Name of Event: 2nd Habitat and Fruit Tree Planting

Date: November 11, 2012

Time: 1-5:00pm

Location: Chimborazo Park, Church Hill

Description of Event:

Delta Sigma Pi colony members partnered with Chimborazo Park volunteers to participate in a monthly tree-planting day, where volunteers planted trees and shrubs to restore the beauty and nature to the park. Planting trees in this area not only beautifies the area and provides a habitat for wildlife, it assists with storm water run-off and promote better water quality for the area. Members helped with planting trees and beautification efforts.

Name of Event: Belle Isle Clean Up

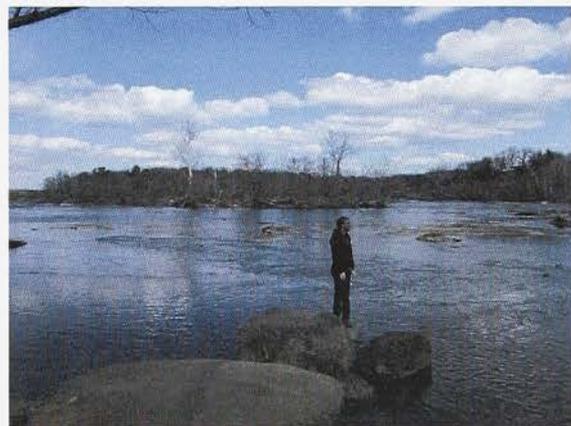

Date: February 9, 2013

Time: 11-2:00pm

Location: Belle Isle

Description of event:

Colony Members were asked to clean up a park area along the James River in Richmond. Members picked up litter and garbage surrounding the areas.

Name of Event: BARK

Date: February 10, 2013

Time: 10-1:00pm

Location: BARK

Description of event:

BARK, Bandit's Adoption and Rescue of K-9's, is a local dog shelter that rescues abandoned and orphaned pets and dogs from Richmond area animal shelters, provide them with the necessary vaccinations and treatments in hope of finding them a new home. Colony members volunteered their time at BARK by cleaning cages, dog walking, playing with the animals, and helping out wherever needed.

Name of Event: Pony Pasture Clean Up

Date: February 16, 2013

Time: 11-2:00pm

Location: Pony Pasture

Description of event:

Colony Members visited a public park and picked up garbage surrounding the James River and Pony Pasture public park area.

Name of Event: Central Virginia Food Bank Food Drive

Date: February 19, 2013

Time: 8:00 pm

Location: Jepson 120 (Meeting room)

Description of event:

Throughout the week of the 18th, colony members were encouraged to bring canned foods to colony meeting and to a collection box to help support the Central Virginia Food Bank. The Food Bank has been experiencing a shortage in donations, so a minimum donation of five canned goods per colony member was encouraged.

Name of Event: Letters to Troops

Date: Feb. 26, 2013

Time: 8-9:00 pm

Location: Jepson 120 (Meeting room)

Description of event:

Members wrote meaningful letters to troops for A Million Thanks campaign to show our appreciation for the Military men and women who serve and have served in the Armed Forces. The VP of Community Service provided paper and markers for colony members to write with.
