Philosophy

Service is one of the guiding principles in our Fraternity. It increases our feeling of brotherhood. It is rewarding to each participant and also makes a difference in the lives of those individuals we have touched through our service programs.

Community and university service is the collective effort of a group to help bring about a positive change in some aspect of our society. As business professionals, we are called upon to do more than just produce goods and services. It is also our duty as good corporate citizens to help better our community and to make a healthier, safer, and more productive society for ourselves, our families, and fellow business students and professionals.

By using our special knowledge and resources, we can make a difference by improving the quality of life around us. Today, the public expects corporate America to be responsive to community needs. As business students and professionals, we can extend our professional and fraternal ideals to those who need our assistance the most. It is important to remind members of the impact they make through their participation of these events.

Vice President-Community Service

One of your main duties as VPCS is to develop and implement a community service program for the chapter. Chapters, per CMP, are required to have at least six approved service activities over the course of a year. It is suggested the chapter plans at least three events in the fall and three events in the spring, so depending on your term as VPCS, you will need to plan accordingly. You may plan additional events in the fall to ensure the chapter stays on track.

It is very helpful for the VPCS to have a committee of three to five members to oversee and assist with the chapter's service program. This helps members of the chapter to become involved in an important part of programming and helps elicit support for the service programs to be undertaken. The use of a committee provides additional ideas and creativity for the service program and helps generate feedback regarding the program. It also assists in proper administration through the delegation of authority. The committee should consist of membership from a cross section of the chapter to provide the needed interaction and support.

The VPCS must lay the foundation for the chapter's service program and be responsible for the following:

- Selecting the projects
- Developing a strategic plan
- Setting a budget (if necessary)
- Encouraging participation by all chapter members
- Promoting the program
- Supporting National and Provincial Initiatives of the Fraternity

The VPCS will also serve as the communication link between the chapter, beneficiary organization and, if applicable, the public. By serving as the chapter's "external" contact, the charity or public will have the name of someone to get in touch with for information on your events.

Selecting a Project

The higher percentage of member participation, the more visible the service efforts will be. It is important that you choose a program that the membership feels is valuable. If possible, conduct a survey to get members' ideas on what they feel is important. If chapter members see value in the program, they are more likely to become active participants.

The service project should:

- Address a need
- Require active participation of all or most of the chapter members
- Lend itself to year-to-year continuity (if desired)
- Stay within the budget and time constraints of the chapter
- Be simple to execute
- Provide visibility in the community for the chapter

Some chapters have found success in making a tradition of a particular community or university service activity. Doing the same project year after year builds up chapter pride and creates "ownership" of the event, as well as providing an ongoing service source for a needy cause or organization. You may also choose a type of event (i.e. creating care packages) each year, but choose different organizations (i.e. military, senior citizens, etc.) to support each year.

In support of fraternal tradition, Delta Sigma Pi has selected a few opportunities for national focus. All chapters are encouraged to participate in at least one of the following national initiatives:

- Literacy
- Make a Difference Day \(MDDay\)
- Provincial service activities at LEAD events and Grand Chapter Congress

To keep members engaged, the chapter should also be creative and add new and exciting dimensions to the community service program. There are several ways to research the most pressing social needs in your community and university. Members can contact local community leaders and government officials as well as search the local newspapers for ideas on projects. (Some newspapers have volunteer "wish lists.") The chapter may also want to contact an "umbrella agency" (such as the United Way) or a local volunteer organization.

Contact your Provincial Community Service Chair (or the national chair) for details and ideas about events in your area or nationwide.

Chapter Management Program (CMP) Reporting and Outstanding Service Award

Community and university service is a huge part of what makes DSP special. Chapters are expected to regularly host service events that give back to the school or local community. These events should be planned or co-sponsored by the chapter (not just attending something another group is running).

What's expected? The chapter should hold about one service event per month that at least half of the chapter attends.

Chapter "Health" Levels:

- Exceptional Health: Event in the last month with 70%+ of members attending
- Strong Health: Event in the last month with 50%+ attending
- Marginal Health: Event within the last 3 months with 70%+ attending
- Poor Health: Event within the last 3 months with 50%+ attending
- Unhealthy: No service event in the last 3 months

Your health score is based on the most recent event reported. One strong event can bump your score up, but if you go too long without a service event—or attendance is low—the score will drop.

The Outstanding Service Award is presented each year to collegiate and alumni chapters which plan and implement the broadest and most effective programs of service to others. Information submitted for CMP is gathered towards the chapter's award submission. For complete details about this, and all awards, refer to the Awards and Recognition Guide.
